

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. On motion of the Rev. C. W. Baker the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Rules of Order to the contrary be suspended and that this Convention proceed, immediately after the recess, to the nomination of all elective officers, committees and boards; and that the Secretary be instructed to have printed a sufficient number of ballots containing the names of all nominees of all committees and boards.

Report of the Secretary of the Convention.

The Secretary reported having received notice of the organization of St. Michael and All Angels' Mission, Portland, February 3, 1911, with the approval of the Bishop of Oregon, and also the organization of Our Saviour Mission, Portland, in December, 1910. He also received the papers containing the Articles of Incorporation and application of the parish of Grace Memorial, Portland, to be admitted into union with this Convention, and also the papers of Emmanuel Parish, Marshfield; both parishes having the approval of the Bishop of the Diocese.

Secretary.

Report of the Auditing Committee.

To the Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Your Auditing Committee begs to report that acting under resolution of the last Convention page 4 of the Report, Mr. Alex C. Rae, a Public Accountant, was employed to audit the accounts of the Board of Hospital Trustees, the Board of School Trustees, the Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall, and we herewith submit his bill amounting to $200.00, and ask a resolution of this Convention providing for payment thereof.

A.

The accounts of Mr. R. W. Hastings, Treasurer of the Diocese, have been carefully examined and checked with vouchers, and we find them correct. We note that the Board of Equalization failed to assess the parishes in the sum of $400.00 as per resolution on page 69 of Convention Journal for traveling expenses of Clerical Deputies to the General Convention and that this sum was borrowed from the Bishop and will have to be collected from the parishes, or otherwise provided for by this Convention.

B.

The accounts of Mr. Hastings as Treasurer of the Bishop Morris Jubilee Fund, Palatine Hill Fund, and McMinnville Fund have been examined, found correct and securities checked.

C.

The accounts of Board of Missions have been examined, vouchers checked, and we find them correct.

We would suggest, however, with reference to the above accounts, that if only a cash book is to be kept, as has been the case hitherto, it should be ruled in such a manner that separate columns would show the debits and credits for different accounts, which would simplify the examination.

D.

The accounts of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the Episcopal Fund have been examined and found correct in accordance with vouchers produced; but in view of the magnitude of the transactions and the amount of property involved your Committee is of opinion that more formal books should be kept. The securities as detailed in the principal account have been checked and found correct. For a long time an item of $1,500 has been carried as "Disabled Clergy Fund note to be repaid by the Diocese to this Fund from future assessments;" we find no note, and this matter should be disposed of in some manner as it represents money borrowed long ago and is not properly speaking an investment, and in any case would be outlawed. We note also an increase in balance due from cash accounts, which is apparently represented by purchase of additional property in Carter's addition. The suggestions of the Committee of last Convention, page 64 of Journal, that the real estate be carried on the books and that the values of some of the securities be adjusted, though adopted by the Convention, have not been carried out.

As the property involved in this permanent fund is continually changing by sale or otherwise, it seems highly necessary that a proper ledger should be kept which would show a continuous record of assets and liabilities. The statement furnished of the principal account is misleading, as it does not include any of the real property belonging to this fund.

E.

The accounts of Dr. Josephi, Treasurer of the Board of Hospital Trustees, and statement of securities and investments up to March 31, 1911, have been examined by Mr. Rae and found correct.

The general accounts of the Good Samaritan Hospital have also been examined up to May 31 and a shortage appears to exist, most of which is of long standing and may not improbably be accounted for by errors in book-keeping, which renders it all the more necessary that a better system should be adopted as recommended by the Accountant.

F.

The accounts of the Treasurer of the Board of School Trustees have been audited by the Accountant and found correct.

G.

The accounts of the Treasurer of the Board of School Trustees of St. Helens Hall, have been audited by Mr. Rae and found correct. He has also examined the accounts of St. Helen's Hall and checked the receipts and disbursements, finding them correct but recommends some change in the methods of accounting.

It appears to your Committee to be advisable that the accounts of all Boards should close at a specified time and suggest April 30 as the most convenient date.

Mr. Rae's report and recommendations are attached and we concur in the same and recommend their adoption. He has expressed his willingness to assist in carrying them out.

JAMES LAIDLAW,
WM. C. ALVORD,
Auditing Committee.

Portland, June 14, 1911.

James Laidlaw, Esq., Portland, Oregon.

Dear Sir: I have examined the statements of cash receipts and disbursements of the Treasurers of the Board of Hospital Trustees, School Trustees and St. Helen's Hall and beg to report having attached my certificate as to their correctness thereto.

Good Samaritan Hospital.

Superintendent's Books. I regret to have to report a cash shortage of $3,752.94 as at May 31, 1911, which appears to have been accumulating for some time. The books of account at the hospital are not periodically balanced with the cash on hand and on bank, otherwise this shortage would have been discovered before the present time. The system of accounting in use is not adequate nor proper for an institution of the size of the Hospital and I suggest that it be changed so as to enable more accurate check to be kept on the cash transactions and on the income and expenditure of the Hospital. It is necessary, also, that the expenditures be subdivided so as to show fuller classification of maintenance, administration and management expense and special expenditures.

Recommendation—I consider it desirable that the Board should keep a ledger in which to record all the assets and liabilities of the hospital and a periodical Balance Sheet setting forth the financial position of the Hospital is a necessity.

Board of School Trustees and Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall.

The Treasurer of these Boards, also, should keep a ledger and submit periodical balance sheets as referred to above, and his accounts should incorporate the income and expenditure of the St. Helen's Hall.

St. Helen's Hall. I examined the books kept by the Sisters and the reports submitted each month to the Treasurer and found the same to be in order. I think a different method of reporting to the Treasurer and keeping the records of the Hall should be adopted.

I do not wish to be interpreted as criticizing the work of the Treasurers as I realize the amount of work they have to do, but in order that complete records be kept, it is necessary that the above suggestions be given effect to.

Yours very truly,

ALEX. C. RAE.

The report of the Auditing Committee was accepted and placed on file.

On motion of the Rev. H. M. Ramsey the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the different sections of the Report of the Auditing Committee be referred to the Committee's Reports on the various institutions referred to.

Report of the Board of Church Extension.

The Board of Church Extension has held eight meetings during the year with an average attendance of four out of seven clerical and three out of seven lay members.

The Board of Church Extension is at length incorporated and qualified to receive money and property for the furtherance of its appointed work.

Financially, we have had the best year in the history of the Board, having received and paid out more money for strengthening and extension of missionary work within the Diocese than ever before. The Treasurer's report to this body will show a deficit of $1,201.27 at the close of the fiscal year, a fact which has its compensating side. During the year your Board has expended in salaries about one hundred dollars a month in excess of the amount disbursed for that purpose by the previous Board.

We take pleasure in reporting the opening of a new mission at Rossmere, Portland, with the Rev. Jerrald C. Potts in charge. Its beginning has been auspicious. The Rev. John Marshall has undertaken the work at St. Andrew's, Portsmouth, and is the first resident priest in that congregation. Since the last Convention the Rev. H. H. Marsden has been stationed at St. Peter's, Albany, and the reports indicate a good measure of progress. The long and faithful labors of Archdeacon Horsfall have at last been rewarded by a grant of assistance. The Rev. R. E. Browning has relieved the Archdeacon of a portion of his field. Mr. Browning is resident at Marshfield. Within the year we have made a gain of four in the number of clergy actually at work in the missions of the Diocese. These are some of the reasons for our deficit and we deem them excellent and sufficient.

Our chief sources of revenue have been the grant from the Bishop of Oregon, the grant from the General Board of Missions, the apportionments on parishes and missions and the amounts received from pledges of congregations which derive a part of their support from this Board. We are glad to state that with few exceptions congregations have met their apportionments and the same may be said of the pledges. It is a sign of no little consequence to the missionary cause in Oregon that there is a growing circle of parishes and missions which regard the apportionment as a debt of honor in the highest sense. This year has seen the start of an Advent Mite Box offering from the Sunday Schools designated for a particular mission station in the Diocese. The amount derived from these offerings was not large but it was a beginning.

It is encouraging to note that, owing to the efforts of the Bishop, the incoming Board will have five hundred dollars more from the General Board in New York than has hitherto been allowed us. With regret we have to acknowledge that the promises made in this report in regard to the supply of clergy for McMinnville and the Clatsop County missions have not yet been fulfilled.

We have to report that we have withdrawn our support from work of educating the Chinese in the city of Portland.

The question is sometimes raised why it is that the Board of Missions continually asks for money. The answer is not far to seek. The Episcopal Church has hardly begun to touch the outer surface of the work it has, in honor, to do. In this Diocese there are eight towns with a population ranging from two thousand to almost five thousand in which this Church has no work at all or work of such meagre and scanty nature that what is called "occasional services" is an expression entirely too optimistic to describe it. There are twenty towns with inhabitants numbering between one and two thousand of which the same may be asserted with the strictest accuracy. Of the greater number of these places it can be said without contradiction that we know little or nothing about them. Such towns and smaller ones have not been canvassed; services are not held; and it is more than probable that in many villages and hamlets children of the Church are at this moment drifting into heresy and schism or into infidelity and evil ways of living. Their children are born into the world and do not receive the laver of regeneration; grow to manhood and womanhood without the grace of the Sacraments; live their lives nourished by an attenuated form of Christianity, if any; die without the consolations of the Church and are buried by the ubiquitous sectarian. Truly they are sheep without a shepherd. But it is the Church's plain duty to provide for them. For every one who lapses from the faith because of a lack of opportunity of receiving the ministrations of our religion, some one is being held responsible. In how many towns of fair size can be found faithful people who could, without alteration and without exaggeration, repeat the farewell words of one who was driven from us: "O, my mother, whence is this unto thee, that thou hast good things poured upon thee and canst not keep them, and bearest children, yet darest not own them? Why hast thou not skill to use their services, nor the heart to rejoice in their love? Who hast put this upon thee, to have a miscarrying womb and dry breasts, to be strange to thine own flesh, and thine eyes cruel towards thy little ones? Thine own offspring, the fruit of thy womb, who love thee and would toil for thee, thou dost gaze on with fear, as though a portent, or thou dost loathe as an offence; at best thou dost endure, as if they had no claim on thy patience, self-possession, and vigilance, to be rid of them as easily as thou mayest. Thou makest them stand all the day idle, as the very condition of thy bearing them; or thou biddest them begone where they will be more welcome; or thou sellest them for nought to the stranger that passes by. And what will ye do in the end thereof?" It is quite time that the Church in Oregon faced the facts. We are simply not doing the work which God has placed in our hands. One of the reasons why this is so is that those in charge of missionary endeavor are embarrassed by a lack of money. Any one who wishes to object to the apportionment of sixty-two cents per communicant may, of course, do so but we submit in all sincerity that he makes a spectacle of himself when he does it.

In this connection we wish to introduce a resolution of the Board adopted unanimously at its last meeting: "Resolved, That this Board recommends that no parish or mission be allowed a representative at the Diocesan Convention unless its Diocesan apportionment be paid by the time of the annual Convention, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the chairman of the Committee on Canons." This resolution, if enacted into a canon, would be of the greatest possible assistance to clergy and vestrymen on whom the duty of raising the apportionment rests most heavily, for most congregations care for their standing in the Diocese even if some do not appear to regard highly the needs of Diocesan missions. Such a canon would be an additional incentive to pay the apportionment and as such we hope that it will receive the reasonable attention of this Convention.

Another resolution adopted by the Board, the reason for which is, we trust, obvious, must be introduced for your consideration: "In view of the changed methods of gathering money for Diocesan and General Missions, rendering the present Diocesan Canon largely inoperative, therefore, be it resolved by the Board of Church Extension that the Diocesan Convention be asked by this Board to rescind that portion of canon seven, section seven, which applies to offerings for General and Diocesan Missions."

We cannot close this report without an expression of our appreciation of the support we have received during the year now finished. We are persuaded that the mission field in this part of the state, though far from adequately cared for, is nevertheless in a better condition than at any previous time in the history of the Diocese.

H. M. RAMSEY,
R. W. HASTINGS,
T. F. BOWEN,
Committee.

This report was accepted and referred to the proper committee.

The Treasurer of the Diocese read his financial statement which was accepted and referred to the Committee.

The Report will be found under Appendix B.

Report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund.

The detailed financial statement herewith presented shows an increase in the amount of the principal fund during the year of $20, a gift from Mr. Perkins F. Smith.

The large increase in the amount received on account of interest on loans, etc., is chiefly accounted for by the final payment of all interest due on the Rodney Note.

The final payment on Lots 5 and 6, Block 94, Carter's Addition, has been made. The total cost being $4,828.75.

On the 27th day of February, 1911, the Board accepted the plans of Mr. D. C. Lewis for a new episcopal residence on Lots 7 and 8, Block 94, Carter's Addition, which had been exchanged for Lots 5 and 6 above mentioned, and he was authorized to contract for the building of the residence at a cost of $18,941, including architect's fees. The building is now in process of construction and is expected to be completed this fall.

A lease was made on the 23rd of May, 1911, to Mr. Philip Gevurtz of Lots 13, 16 and 17, Block 275, Couch Addition, for a term of 50 years from the 1st of June, 1911, at the following rental:

For and during the first ten years of the term six per cent net on a valuation of $40,000.00.

For and during the succeeding second, third, fourth and fifth ten year periods the annual rental to be six per cent net upon valuations to be based upon appraisement, if the parties to the lease cannot agree, to be determined by arbitration. The valuation of each of the appraisements to be not less than $40,000.00.

G. C. NICHOLSON,
Secretary.

This report was accepted and referred to the proper committee, and the financial statement will be found under Appendix C.

Report of the Secretary of the Board of Hospital Trustees.

To the Twenty third Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The Secretary of the Board of Hospital Trustees begs leave to report as follows:

During the past year the work of the Hospital has been carried on in a very satisfactory manner. Early in the year the advisability of a monthly inspection committee by the members of the Board suggested itself and was immediately adopted. This is now a permanent feature of the work of the Board.

The membership of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board has been increased to thirty (30) and the auxiliary re-organized so that in future ten (10) of the members are to be elected every year at the December meeting of the Board.

Nine (9) new members have been added to the surgical and visiting staff of the hospital.

The old entrance on Lovejoy street has been torn down and the remainder of the old building has been remodelled, part of which now serves as a maternity ward until such time as a new and larger ward is erected.

A new office has been created in the position of stewardess for the receiving and distributing of all supplies. Thus simplifying the methods used in the administration of the affairs of the hospital. The following bequests have been received during the year:

The Julia Corbett bequest.....	$ 666.66
From the estate of the late Anna Van Rensaler toward the foundation of the Van Rensaler Memorial Bed	3,500.00
From Mrs. Maria L. Flanders to endow a men's ward in the Bishop Morris Memorial Building; said ward to be known as the "Geo. H. Flanders and John Couch Flanders Memorial Ward" . . 10,000.00

The retiring members of the Board are the Rev. H. R. Talbot and Dr. S. E. Josephi.

JOHN DAWSON,
Secretary.

This report was accepted by the convention and referred to the committee. Here is a summary of the Treasurer's report of the Board of Hospital Trustees, by Dr. S. E. Josephi:

Report of Board of School Trustees.

The Board of School Trustees hereby submits to the convention its report for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1911, with the following statements attached:

Report of Treasurer,

List of Real Property.

During the past year the Board has paid the balance of the indebtedness to the Board of Trustees of St. Helens Hall for the Babbitt Scholarship, and has paid on account of indebtedness to such Board, for account of Spencer Library Fund, the sum of $563.81.

During the early part of the fiscal year, Dr. A. A. Morrison, as the representative of the Board, made a thorough investigation, in person, of the prominent church schools for boys in the Eastern States, and reported the result of his investigation of the Board.

After careful consideration of this report and of the several properties now held as a site for Bishop Scott Academy, when it shall be reopened, the Board was unanimously of the opinion that the time for opening a church school for boys in Oregon had not arrived, but that when this time should arrive, the proper location was the property in Yamhill County, at Oak Hill Farm, in the vicinity of North Yamhill. The property has been carefully managed and improved during the past year by a superintendent, acting under the direct instructions of the Board, and it is hoped that it will soon be in such condition that a boys' school, under some proper conditions, may be opened.

The Board having now reached this final conclusion, it is proposed to reconvey to Mr. C. G. Thayer of Rainier, Oregon, the property heretofore donated by him, on condition that a boys' school would be opened upon the premises. Arrangements are well under way for ground lease covering the remainder of Bishop Scott Academy property now occupied by the Glendora Hotel, and it has been hoped that these arrangements would be consummated so that before autumn the Board would be in possession of a fixed and definite income from this source, which would be applicable to the maintenance of a boys' school.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN K. KOLLOCK,
Secretary.

St. Helen's Hall has had, during the year 1910-1911, an enrollment of 203 pupils. Of these 46 have been resident pupils, 107 have been day pupils.

By Departments:

- 7 in Collegiate Department.
- 110 in Academic Department.
- 81 in Elementary Department.
- 5 in Special in Music Art or Elocution.

The number of resident pupils has been less than it was last year. The break up for the two weeks last spring, on account of illness in the city, may be the cause. The girls whom we have had here have been very satisfactory, and we hope that most of them will continue at the Hall for at least one more year. The Day School has increased a little, and we are glad to use the room left vacant by the Kindergarten for the sixth and seventh grades. The graduating class this year numbers seven pupils in the Academic Department, and four in the Collegiate. One of our Collegiates has been accepted at Barnard College, New York, for advanced work, and has been granted a scholarship on the ground of her excellent record at the College Entrance Board examinations. Both our children and their parents have received with great interest the announcement of the new site at Willalatin Park, and we are pleased to observe that everyone seems to think the location attractive. We will close this report by expressing our gratitude to all our kind friends; our Bishop, who is always ready to help us; the Rev. W. A. M. Breck, our Chaplain; the Rev. A. A. Morrison, and the other members of the Board of Trustees; and our physician Dr. Holt Wilson.

Mr. C. B. Pfahler made a verbal report as to the Insurance of Church property, showing that all such property in the hands of the Board of Church Extension was kept insured.

The report was accepted.

Report of the Committee on Christian Education to the 23rd Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon.

In accordance with the request of the Bishop, your committee has endeavored to gather data concerning the methods in use in the Sunday Schools of the Diocese, and their effectiveness in reaching the children of our own people. To this end circulars were sent to all our clergy asking them to answer certain questions. Where no answers were received, second, and later, third copies of the circular were sent. In the end we received reports from twenty-one of our schools. I regret to say that no reports were received from Trinity, Portland; St. John's, Milwaukie; St. Mary's, Eugene; St. David's, Portland, or from the schools at Newport and Toledo, and our report is therefore necessarily incomplete.

In the schools from which reports were received the percentage of the children of Church families enrolled varied from 50 to 100 per cent. It is only a few of the small schools which are able to report 100 per cent. The average seems to be about 70 per cent. In the matter of attendance St. Andrew's, Portsmouth, is in a class by itself, with 100 per cent. Oregon City reports an average attendance of 94 per cent, which is well above the ordinary. The lowest average attendance reported is 50 per cent. There are more girls than boys in a number of our schools, but the difference is more marked in the small schools. A number of schools report the number even. St. Matthew's, Portland, has the honor of reporting 57 per cent of the school boys. The number of children of Church families receiving instruction in denominational schools is so small as to be negligible. The same is true of children known to be receiving instruction at home. The average age at which pupils cease to attend varies between 13 and 17. One Mission reports five pupils over 18.

A variety of lesson systems are in use. Some schools are using one-lesson systems, some a system with two grades, some are graded throughout. St. Mark's, Portland, has a graded course arranged in the form of question and answer, prepared by the clergy of the parish. It has the advantage of definite teaching.

Almost all our schools report some instruction in Missions. But amongst the exceptions are found one or two of our largest schools. It would seem that it is just in our city parishes that instruction in Missions is most needed. May I suggest that a course in Missions may help to keep the older children in the school? There is no subject so vital, and so full of human interest. Teachers' meetings seem to be generally adopted as the schools attain some size. Regular examinations are hardly employed at all. St. Mark's, Portland, alone holds them. The great majority of our teachers are women. Of the teachers in the schools from which reports were received, 83 are women, only 24 men, and most of these 24 men are the clergy. A number of our schools report no use at all of either maps or pictures. Only one school, and that belonging to a Mission church, possesses a teachers' library. Most of the clergy were unable to answer the question whether attendance at Sunday School generally resulted in attendance at service in later years. Those who did answer disagreed, some saying Yes, some No. The three causes commonly assigned for the failure of our schools to do better work were: Lack of a sufficient number of capable and dependable teachers; lack of interest and co-operation on the part of parents, and lack of definite teaching.

Various suggestions for the improvement of our schools were received, which will be found with the individual reports of the schools, which are submitted together with this report. Perhaps the most promising is that the Diocese should have an expert Sunday School worker, who should visit the different parishes and Missions to give the benefit of his knowledge in questions of organization and lesson-systems. If the matter of expense should render it impossible to retain such a man permanently, it might be that he could be employed for a few months, long enough to go over the field, and get the schools well started. Such a man might be of assistance, especially to those schools which are not under the constant supervision of a clergyman.

In speaking of the Church's work for religious education this report must make mention of St. Helen's Hall, where a goodly number of girls receive regular and thorough instruction in the Christian religion. Together with this report we submit the reports of the individual schools, and a chart giving the facts about each school in tabulated form. We suggest that they be referred to the Sunday School Commission of the Diocese for their information, with the request that they draw up some definite suggestions for the betterment of the Church's methods of carrying on the work of Christian education in the Sunday Schools of the Diocese. Respectfully submitted,

For the Committee,

SAMUEL M. DORRANCE,
Chairman.

Report was accepted and referred to the proper committee.

The hour of noon the Bishop bid the convention to prayer for Missions.

The report of Social Service Committee (Appendix E) was accepted and the following resolution moved by the Rev. G. B. Van Waters was adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention approves the Recommendations, Nos. 1-7, contained in the Report of the Social Service Committee, and authorizes such action as is recommended therein.

On motion of Mr. A. S. Auterson the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Bishop appoint a Social Service Committee, to consist of seven members, to represent this Convention officially in all matters pertaining to the work of Social Service.

On motion of Mr. C. B. Pfahler the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention petition the civic authorities of the City of Portland, requesting the appointment of a Commission of Investigation, with scope and powers such as those of the Chicago Vice Commission, and that the petition be left to the Committee on Social Service to formulate and present on behalf of the Convention.

The Bishop then appointed the following gentlemen to act as a Social Service Committee:

The Rev. H. R. Talbot.	Mr. Ralph Hahn.
The Rev. H. M. Ramsey.	Mr. C. A. Bell.
The Rev. John Dawson.	Dr. L. W. Hyde.
The Rev. J. C. Potts.

The convention adjourned for lunch until 2 P. M.

On the re-assembling of the Convention at 2 o'clock, Mr. John W. Wood of New York, representing the General Board of Missions, made a strong address, and was followed by the Rt. Rev. P. T. Rowe, who presented greetings from the Church in Alaska to the Church in Oregon.

Then followed the nominations for the different committees and boards.

On motion of Mr. James Laidlaw the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Convention regretfully accepts the resignation of the Rev. S. M. Dorrance as a member of the Board of School Trustees.

A long discussion took place over the Board of Trustees for St. Helen's Hall, and on motion of the Rev. B. G. Lee the following amendment on the resolution offered by Arch-deacon Chambers, be it Resolved, That the question be referred to a special committee, and the Bishop appointed the Rev. B. G. Lee, Dr. A. A. Morrison, Mr. Frank Spittle and Mr. James Laidlaw with instructions to report tomorrow.

On motion of the Rev. John Dawson the following resolution was carried:

Resolved, That the nominations made by the Bishop to the Assessment Board be accepted.

Report of the Committee on the State of the Church.

The Committee on the State of the Church sent blanks to all clergymen in the Diocese, with the request that they fill out the forms and return in time to make the data asked for available for this report. Many were not returned and therefore this Committee is not able to make a full and comprehensive report, but, using the figures returned, a partial comparison is possible; and, taking this as a basis, we find much that is encouraging in the growth of the Church in Oregon.

While figures are of small value in gauging spiritual forces nevertheless they do show the physical growth of the Church, and to quite an extent the spiritual forces at work. Comparing the figures reported by these parishes and Missions for the years 1907 to 1911, inclusive, we find that in these five years the number of communicants has increased over 42 per cent, and the number of services in an even higher ratio, over 50 per cent, and, while the ratio of the number of celebrations of the Holy Eucharist is not so large, nevertheless the increase of over 34 per cent is very encouraging. If we had figures to show the ratios of attendance at these services, it might throw more light upon the spiritual influence of the Church, but from reports received, the increased attendance upon the services indicate that our people are availing themselves of the Church and her rites. The increase in the number of baptisms (80 per cent) and confirmations (62 per cent) is a most encouraging sign, showing a ratio far beyond that of the growth of the communicants. The only part of the work which does not show this growth is our Sunday Schools. Something must be done to put new life into this important part of our work.

Another cause for regret and even apprehension in the fact that we have no candidates for Holy Orders among our parishes and Missions. With the Church so firmly established and the growth so encouraging, there should be young men in our midst ready to take up the work and carry it on to still greater success. Where lies the cause of this failure? Our schools, our colleges and our universities are annually sending out young men well fitted for this holy work, and among these should be some ready to hear God's call. Is the dullness of their ears due to our failure to open them to the call? Let us heed Christ's command, "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he will send forth laborers into his harvest."

While our reports show that our contribution for all purposes have kept pace with our growth in increase, yet the great burden placed upon this Diocese by the incoming of large numbers of new settlers, makes it impossible for those in charge to respond to the cries for services which are coming from all points. To meet this condition will require larger gifts for Diocesan work and improved methods for gathering them.

Our silent Churches are beginning to send forth the call to service, but more should be opened and new communities receive the ministrations of the Church. This can only be accomplished by more clergymen, for our small band of clergy is already burdened beyond their strength; and this increase in our clergy will require greater offerings for Diocesan work and better methods for gathering these.

Our opportunities in this Diocese are larger and our responsibilities equally so; we have before us the possibilities of building up the Church upon foundations well laid. Let us grasp these opportunities, ask God for strength to realize them, and in that Divine strength so labor that another half decade will see even greater increase.

C. W. BAKER,
Chairman.

The report of the Committee on the State of the Church was accepted and referred to the proper committee.

On motion of the Rev. O. W. Taylor the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee on Resolutions be instructed to prepare a message of greeting to the Synod of the Congregational Church, now in session in this city.

Report of the Committee on Constitution and Canons.

Your Committee beg leave to report the following proposed amendments to the Canons of the Diocese, designed to bring the Canons into substantial harmony with the new Constitution.

The Committee regret that it has been found impossible to bring in a comprehensive report, with a new set of Canons. But we are unwilling to propose an imperfectly digested code. The work necessary to a proper revision is very great, but we feel that it will be worth while for the Committee to undertake it, and for the Convention to wait until next year when the present Committee promises with some confidence to present a full report.

In the Canons as we propose leaving them for another year, there will be some slight inconsistencies, and a few minor conflicts with the new Constitution. But the Constitution supersedes or nullifies all conflicts, and the inconsistencies are for the most part the same as have existed for years. We have desired to defer as many changes as possible until a full revision is made, so as to avoid the confusion which always must arise from frequent revisions of the same law.

The Committee offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Constitution and Canons be authorized to prepare a revision of the Canons to be reported to the Convention of 1912, and to print and distribute the same to the Clergy and to the Parishes and Missions, at the expense of the Convention, sixty days before the date set for the meeting of the Convention.

For this time, we propose the following changes in the Canons:

FIRST.

Amend Canon II section 2, by striking out the words "first day of June," and substituting therefor the words "tenth day of May."

SECOND.

Repeal Canon V, section 3.

THIRD.

Amend Canon VII, section 1, by striking out the word "Missions," and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Church Extension."

FOURTH.

Repeal Canon VII, section 6.

FIFTH.

Amend Canon VII, section 8, by striking out the word "General."

SIXTH.

Amend Canon IX, Section 1, by striking out the words "June 1st and end on May 31st," and inserting in lieu thereof the words "the first day of May and end on the thirtieth day of April."

SEVENTH.

Amend Canon IX, section 2, by striking out the words "May 31," and inserting in lieu thereof the words the thirtieth day of April."

EIGHTH.

Amend Canon X, section 5, by striking out the word "Missions," and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Church Extension."

NINTH.

Amend Canon XI, Article IX, by striking out the words "at such day and hour of Easter week as may be determined by the Vestry at its regular meeting, or at a meeting duly called for this purpose," and insert in lieu thereof the words "at 8 o'clock P. M. on the first Monday in May, or on such other day and hour in that same week as may be determined by the Vestry at a duly convened Vestry meeting held not later than the last Monday in April next preceding."

Respectfully submitted.

For the Committee,

BARR G. LEE,
Chairman.

On motion of the Rev. S. M. Dorrance the following resolution was adopted:

The following was introduced by the Rev. F. M. Baum, and referred to the Committee on Resolutions and Memorials:

Third. The removal of the causes which lead to intemperance.

Resolved, That the Bishop be authorized to appoint a committee of seven (four clergymen and three laymen) identical with Committee on Social Service, to carry out as far as possible the recommendation of General Convention of 1910 as embodied in the following extract from the Report of the Committee on the State of the Church and also to give careful attention to the solution of this problem in general.

"Your Committee has examined with deep interest and approval the Report of the Church Temperance Society. The value of this society and the success of its work in New York and Boston are beyond all doubt. But it is the manifest duty of the Church to reproduce everywhere, most of all in each large center of population, this admirable and blessed agency for the cure and prevention of one of the most menacing evils of the day."

On motion it was resolved that the Committee on Resolutions and Memorials be instructed to send a telegram to the Rev. William Horsfall. Carried.

On motion of the Rev. John Dawson the following resolution was adopted:

On motion the Rev. E. V. Shayler of Seattle and the Rev. B. A. Warren of The Dalles, were invited to seats on the floor of the convention.

Report of the Committee on the Admission and Incorporation of Parishes and Missions.

To the Convention: Your Committee on the Admission and Incorporation of Parishes and Missions begs leave to report: That it has examined the application of Grace Memorial Church of Portland, for admission as a parish, and find the same is correct and in accordance with the present constitution and Canons of the Diocese and recommend that said parish be admitted.

That it further finds that the application of Emmanuel Parish, Marshfield, is correct and in accordance with the present Constitution and Canons of the Diocese, and recommend that said parish be admitted.

C. W. BAKER,
Chairman.

The question of the admission and incorporation of Grace Memorial Parish being admitted into union with the convention being contested, on motion of the Rev. B. G. Lee the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the question of the ecclesiastical law as to the power of the Convention to admit Grace Memorial Parish be referred to a special committee of three.

The Bishop appointed as such committee the Rev. B. G. Lee, Mr. J. W. Bennett and Mr. Frank Spittle.

On motion of the Rev. H. D. Chambers, the rules of order were suspended, and the Secretary of the Convention was instructed to cast the ballot for Mr. R. W. Hastings as Treasurer of the Diocese. Mr. Hastings was declared elected. As a result of the election for members of the Standing Committee, the following were declared elected:

The Bishop appointed as such committee Mr. Frank Spittle, Mr. J. W. Bennett and Mr. Ralph Hahn.

On motion of the Rev. H. R. Talbot the following resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

On motion of the Rev. C. W. Baker the following preamble and resolutions were adopted by the Convention and being referred to the Committee on Resolutions and Memorials, said Committee recommends their final adoption:

Whereas, By the significant speech of the President of the United States, and the cordial response of Sir Edward Grey, the question of international arbitration has received a strong impulse, and the realization of universal peace is almost an assured state, be it

Resolved, That this 23rd Convention of the Diocese of Oregon, assembled in Trinity Parish, Portland, express to the President of the United States our sincerest thanks for his strong words and pray that his efforts and those of all working for this great blessing may be crowned with success, and war be another of the relics of barbarism preserved only in the history of the world. And be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this action be sent to the President of the United States, signed by the Right Reverend, the president of this Convention, and the Secretary; and also that like copies be sent to the Honorable, the Senators and Representatives from Oregon, petitioning them to use every means in their power to hasten the day of universal peace.

The Special Committee to whom has been referred the question as to the power of the convention, under the ecclesiastical law, to admit Grace Memorial Parish, respectfully reports that in its opinion the ecclesiastical law has been complied with, and that the convention has such power.

BARR G. LEE,
J. W. BENNETT,
FRANK SPITTLE.

On motion of the Rev. B. G. Lee the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the following be added to the Order of Business. (d). viz.: (11) On Expenses.

Report on the Report of the Board of Church Extension.

To the Convention:

Your Committee to whom was referred the report of the Board of Church Extension, begs leave to make the following observations and recommendations:

1. The "average attendance of four out of seven clerical, and three out of seven lay members" at the eight meetings of the Board, shows a 50 per cent attendance of the whole membership, and seems to indicate a certain lack of interest on the part of several members.

2. The incorporation of the Board under the laws of the state is noted with satisfaction.

3. The financial situation is very encouraging; the deficit of $1201.27 on the Treasurer's books being accounted for by a creditable progress in missionary activity. A portion of this indebtedness seems to be provided for in the increase, by $500.00, of the grant of the General Board of Missions to Oregon.

4. The "growing circle of parishes and Missions which regard the apportionment as a debt of honor; the Advent Mite Box offering, and the generally increased missionary spirit manifested in the Diocese are matters for sincere thankfulness.

5. It is desirable that missionaries be placed at McMinnville and in Clatsop County as soon as the funds of the Board will justify such appointments. It is noted that the Board has abandoned educational work among the Chinese of the city. Your Committee suggests that the Board undertake as a serious duty the religious care and Church training of those Chinese who have been baptized or confirmed, or in any way drawn towards Christianity, through the influence of the school.

6. Your Committee endorses the strong statement made by the Board of the need of missionary work throughout the Diocese, but it does not endorse the bitter indictment of the Church as an unnatural mother, made by one who, instead of being driven from her bosom as the report suggests, left of his own accord, while Catholics like Keble and Pusey remained her true and loyal sons.

Your Committee does not recommend the adoption of the resolution: "Resolved, That this Board recommends that no parish or mission be allowed a representative at the Diocesan Convention unless its Diocesan apportionment be paid by the time of the annual convention, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the chairman of the Committee on Canons," for the reason that such action would be the complete abandonment of the appropriation plan, and the substitution therefor of the assessment method pure and simple. In view of what the report says of "the growing circle of parishes and Missions which regard the apportionment as a debt of honor," and taking into account the indicated improvement, all along the line, your Committee deems such action inexpedient.

The Board of Church Extension has accomplished much during the past year, having brought about "a better condition than at any previous time in the history of the Diocese;" a record to be thankful for, and to encourage increased devotion and self-sacrifice on the part of Church people.

Mary B. Rodney House.

Your committee on the proposed Mary B. Rodney House for young ladies attending the State University at Eugene, begs to report progress, but they are not yet ready to recommend the erection of such a building. Undoubtedly the need for such a house exists, and it would be an excellent thing for the Church, and for the young women, if there could be such a house under Diocesan supervision. The committee has received much information about similar houses at other state universities, especially about Hyland

House in the State of Washington, and Bishop Osborne House at Springfield, Ill. Dr. H. B. Leonard of the University of Oregon has helped us in looking out for property, and informs us that a good location can be secured for $2,000; and that a capitalist in Eugene is ready to build a house to cost $10,000 or $12,000 if he can be guaranteed an income from rental equal to 10 per cent on his investment. We have gone over the proposition with the Rev. P. K. Hammond, rector of St. Mary's Church, who approves the undertaking. We are of the opinion that with 20 young ladies paying $25 per month such a house could be made self supporting, and would prove a good investment, and it ought not be hard to find some investor who will be satisfied with a safe 7 per cent; and the consciousness of aiding the home life of many undergraduates. The committee asks to be continued, and to have the assistance of Rev. P. K. Hammond, Dr. H. B. Leonard and Mrs. C. S. Jackson as additional members of the committee, hoping to be able to present a definite plan to the next convention.

HORACE D. RAMSDELL,
Committee.

Report of the Committee on Resolutions (1).

Your committee to whom was referred the resolution of the Rev. S. M. Dorrance in regard to a telegram of greeting to the venerable William Horsfall, begs to state that we have sent, on behalf of the convention, the following message: Archdeacon Horsfall, Bandon, Oregon. The convention sends hearty greetings and deep regret at your absence.

H. M. RAMSEY,
BARR G. LEE.

Report of the Committee on Resolutions (2).

Your committee to whom was referred the resolution of the Rev. Mr. Baum authorizing the appointment by this Convention of a committee identical with the Social Service Committee to carry out as far as possible the recommendations of the General Convention in the matter of the introduction of the work of the Church Temperance Society, beg to state that we have considered the subject and substitute the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Convention submit to the due consideration of the Social Service Committee the practical advisability of introducing the work of the Church Temperance Society and report their conclusions to the next convention.

H. M. RAMSEY,
BARR G. LEE,

On motion of the Rev. H. D. Chambers the following resolution was referred to a special committee:

Resolved, That the Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall and that of the School Board be separate and distinct bodies and that we proceed at this Convention to elect a Board of Trustees for St. Helen's Hall. Also that as soon as possible the funds of the two boards be segregated.

H. D. CHAMBERS.

The special committee to which was referred the question of the present membership of the Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall, and also the resolution of the Rev. H. D. Chambers on that subject, respectfully reports: That the terms of the Rev. Dr. A. A. Morrison and Mr. J. K. Kollock will expire next year, and that by failure to elect last year and the expiration of terms this year, there are one clergyman and one layman to be elected for three years and one clergyman and one layman for two years; further,

That the resolution of Mr. Chambers be indefinitely postponed.

BARR G. LEE,
Chairman.

Which report was adopted.

We your committee to whom was referred the report of the School Board, also of the Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall, beg leave to report as follows: We desire to congratulate the Board of School Directors upon the efficient management of the funds belonging to this Board and express our appreciation of the fact that initial steps have been taken to reopen the Bishop Scott Academy.

After the resolution passed last year by the convention, we regret the Trustees have not seen fit to give their reasons more clearly for changing their opinion as to the advisability of not establishing the Bishop Scott Academy on the property so generously given by Mr. C. G. Thayer. The Trustees own the Yamhill property and if, as was expressed last year, "that the best interest of the school would probably be subserved by accepting the donation of the land in Columbia County" (which cost the Trustees nothing) "and using the proceeds of the sale of the property in Yamhill County for construction and improvement."

We feel the Trustees should have very good grounds for their action. We commend the wisdom of the Board in taking steps to lease the Glendora Hotel property instead of disposing it, thus insuring a yearly income, which, with proper safeguards, will always be a source of income for the school.

St. Helen's Hall.

It is with great satisfaction we find that the funds held by this Board are now in such condition that they are self-supporting. We most sincerely congratulate the Board and the Sisters of St. John Baptist upon the efficient management of the school and the funds connected therewith.

We note with pleasure the influence that St. Helen's Hall is leaving upon the community where there are to be found about 50 per cent more day pupils than there are boarders.

We recommend the payment by these Boards of the Auditor for work of auditing the books of the School

Trustees	$15.00
And books of St. Helen's Hall Trustees.....	35.00
	$50.00

And endorse the recommendation as to the methods of accounting and also regarding the specific time for closing of all accounts.

JOHN DAWSON,
HENRY RUSSELL TALBOT,
HENRY HOWARD MARSDEN,
GEO. C. BURTON,
Committee.

To the Convention:

Your committee on assessment and apportionment to which was referred that part of the auditing committee's report charging failure of this committee to include the sum of $400 to be used for traveling expenses of the Clerical Deputies to the General Convention for 1910, begs leave to submit in explanation that said resolution did not direct this committee but only authorized it to include the $400. This committee, at the time of making assessment, considered the resolution referred to and decided that it did not direct the assessment but left it discretionary and your committee did not wish to assume responsibility for increased charge on the various parishes, a responsibility that should be assumed by the convention.

S. E. JOSEPHI,
Chairman.

On motion of the Rev. H. D. Chambers the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Assessment Committee be directed by this Convention to assess the Parishes and Missions the sum of $400 to pay the traveling expenses of the clerical delegates to the late General Convention.

Two clerical and one lay member were elected on the Board of School Trustees, the Rev. J. E. H. Simpson to serve two years, the Rev. C. W. Robinson to serve three years, and Mr. J. W. Ganong was re-elected to serve three years.

Report of the Committee on the Report of the Board of Hospital Trustees.

Your committee after reading the report of the Secretary and Treasurer, would commend them for the completeness and accuracy of their report as concurred in by Auditor A. C. Rae. We note with satisfaction the prosperous condition of the Good Samaritan Hospital, which argues well for the good work done by its Board of Trustees.

G. B. VAN WATERS,
DR. R. C. HUNT,
T. R. A. SELLWOOD,
R. E. REMINGTON,
Committee.

On motion of the Rev. G. B. Van Waters the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the bill of Mr. A. C. Rae for auditing services be paid.

Report of the Committee on General Clergy Relief Fund.

Your committee notes with pleasure an increase in the number of parishes and missions contributing to the General Clergy Relief Fund from, viz.: 16 to 18, and an increase in the amount given of $70.81. It would, however, call attention to the fact that several parishes and Missions are not conforming to the Canons of the Diocese, which require that the offering on Christmas Day be devoted to this fund. With the consent of the convention the chairman of the committee will endeavor to ascertain from the Treasurer of the fund in Philadelphia why the Diocese of Oregon is not given credit for the interest upon the principal handed over to the General Fund.

Respectfully submitted.

For the Committee,

WM. LUCAS, Chairman,
SAMUEL M. DORRANCE.

Two clerical and two lay delegates were elected to serve on the Board of Trustees for St. Helen's Hall. The Rev. John Dawson and Mr. H. B. Leonard for two years, and the Rev. H. D. Chambers and Mr. C. B. Pfahler for three years.

Report of the Committee on the Report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund.

We have examined the report. We wish to refer to the opinions expressed in the Committee Report made last year and found on page 64 of the 1910 Journal.

We reiterate the same without modification, and also adopt and commend the report of the Auditing Committee, which adequately states our views regarding the management of the fund.

J. C. POTTS,
W. C. ALVORD,
J. W. BENNETT,
C. N. HUGGINS,
Committee.

We, your committee, to which was referred the resolution that the Oregon Churchman be recognized as the official Diocesan paper, respectfully report that we recommend the continuance of the Oregon Churchman as a monthly publication and Diocesan official organ, and that an advisory committee of five to include the Bishop and the Rev. B. G. Lee, editor, be appointed to further the interests and increase the efficiency of the paper.

FRANK SPITTLE,
RALPH HAHN,
F. M. BAUM,
Committee.

Report of the Committee on the Report of the Treasurer.

Your committee finds that the report has the ratification of the chairman of the Auditing Committee, Mr. Laidlaw. Your committee finds that it was necessary for the Board of Church Extension to borrow $600 during the year, and we find that the causes which led to this necessity was the failure of the parishes and Missions to pay their apportionments promptly.

We therefore desire to support the recommendation made by the Board of Church Extension, that the full payment of all assessments and apportionments be necessary to representation in the convention.

H. R. TALBOT,
C. B. PFAHLER,
A. C. NEWHILL,
F. M. BAUM,
Committee.

The object of the Board shall be the promotion and extension of the missionary operations of the Church in the Diocese.

Two members of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund were elected to serve three years, namely: the Rev. C. W. Robinson, and Mr. G. C. Nicholson, who was re-elected.

On motion of the Rev. B. G. Lee the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention hereby places on record its deep appreciation of the hospitable manner in which the Rector and people of Trinity Parish, Portland, have entertained the 23rd Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon, and herewith expresses its gratitude for the gracious hospitality extended to it.

On motion of Mr. Ralph Hahn the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Bishop appoint a Sunday School Commission to consist of five members to deal with the Sunday School interests and to report next year to the Convention.

The Bishop appointed as members of the Sunday School Commission the Rev. W. B. Hamilton, the Rev. J. C. Potts, the Rev. B. G. Lee, Mr. Ralph Hahn and Mr. Thomas Withycombe.

On motion of the Rev. H. D. Chambers the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary be authorized to have printed 500 copies of the Journal.

On motion the rules of order were suspended and the Secretary was instructed to cast the ballot for the two retiring members of the Board of Hospital Trustees, and the Rev. H. R. Talbot and Dr. S. E. Josephi were declared elected.

On motion of the Rev. C. W. Baker the following resolution was adopted.

On motion of Mr. James Laidlaw the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the rules of order be suspended and that the Assistant Secretary be instructed to cast the ballot for the former Chancellor and Registrar of the Diocese, and the Hon. Rodney L. Glisan, as Chancellor and the Rev. W. A. M. Breck as Registrar were declared elected.

On motion of the Rev. B. G. Lee, the following resolution was adopted by the concurrent vote of two-thirds of both orders:

Resolved, That a new Canon be adopted as follows:

CANON XVII.

No parish or mission may be organized within the limits of any city or municipality in which there is already a parish duly organized, without the consent in writing first given of the rector or rectors and vestry, or vestries of the parish or parishes in such city or municipality contiguous to the proposed new parish or mission, unless by decision of the Bishop acting by and with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee.

On motion of the Rev. B. G. Lee the following resolution was adopted:

The Rev. C. W. Robinson.	Mr. A. S. Auterson.
The Rev. J. E. H. Simpson.	Mr. G. C. Burton.
The Rev. J. C. Potts.	Mr. T. Withycombe.

Report of the Committee on the Bishop's Annual Address.

Your committee to whom was referred the Bishop's address, wishes to state that in making this report we have followed the custom of recent years but we desire to point out to our successors that the name of this committee, "On the Division and Reference of the Bishop's Annual Address," indicates a duty of quite a different nature.

However, we take pleasure in saying that, presupposing the publication of the address in the Journal, we advise the printing and distribution among the congregations of the Diocese, preferably in pamphlet form, those portions thereof under the headings, "Some Evils of the Day and the Way to Meet Them," "God," "The Call to Worship," "Salvation in the Church."

The full and exhaustive reference in the address to Diocesan affairs and institutions gives us ground for encouragement in many directions. The number of confirmations during the year is particularly a matter for thankfulness. On the other hand, your committee views with alarm and as an evidence of an unhealthy condition in our congregations the fact that no candidates for Holy Orders are recorded.

The members of this committee believe that among other subjects touched on in the address the following ought to be emphasized: The paramount need for greater unity and cooperation among clergy and laity; constant effort on the part of parishes and missions, which receive aid from the Board of Church Extension, towards self support to the end that money now used for their benefit may be released for new work within the Diocese; the urgent necessity on the part of the laity of larger appreciation of the duty of Church attendance if this Church is ever to possess the land; the earnest consideration of the widely prevalent evils of practical materialism and their logical consequence, indifference.

With regard to the gift of a Diocesan library your committee recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Convention instruct its Secretary to convey to Miss Perceval its thankful appreciation of her generous gift of a library building as a memorial to her learned and distinguished brother, the Reverend Henry R. Perceval, S. T. D.

H. M. RAMSEY,
JOHN MARSHALL,
J. C. HUME,
OSWALD W. TAYLOR,

On motion the resolution contained in this report was adopted by the Convention.

On motion of the Rev. B. G. Lee the following resolution was adopted:

With one exception, due to conflict of duties, I promptly attended and duly presided at every meeting of every Board and Committee of which I am a member.

In addition to these statistics, which the Canons require me to report, how shall I tell you of the many other things that take a Bishop's time and fills his mind and heart? Of the hundreds of letters, of the care of property, of personal interviews with the clergy and with vestries and committees, of long and short journeys, and last, but of the first importance, of prayers and intercessions. If, according to his consecration vow, a Bishop "is to set forward quietness, love and peace among men, and diligently exercise such discipline as by the authority of God's Word, and by the order of this Church, is committed unto him," there is much that he must do that cannot be tabulated. Constant, my dear brethren of the clergy, are my prayers for you, and as I think of you each individually, and of the particular problems for each my affection for you and appreciation of what you are trying to do deepens and grows. I desire to express my grateful appreciation of the staunch and loyal support of those faithful clergy and laity who are helping in efforts to build up the Diocese, and to thank them for that sympathy and co-operation which has done much to ease the burden, and to give me courage for the duties God has laid upon me.

CHANGES IN CLERICAL STAFF.

The changes in our clerical staff have been as follows: The Rev. F. B. Bartlett has left Grants Pass and is now at Cambridge, taking a post graduate course at Harvard. Rev.

William B. Hamilton has been received from the Diocese of Chicago, and succeeds Mr. Bartlett at Grants Pass. The Rev. O. W. Taylor has been transferred from Sellwood to Woodmere, and is also curate at Grace Memorial. Rev. T. F. Bowen has been transferred from Oregon City to Sellwood. Rev. C. W. Robinson has been received from the Diocese of Pennsylvania and is now rector of St. Paul's Church, Oregon City.

At this Convention we shall miss the gentle presence of our dear Archdeacon of Coos and Curry Counties, Rev. William Horsfall, who has sent me word that on account of ill health he feels unable to come. What a living example he is to all of us of the true missionary spirit. He went to these coast counties twenty-two years ago. There, with never tiring zeal, in the sure confidence of God's love and care, he has bravely faced all obstacles and trials, and is loved and known by all as the spiritual father of the whole community. May God spare him for many years of useful ministry. The Rev. Robert Browning has been received from the Missionary District of Shanghai, and is now rector of Marshfield and serves the missions at North Bend, Empire and Gardiner. He has done such good work, and is so well supported by the people at Marshfield that Emmanuel Church, Marshfield, will apply tomorrow to be admitted to the Convention as a parish.

Miss Caroline P. Sheffield is still with us as a woman missionary, one of the Triennial Offering workers of the Woman's Auxiliary. Her work is that of general missionary under the direction of the Bishop and I greatly appreciate the work she has done, especially in those places where we have no clergyman.

A solitary woman worker in a wide missionary field has a very peculiar and difficult position to fill. Often without priestly background, and with no evident and recognized authority—as the clergy always have—she draws almost exclusively on personal influence, first to win her way, then to give force and impel a hearing to the message she tries to bring. She is without the companionship of others of her own sex and vocation, and I believe that only the grace of God added to natural buoyancy and intense belief in the principles she tries to enforce can carry her through with the right equilibrium and courage. I ask the prayers and interest, and backing of the clergy and the Church women of this diocese for Miss Sheffield in her work this year.

REVIEW OF THE FIELD.

The Bishop gave a review of the field, but owing to limited space it is omitted from the Journal at his request, the report of the Board of Missions covering the subject fully.

THE OREGON CHURCHMAN.

Our Diocesan paper has served another year of usefulness. It meets a need in distributing information, and by stirring us all by putting us in remembrance of Diocesan duties. It is newsy, and missionary in character, clear and definite in its editorials, courteous in tone, and free from a controversial spirit. I feel that a Diocesan paper as a vehicle for Diocesan news is part of the necessary equipment of a Diocese, and it ought to go into the home of every Church family, and be carefully read by all.

Our efficient business manager, Dr. F. C. Sellwood, was obliged to give it up on account of ill health. On May 31st there was a deficit of nearly $150 in the treasury, which will probably be covered by outstanding unpaid subscriptions and advertising.

ST. HELEN'S HALL.

The reports of our Church School for girls are most satisfactory. We have had all the boarding pupils we could accommodate, and an efficient staff of teachers. Under the loving and careful management of the Sisters of St. John Baptist we have a school of which every Churchman—indeed, every Christian mother and father in Oregon with daughters to educate, may well be proud. I desire to remind you that St. Helen's Hall is a missionary agency of very wide scope. In each year we have at least 200 children, and that means a hold on, or at least an interest on the part of, 175 families, both in and out of Portland. Each year about 75 of these students change, so that in five years we reach about 500 families through their children. Sunday schools have the children but once a week irregularly, while we have our five times a week for thirty-five weeks in the year. The results cannot be measured in actual Sacraments (though we usually have ten or twelve baptisms and confirmations every year) because the Sisters encourage the day scholars to receive these Sacraments in their own parish churches; but if good seed is sown plentifully some of it is sure to come up. Further, we give our girls something of tone that they cannot get, or do not get, in public or merely secular schools. Many graduates bear earnest testimony to the fact that for whatever gentleness, graciousness of womanhood, and depth of character, for whatever interest in religion and love for the Church, and knowledge of her teachings they may have, they owe all to the training of St. Helen's Hall.

ST. ELIZABETH'S HOUSE.

The one organized rescue work the Church is doing in Portland is being carried on at St. Elizabeth's House by the Sisters. I thank God for it. In the case of wayward girls it has always been found the wisest plan to take them entirely away from their old friends and surroundings, and have them begin all over again in an entirely new environment, where they can lead a very regular and healthful life, each hour bringing its own appointed duty or recreation, to know they are with friends who care for them, sympathize with them, and are ready to help them; and where, day by day, they all unconsciously grow in Christianity until they come to love the Church, and some of them long for the Sacrament, realizing their own weakness, and feeling the need of grace to help them grow into stronger, purer and truer womanhood—true children of God. Such a sweet home is St. Elizabeth's House, where girls so needing to be helped may be received and cared for free of charge. There are now eleven girls in residence, and our capacity is only fifteen. It would be well if the clergy knew more about this home, and would make it known to mothers who are anxious about their daughters. I would urge the clergy outside of Portland to visit the house while in the city. You will be warmly welcomed, and the Sister in charge will gladly give full information.

THE BISHOP SCOTT SCHOOL.

Much interest is felt in the possible reopening of the Bishop Scott School for boys. One member of the School Board made a careful examination of several eastern schools last autumn, and I myself have discussed the problem with Bishop Robinson of Nevada, for many years the very successful head-master of the boys' school at Racine, and also with Dr. Thayer of St. Mark's school. Everything, it seems, depends upon the right kind of head-master, and then giving him wide freedom. The subject is bristling with problems, but the Board of School Trustees is considering it carefully, and if the old Bishop Scott school-ground can be leased for a term of years, there will then be income enough to warrant reopening. We have 100 acres of slightly property in Yamhill County, and the leading educators of the day tell us that such a school for boys as the trustees have in mind should be in the country.

A CORPORATION SOLE.

As a Corporation sole I have to report to the Convention that the property of the Diocese is in good condition, and that it is growing better each year. Many repairs and betterments have been made during the year. All church property in the Diocese is covered by insurance, and all taxes and special assessments have been paid. There has been paid from the income of the "Bishop's Fund" to the treasurer of the Board of Missions during the year $2,466.67 for stipends of the clergy, and there has also been paid from this fund for repairs to church property, for taxes and special assessments over $1,000.

It is my hope that our missions will grow stronger each year, and that they will require less aid from this fund from year to year, so that the income may be used for the extension of new work, and for the opening of our silent churches.

All the trust funds are carefully invested under the direction of the Chancellor of the Diocese and Mr. MacMaster, at good rates and without charge. I desire to express my sincere appreciation to these gentlemen, and to Mr. C. B. Pfahler, accountant, who has faithfully and accurately kept our books, examined and listed our property and securities.

Since the ceding over of Eastern Oregon there has been transferred to the Rt. Rev. Robert L. Paddock, Bishop of Eastern Oregon, all the funds and property belonging to that Missionary District, as follows:

Ellsworth scholarship, principal and interest. $2,392.00
 Samuel G. French endowment fund and interest. . . 7,270.09

Total cash $9,662.09

Wistar Morris, Bishop of Oregon; one deed, dated August 23, 1880, George Allen to B. Wistar Morris, Bishop of Oregon.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL.

So much has recently been written about our Hospital in the Oregon Churchman that now I shall only direct your attention to a few matters. Many improvements have been made since last year. The trustees meet monthly. A new Auxiliary Board of Ladies has been formed, and they are doing efficient work. An inspection by one of them and two trustees is made two or three times every month. Additional physicians and surgeons have been elected on the staff. A steward has been secured for the supply and administration department. Provision has been made for a school of dietetics in connection with the Nurses Training Home. A much-needed house for orderlies has been placed on Northrup Street, and there is need for another, that the employes may be properly housed. The Nurses Home was built to accommodate fifty nurses. We have over ninety, and the need for enlargement of this building is imperative. The Laundry needs enlarging, and new machinery is required at a cost of about $3,000. New hard surface street improvements are increasing our obligations materially. Lovejoy, Twenty-third and Twenty-second Streets have been completed, and Northrup Street nearly finished. This will require about $7,500 and we are taking advantage of the bonding act. This amount, with a balance of $12,000 owing on a note for the balance for the Bishop Morris memorial building, makes about $20,000 indebtedness. Last year our indebtedness was reduced $13,000, chiefly by the generous donation of Mrs. Maria Flanders and family of $10,000 for a memorial ward to the memory of Captain and John Couch Flanders. We greatly appreciate this generous gift. Other special gifts are shown by the report of the Treasurer. A maternity annex to the hospital is greatly needed, if we could only secure funds for the purpose.

CHURCH EXTENSION—GENERAL.

Perhaps the most important action of the last general Convention was the appointment of a commission for a World Conference on Faith and Order. The commission is not to prepare for a Conference to discuss reunion, but to invite a representative of Christian Communions to discuss essential and fundamental matters of both Faith and Order. The outcome will be of the greatest possible importance. Second in importance was the change made by the reorganization of the General Board of Missions. This reorganization is already justifying itself. The Board is more representative; and the same time through division of labor responsibility is placed where it should be, and the system allows of greater efficiency.

I am glad to report that the Board has increased the appropriation for this Diocese to $3,000, beginning September 1st next. They have also increased the apportionment for Oregon to $3,460. But next year the offerings from Woman's Auxiliary and Sunday schools will be applied on the apportionment. The plan is good, but adjustment to the change may be difficult. Our apportionment committee will work out the problem of how much may be expected from every parish and mission and will notify the rectors and wardens at the earliest possible date.

By action of the General Convention every Bishop was expected to appoint a Diocesan Committee on General Missions, and on suggestion of Mr. John W. Wood I appointed our own Diocesan Board of Missions that committee, requesting two members to give special attention to the cause of General Missions. Next year I would like to go a step further and have only one Treasurer. The present system of two Treasurers is confusing, some send their offerings for general missions directly to Mr. King in New York, some to me, and some send to Mr. Hastings, and some treasurers, alas, keep the offerings for missions for several months in their parish treasury, and remit when they feel like it or when the amount is as they think large enough.

With regard to method I would repeat and emphasize the plan outlined last year, and approved by the Convention. A Missionary Committee in every parish, and an every-member canvass. This is the only effectual method of getting an adequate and certain revenue for missions, both general and diocesan. I commend the duplex system, for it is a great improvement over the single envelope.

We are fortunate in having with us Mr. John W. Wood, General Secretary of the Board of Missions, and I heartily welcome him to the diocese, and know that he will inspire us for the work for General Missions before us this year. Let us feel the privilege and responsibility for our share in the glorious work of extending the Church throughout the world. Let us heartily shoulder our share of the burden laid on the whole Church. We can if we will. We can and we will.

CHURCH EXTENSION—DIOCESAN.

In the first place we cannot expect to extend the Church in this Diocese unless there is much greater Diocesan consciousness both on the part of the clergy and laity. We are but a little band, a handful of clergy, and we must pull together. You are not expected to be all of the same opinion or of the same stripe of Churchmanship, but you are expected to work together in the building up of our Diocesan family life. If elected on boards or committees realize the solemn responsibility resting upon you, be prompt and regular at the meetings, and give your best attention to the work although things may not always be to your liking, or the way you would have them.

Remember that the Diocese is the unit of Church life, not the parish or mission, and that everything Diocesan must have your active support.

We have now on our staff twenty-nine priests, and we have forty-five parishes. This means that we are still undermanned, and need at once three more clergy. Our income from all sources for missionary work last year was $12,588. Our expenditures for stipends, etc., was $13,199. The Treasurer had, therefore, to report a deficit on May 31st of $611. This deficit is due largely to the fact that some places had not then paid their apportionment in full. Some of this will doubtless come in before the close of the Convention.

With regard to our policy I am of the same opinion expressed last year. Let us strengthen our stakes before we lengthen our cords. It is better to have a few missions strong and permanent than many weak. Our work in Yamhill County is not to our credit. Had we been able to have regular services at McMinnville, with a settled priest to work our from there as a center, missions there would now be self-supporting parishes. Here is a neglected mission field at our very doors, and these people must not be forgotten or neglected. Oregon is one of the most strategic points for the Church in America, and every $1 spent in Church extension here on permanent lines is worth $10 to foreign missions in the future.

The Church has a paramount duty to serve the rural districts. She can uplift and cheer, and make people happy, and elevate them morally and spiritually. We must send to our brothers and sisters in the country the finest type of minister that can be had; godly, earnest priests, broad-minded, warm hearted pastors. Mere occasional services will not suffice. The sort of religion which many country places get is that offered by hectic revivals, which draw crowds chiefly by maligning local officials, and which make voting the prohibition ticket synonymous with salvation. Thoughtful people are getting tired of such travesty of the Christian faith. It is for the Church to present a saner, truer conception of Christianity than has yet been presented in rural parts. She is a trustee for the Catholic faith, and that is what men need, though they may know it not. We must send to our country districts our best men, and hold them there by supplementing their salaries until these places can become self-supporting. Adjoining the church building we must have our parish houses, where the young may have their innocent amusements, where high class lectures and concerts may be held, with social gatherings from time to time. It is a loud, soul-stirring appeal that sounds in our ears for the Church to strengthen her stakes in the home mission field.

I am deeply thankful for the clergymen who have come to us, and I sincerely appreciate the work they are doing, and I thank God for what little growth and improvement there has been, but so much has been left undone, and there is so much to do, such fields "white ready to harvest." Pray to God, my friends, for an outpouring of Spiritual power on this Diocese, for a quickening of our enthusiasm and zeal for His cause, and men, with means for their support, will be forthcoming.

SOME EVILS OF THE DAY AND THE WAY TO MEET THEM.

Human society clearly evidences an alienation from God which is not conscious, which is not combative, which is merely indifferent and uninterested. Consider the type of people who are giving the tone to modern society. If they have no great vices they have no great virtues. They neither defy God nor believe in Him. They do not hate the Christian religion. It simply does not interest them at all. They help to form a restless, good-natured society, eager for distractions. The rush of life is the worst evil of the present day. Our idols are convenience, and speed, and amusement, our ideals are in danger of becoming commercialized. Our beautiful State is for the most part heralded to the world in large sounding terms essentially materialistic. The vastness of our undeveloped resources, the climate, the fertile soil, the timber, fruit, fishing industries—all are proclaimed to the world with clarion sound. Let us be among the 7,000 who refuse to bow the knee to the Baal of Bigness. Let us hold to a proper conservatism, which after all is what really impresses thoughtful persons, and let us aim to be a God-fearing people, a State where Christian home life is emphasized, where each citizen considers the rights of others, and where earnest efforts are made to save the community from fevered commercialism and reckless selfishness. This is not a wicked age; it is a careless and a thoughtless age; careless of principle, unconcerned with great issues and besotted with delight at its own petty inventiveness. Human society is engaged in a fatal game. But we can still alter its course if we set to work steadily to change a life of artificial pleasure, unhealthy excitements, vain pursuits, ignored responsibilities into a life of healthy purposes, keen physical and intellectual enjoyments and responsible undertakings with a sense of duty.

But how is all this to be done, how are the evils to be met; and what is the remedy?

Decidedly not money. All those campaigns for money for missions and the Church's work are doing little to modify the gravity of the problem before us as members of the Body of Christ. Money is not the deep necessity of the time. Money has never failed when intelligence has been awakened and conscience aroused.

Not philosophy and ethics.

Not libraries, schools, public baths and soup kitchens.

These all have a place. They are aids to convalescence, if you like.

What is the remedy?

GOD.

Many men and women have ceased to hold any worthy conception of God, and they have consequently got a wrong notion of the relative importance of things. They have never improved on their childish thought of God. They have not worked at their prayers, their communions, their acts of self-sacrifice, by which they might apprehend God, as they have worked for material gains and physical well-being.

Brethren of the clergy, have you and I so preached that men and women have gone home with the firm resolve to put themselves into vital union with God? Have we always given that availing remedy to sick and gasping souls? Or have we not too often substituted a pabulum of pious platitudes or traditional doctrinal dietetics?

If we are to bring religion to this motor car world, to this non-religious age, to the rich, to the laboring classes as well as to the poor, we must see that it is arresting. The services must not be dull, and our message must ring with the assurance that the pursuit of God is the divine adventure. And because you must preach Jesus as the ultimate force, as the one sure remedy for the malady of the age, you had better do so in words that bite in. You need not expect to win everyone, nor that the Church will rule society. When the truths of our Holy Faith are brought fearlessly to men and women, some accept in humility and earnestness, but many frankly give up profession of Christianity which is at variance with their whole lives. Church membership will not be large, but it will be intense, and there will be no dry rot. "Christians," says Dr. Figgis, "are to be the salt of the earth, the heaven, and the sooner they give up trying to be the whole lump the better." It is better that the Church should be small but real than that it should be big in nominal membership or the successful Sunday club of a privileged class. Emphasize the spiritual. Teach the Faith, definitely, lovingly, fearlessly. Preach simply and convincingly GOD—the infinite love of the Father, the presence of Jesus ever living in sacramental mystery, the power of the Holy Ghost. The souls of men are hungering for such food.

THE CALL TO WORSHIP.

But, brethren of the laity, preaching is only part, and a small part, of the presentation of God to human society. It is one medium for the administration of the remedy for the malady of the age. Another and a surer is worship. Calls are coming thick to the modern Church and they are so loud, and so insistent, and so real, and so worthy, that they are apt to drown the profoundest one of all. There is the call to social service, to organize, to extend missions, to give, to teach. We are bound to heed them all. But, if they or anything else dull our ears to the call to worship, it is, as the Bishop of California expresses it, "as if everything in the human body were trying to function without the heart."

The call to worship is the sounding of a new rally in habits of Church attendance. This is really the weak spot of the Church today. No newspaper editorial, or magazine article, or other outside investigation of the question "what is the matter with the Church" will be as illuminating as just this simple understanding of the fundamental relation of worship as a habit to Church interest. In a parish where there is this spirit of worship and devotion there may not be many of the signs of stir and worldly success that have grown around modern parish life, yet the health will be sound in all heart action. God is not a far off remedy. He is not an "absent treatment." He is here. Emmanuel—God with us. For redemptive purposes Christ's life is extended in His Mystical Body. He is waiting to receive you, and you must find him where He is waiting. He is waiting in His Church. And if you ask her where you will find Him she gives you her age-long answer in the Sacraments of His grace.

Make the Sacrifice and the Sacrament of the Altar the center of your activity and the source of your life, and you will have a growing sense of eternal realities, and the things of time and sense, "the things o'er which we grieve with lashes wet" will fall into their proper perspective. Your characteristic act as a creature toward God is worship. Fence off a bit of time every day for prayer. Cultivate a sense of the adorable Presence of God by trying to form the habit of ejaculatory prayer. In your walk, in your business, in your play, give a thought to Him Who loved you and gave Himself for you. This in private, and then in public "forsake not the assembling of yourselves for the breaking of Bread and the Prayers." Your religion is the religion of the Cross. No man in the world escapes the Cross. But the religion of the Cross deprives it of its terror by by encountering it, and voluntarily clasping it. It can never be a religion which costs you nothing and you must not evade its discipline. All the rules of the Church embodied in the Prayer Book you must obey in letter and in spirit, and these are the things which make strong Churchmen and strong parishes. Besides time and space for prayer you must give personal service, and you must give money; not as an assessment, but as an expression of worship. Money is power, and we hold this power, with all the rest of our power, a sacred trust from God, and it must be expended in His sight, and a due proportion must be offered to His service.

SALVATION IN THE CHURCH.

Salvation awaits us all in the Church. Brethren of the clergy, let us make our services bright, cheery, instinct with the spirit of worship, good music, simple chants, hearty congregational singing, a genial welcome to strangers in our midst. Let us restore the Lord's own service to the chief place on the Lord's Day, with a simple but dignified and worthy and serious ceremonial as an aid to worship, and as a special time for intercessions. And, dear brethren of the laity, "Come, let us Worship and fall down before Him." Harbor not a critical spirit, do not nurse hurt feelings, press forward and claim your privileges even in spite of the peculiarities and idiosyncrasies of us your clergy. "The Kingdom of Heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force."

Read and study the Scriptures, for they were written for our learning, and they testify of God; but remember salvation awaits you in the life of the Church, which by virtue of the Incarnation is the extension of the Life of Christ to our day; and the pages of the Gospels point to that life. It is most important to know this. There are some theories about the Bible, its inspiration and its authorship which, in the light of recent scholarship, are no longer tenable; and in consequence of this enlightenment the faith of some Christians has almost become shipwrecked, because they looked for salvation solely in the Bible, perhaps their own theory of Scripture, apart from the Sacramental Life of the Church. The Gospels are not an independent biography of Jesus. They are a selection from the sayings and doings of our Lord as shall best illustrate His intercourse in His risen life with His children in His Church. The Church was in existence before these pages were written. She shaped and gave these Scriptures to her members in order that they might understand better the life they were already experiencing within her. The Bible is not the way; it is the time-table which shows us when and where the train starts. To use a familiar illustration. If you want to go to Medford you will do well to consult a time-table of the Southern Pacific; but having done so, you do not do well to sit down on the open page and say "Here I go to Medford." That is not the way the time-table conducts you to Medford. It points you to two parallel lines of metal and a Pullman car that runs along them, and if you get into that car at the scheduled time there is every hope that you will reach Medford.

The Bible is the time-table which tells us the time, the way, the place, the plan. "The fact is," says Rev. H. F. B. Mackay, of London, "that our Bible teaching bores people because we have not used it to put them into the train. We have been reading them the time-table when they wanted change of air. The age-long Church of God is here today—His Holy Catholic Church. Salvation is within Her, because He is with Her; all that is needed is a fresh grasp of every clause of the Creed, and recourse to every sacrament of the Church, to recover the light and warmth and glory of worship.

BISHOP'S FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

This Convention is the fifth anniversary of the present Episcopate. Five years of many difficulties, hard work, anxious problems and the care of all the churches, but happy years withal. My ideals for myself and for our Diocese have not been realized, but on looking back one can see progress on some lines.

For the next half of the decade, should God spare me for ten years, I hope to do better, and I expect larger results. Possibly three or four clergymen more are all we can look for on our list of Diocesan clergy; but I want this small staff to be zealous, to have a larger Diocesan consciousness. One grievous source of weakness is lack of unity and co-operation among the city clergy, due possibly to the fact that each one has had his hands full in building up his own work. We must all try to further a kindly spirit among us. I see it growing. Forget the past. Let us trust each other, believe in each other, and help each other, getting together oftener for prayer and conference. Let us lock arms to believe in each other, getting together oftener for prayer and conference. Let us lock arms together for work, if we cannot lock opinions; and let us brace ourselves as a band of brothers under the same ordination vows for united work for God and His Church, and the next five years will show blessings and results that we dream not of.

With thanksgiving to God for His goodness in the past, and a fervent prayer for His mercies to this Diocese and its Bishop in the future, I commend you to the duties of the Convention.

APPENDIX E.

REPORT OF SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE.

It should be understood that we have depended to some extent upon the investigations of others in some subjects discussed in this report. Otherwise it would have been impossible to have secured the information required in the time at our disposal. We have, however, no reason to question the trustworthiness of such information for we have been exceedingly careful to substantiate, as far as possible, statements made to us so far as they are incorporated in this report.

The work of investigation which a Social Service Committee might well undertake is so varied that it was absolutely necessary to limit ourselves to certain phases of the subject, if we were to present an intelligent report. We therefore selected the following topics:

1. HOUSING AND SANITARY CONDITIONS.

Portland has no tenement house problem. But housing and sanitary conditions present very serious and urgent problems. Deserted shacks and dilapidated buildings are allowed to stand—a menace to the health of the whole community. Certain sections of the city are reeking with filth. Foul and unsanitary privies are frequent within the city limits. One of the principal menaces is to be found in the cheap boarding houses where no animal, let alone a human, should be permitted to live. A cursory inspection of the lower south end of the city discovered, for example, at 188 Mill street, three dry toilets; at 185-187 Mill street, three dilapidated houses with only one toilet for thirty or more occupants; 178-186 Grant street, a row of deserted, dirty dwellings infested with vermin; 187 Harrison street, a tumble down shack, reeking with rubbish, a dead cat, old rags, and human offal. At 206½ First street was a cheap boarding house where the inside rooms opened onto an area covered with a skylight. These in turn had been partitioned off so that the rooms thus made had no light nor ventilation save that which came through the doors opening into the hallway, itself dark and unventilated.

These are only a few out of many instances. Such conditions are a menace to public health and morals. The matter needs to be agitated. The good work begun by the Woman's Club and the People's Institute needs to be pushed. One cleaning up week in a year is good; there should be fifty-two. The Board of Health renders admirable aid in many ways but it is undermanned and it has not the intelligent support of the public. There is but one sanitary inspector for a city of 207,000 inhabitants. One man cannot do all the work. The strength of a chain is in its weakest link—Portland Heights and Irvington are not the measure of the city's condition except from the point of view of the real estate exploiter. Such instances as have been rehearsed call for intelligent investigation, study, and work.

2. PROSTITUTION.

The exact extent to which the social evil prevails in the City of Portland is a matter exceedingly difficult to discover. Those who are sufficiently in touch with rescue work to be able to speak on the subject with authority regard as ridiculously incomplete the list of lewd women and bawdy houses in the possession of the police. Your Committee was shown evidence to prove that the social evil is fearfully widespread. The law-abiding element in our city, which goes calmly on in the supposition that this evil is one on which the "North End" and the "down and outs" have a monopoly, is living in a fool's paradise. Bawdy houses draw not only their patrons but also their inmates from every quarter of the city and from every class in society.

Apart from the notorious and long-established houses, the chief danger lies in places of assignation, of which the number is legion. Massage parlors, shooting galleries, cheap theatres, rooms for transients, and many boarding houses will not infrequently be found, on inquiry, to be places of this sort.

We take it as obvious that prostitution in all its phases is an unmitigated evil, the demoralizing effects of which on society and on the individual need not be specified. In view, therefore, of the widespread danger to which the city is being exposed, the question arises as to what efforts are being made to cope with the evil, and in what way may these efforts be fortified, and, in particular, as to what the Episcopal Church as a body is doing in the premises.

The statutes of the State of Oregon and the ordinances of the City of Portland make prostitution an unlawful occupation. The District Attorney is empowered to prosecute all cases brought to his attention, and, in trial, common fame is, by statute, admitted as evidence. Legally, therefore, there is no reason why this evil, the alarming extent of which has been referred to, should prevail. But the law is not enforced. The responsibility for this state of affairs rests primarily on the city officials whose business it is to enforce the law, ultimately it rests upon the public who have by indifference suffered the law to become a dead letter. Of course those who benefit, either directly or indirectly, by the profits of this immoral business are unwilling that it should be stopped, and they resort to every sort of trickery to conserve their sources of revenue. Taking advantage of the utter lack of organization, and the fatuous complacency of the law-abiding majority, these people are able to exert an influence out of all proportion to their numbers.

In this connection we may remark that we were shown evidence to convince us that prostitution is flourishing in Portland, and has been for some time past, under the protection of the police. The evidence we speak of was not gathered by your committee, but can be relied on as trustworthy. Whether or not it would secure a conviction before a jury we are not competent to decide. But the difference between a jury verdict and moral certainty is, we hope, obvious.

There are many citizens who are persuaded that an attempt to suppress prostitution only succeeds in disseminating vice, and who therefore advocate its restriction within a limited area. This remedy—if such it may be called—is one which has been put to the test in many cities, but the results have been such as to procure from experienced social workers an almost unanimous verdict of disapproval. Segregation as a matter of fact does not segregate, and when the plan fails in this point, little remains to be said in its favor. However, the fact is that the high estimation in which this plan is held among the people at large has given an excuse to the officials for neglecting their plain duty of enforcing the law as it stands.

The true course to be pursued is, as social workers almost everywhere agree, to enforce, to the letter, such laws against prostitution as the City of Portland has; while, at the same time, every effort is made to render the ways leading into such a life difficult and dangerous, and to make the ways of escape from it as easy and accessible as may be. In other words, this casts the responsibility upon the voters of the city. It becomes their duty to elect officials who will enforce the laws as they stand not fitfully, nor for political effect, but constantly, from a pre-determined policy, and to remove officials from office forthwith if it shall appear that they have been negligent in the performance of duty. It is the citizen's duty, moreover, to investigate the social, economic, and moral conditions which contribute to prostitution and to devise remedies when evils are discovered. It is their duty to familiarize themselves with the methods of reformatories, houses of mercy, etc., and to support generously all worthy institutions.

Along the lines just laid down a start has already been made, though to tell the truth the van-guard of the movement is not composed of the Episcopal Church, which, true to some of her instincts, has apparently chosen to "tarry behind with the stuff."

For the purpose of securing law enforcement a Municipal League has been organized in Portland, and has done excellent work. This league endeavors to guide public opinion, to suggest legislation, to search out and secure the nomination of candidates who can be depended upon to do their duty. The work of the Municipal League has been severely handicapped owing to a widely current suspicion among business men that the league, despite its professions, is, in point of fact, aiming not at reform, but at political advantage. We think this suspicion most unjust. Whatever serious effort has been made in the past year to enforce the laws against prostitution has emanated from the Municipal League; and if these efforts of theirs have not been successful, the blame, we are persuaded, rests on other shoulders. If the District Attorney's office had been as conscientious and as accurate as the Municipal League we are sure the outcome of those prosecutions would have been different. However, the fact remains that the motives of the league are suspected. We think that this is largely, if not altogether, due to the fact that the league is blessed with the patronage of friends who regard social reform as a fish pond for sensation, and whose fish stories have strained the patience of the public beyond the breaking point. An organization with objects similar to those of the Municipal League is imperatively needed, and ought to be strongly supported.

There is a distinct need for a searching investigation of the causes which lead to prostitution. Until the facts have been assembled and classified well considered measures of reform can hardly be expected. Such an investigation would require a great deal of time, great thoroughness, and the expenditure of a considerable sum of money. And it is one which a private unofficial board could hardly hope to carry out successfully, owing to the fact that such a body would depend upon voluntary testimony, and the most essential data would not be disclosed voluntarily. A board clothed with the powers of the Chicago Vice Commission would seem to be what is required. Among the subjects which such a board would be expected to investigate, the following more important ones may be specified: (1) The wages paid to girls in stores and factories; (2) The relation between their wages and the cost of living; (3) The best means of protecting young women from the artifices of procurers and the most satisfactory methods of surrounding the young with wholesome, moral influences and amusements; (5) The character of places of recreation. Of course, the only way to obtain such a board is to create a public sentiment which will demand it. In the creation of that sentiment the Episcopal Church should not be lag-gard.

It now remains to speak briefly of the organizations which are in touch with social reform:

(1) The Department of Public Safety for young women, which is under the able management of Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin. The office is in the Y. W. C. A. building. This department is supported, though meagerly, by the city. Mrs. Baldwin's work deserves great credit.

(2) The Y. W. C. A. endeavors to find employment for, to recommend suitable boarding houses, and to give good companionship, to young women living in Portland.

(3) What the Y. W. C. A. does for women, the Y. M. C. A. aspires to do for men, though its aspirations are not so often realized.

(4) The People's Institute provides rooms for reading and rest for men, sewing classes for women, a Sunday School, mothers' meetings, men's meetings, etc. This work is under Presbyterian auspices and is well supported.

(5) The excellent work of the Portland Commons needs no description, but we cannot neglect this opportunity of speaking of the great debt which Portland owes to Mr. W. G. MacClaren for it.

(6) The Salvation Army carries on rescue work on much the same lines as the Portland Commons.

(7) The Boys' and Girls' Aid undertakes to care for children who, if left to themselves, would probably end as delinquents. The work is excellent.

(8) The Sisters of St. John Baptist have a home at Montavilla for girls who have gone astray or are in danger of so doing. St. Elizabeth's House, now in its second year of operation, has already gained a fine reputation for itself. This is one institution dealing with rescue or social work under the auspices of the Episcopal Church in the city of Portland. The Sisters speak most gratefully of the support they have received from our Church people here, yet, if St. Elizabeth's House were depending upon the Church in Oregon for its up-keep, and was not financed chiefly from outside the Diocese, it would have had to close its doors long ago. It is recommended that our people (the clergy especially) make themselves familiar with the splendid work begun by this institution and try to help it forward.

(9) The House of the Good Shepherd is a Roman Catholic institution for fallen women, conducted on a different plan from St. Elizabeth's. It has been long established and has a large number of inmates.

(10) The Louise Home, under the same auspices as the Portland Commons, and the Rescue Home of the Salvation Army, are smaller institutions struggling with the same problem.

(11) The Florence Crittenden Refuge Home also gives great assistance in this branch of social work, providing for maternity cases.

3. JAILS.

Your Committee has also made some inquiry into the manner in which city prisoners are cared for. We are more than glad to say that the recent election has rendered unnecessary any report on that long standing example of man's inhumanity to his less fortunate brother known as the city jail. In addition to the city jail, your Committee has investigated the Linton rock quarry, commonly called the Linnton rock pile. The best thing which can be said about this institution is that the prisoners are required to work—whatever the motive for that requirement may be. In the first place, the accommodations are now utterly inadequate for the average number of prisoners committed. It is not unusual to find confined in the place fifty per cent more than the originally contemplated. The building is unsanitary and in some respects indecent. When one remembers that the prisoners by their labor more than pay for their expense to the city and county, it remains an unanswered question why adequate accommodations are not furnished. Grand juries have repeatedly condemned the place but with no result. To speak truly of the discipline which prevails is a difficult task. The majority of those committed belong to a hardened class—real “low-brows”—but it appears to be no exaggeration to say that the discipline is too rigorous, and, in some instances, brutal and uncalled for. We can find no justification for the low and blasphemous language often addressed to inmates. Your Committee thinks that the medical attention accorded prisoners in case of illness and accident altogether insufficient. In this inquiry we have found slight evidence of any study or interest in present day methods and ideals of penal and reformatory institutions. Your Committee believes that the cause of amendment of life would be accelerated by the segregation of prisoners according to their records and criminal status. This we think could be accomplished without much additional cost to the sensitive taxpayer. From within the Gatehouse Prison, Richard Lovelace wrote:

"Stone walls do not a prison make,
Nor iron bars a cage;
Minds innocent and quiet take
That for an hermitage."

But, under the present arrangements, minds comparatively innocent in Portland jails have every chance of receiving more injury than good. The really sad state in which city prisoners exist—we use the word sad advisedly for reformation, a thing difficult in itself, is rendered doubly so by surroundings which retard any efforts in that direction—is due in the last instance to the complacent attitude of the average citizen who is very amiable but very poorly informed in regard to actual conditions in our charming municipality and is inclined to resent any demands on his time or his sympathy.

4. SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

We, your Committee, feel that the social work which is being done in the City of Portland by our Church, is of such small moment that it should not be called anything more than an attempt. Remembering also that our Diocesan Journal for 1910 gives us a communicant list (not a confirmation list) in the City of Portland of almost 2,400 and recalling the boasted wealth and influence which some of our people claim to possess we acknowledge with shame that not a single work along institutional lines is under the fostering care or in the name of the Episcopal Church save St. Elizabeth's House; while we do not say that we ought to enter into the work in the spirit of competition with others in their endeavors to "Rescue the perishing, care for the dying, Snatch them in pity from sin and the grave," we are convinced that among the "submerged" there are many children of the Church for whose care we, primarily, are responsible.

In the complex activities and demands of city parishes no rector can begin to do his duty to his parish and be responsible for any particular branch of social service work. Nor are any of our parishes able unassisted (with one possible exception) to meet the expenses that must be incurred.

Therefore, in view of the foregoing, this Committee hereby recommends to the serious consideration of the Convention of the Diocese of Oregon the following proposals:

(1) That the Bishop of Oregon call a meeting of the city clergy—the time and place to be arranged later—for the purpose of accepting or rejecting proposals two to seven, inclusive;

(2) That each clergyman nominate a lay parishioner to be added to this general committee of the clergy;

(3) That from this general committee, a special committee shall be elected whose duty it shall be to obtain financial support for a city missionary, who shall have charge of the work of a city mission;

(4) That an adequate salary be pledged to the city missionary who shall not be attached to any parish or other mission in Portland;

(5) That the general committee nominate a city missionary to the Bishop of Oregon for his approval;

(6) That as soon as practicable a suitable place be rented in the down town district for the work of the mission;

(7) That as this work affects only city parishes, we recommend that it shall never become chargeable to or depend on the Diocesan Board of Missions;

(8) Regarding what has been said above with reference to sanitation and reform in general your Committee wishes further to recommend that a committee of seven be appointed by the chairman of the Diocesan Convention for social service work, with power to represent the Diocese

Convention officially in all matters pertaining to the subject in hand:

(9) That the Diocesan Convention petition the proper civic authorities for the appointment of a board of investigation with powers of a scope similar to those of the Chicago Vice Commission.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN DAWSON,
JERRALD C. POTTS,
H. M. RAMSEY,
HENRY RUSSELL TALBOT.

REPORT OF CLERGY HAVING NO PAROCHIAL CHARGE.

Report of Archdeacon Chambers for the Year Ending May 31, 1911.

Acting under instructions of the Bishop of the Diocese and the Diocesan Board of Missions, I have continued my work as Archdeacon during the convention year.

The filling of the vacant parishes and missions with clergy has enabled me to care for some of the small missions and to encourage the weak by letting them know that the church has not forgotten them.

Such work is not naturally prolific in results, so my statistical report shows some reduction from that of last year.

Number of services held, 129; celebrations of the Holy Eucharist, 54; sermons and addresses, 119.

Baptisms: infants 12, adults 2, total 14.

Marriages, 7; burials, 2.

Five baptisms are not registered in any parish register and do not appear in any other report. The same is true of seven marriages and two burials.

Respectfully submitted,

H. D. CHAMBERS.

To the Secretary of the Diocese:

During the past year I have been a graduate student at Harvard University and the Episcopal Theological School. I have also been in charge of the Church of St. John the Evangelist at Duxbury, in the diocese of Massachusetts.

Sincerely yours,

F. B. BARTLETT.

Report for year ending May 31, 1911.

NOTE.

The apportionment for missions in the Diocese of Oregon is based on the rate of $1.00 per communicant, and should be sent to the Diocesan Treasurer, Mr. R. W. Hastings, care Balfour-Guthrie Co., Board of Trade Bldg., Portland. The apportionment for missions outside the Diocese of Oregon is based on the rate of 60 cents per communicant and should also be sent to Mr. Hastings.

IMPORTANT TO CHURCHMEN.

APPORTIONMENT.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Church Extension held on Tuesday evening, August 1st, the following resolution was adopted:

RESOLVED, That it is the sense of this meeting that the apportionment for Diocesan Missions for the current year be placed on the basis of one dollar per communicant.

BASIS OF APPORTIONMENT.

For Church Extension in Oregon, $1.00 per communicant.

For General Missions, 60 cents per communicant.

This "per capita" basis of raising money for Missions is wooden, and uninspiring, if not sordid. The best that can be said for it is that it discourages the padding of communicant lists, and is an easy method of distributing the required apportionment, indicating the minimum of what a congregation should do. There are many children who are communicants, many not wage earners, and many "not found," and the larger the parish the heavier the burden of apportionment falls on the few. Some day a better basis than this "dollar per communicant" will be found. Meanwhile the rectors and vestries are urged to have a special missionary committee, an "every member canvass," and the duplex envelope. There are many communicants who can, and we believe will, give fifty times their "dollar per communicant" if there is an inspiring missionary spirit created in the parish.

Giving to Missions is a measure both of the interest a priest and parish take in the life of the Church, and of their obedience to the Lord's command. Further it indicates the spiritual vitality of a parish. The parish that does not give willingly and generously to the extension of the Church i. e. stipends of missionaries, is on a rapid decline, and sadly in danger of death by dry rot.

As no further assessments are to be made for the Episcopal Fund it is expected that there will be renewed enthusiasm for Missions.

Three thousand four hundred dollars is asked for. Let every parish and Mission begin NOW to raise its quota, and not wait until next Lent, and the sum can be easily raised. It must all be paid by April 30, 1912.

DELINQUENTS.

The following are the parishes which failed to complete their amount of their apportionments for the convention year 1911. As the Board of Church Extension relies for its work on payment in full this list is given in the belief that rectors and wardens reading it will have these amounts paid. It is gratifying to know that all parishes, with the exception of St. Mary's, Eugene, which seems to be in a class by itself as far as interest in Church extension is concerned, made an effort at least to pay some part of their apportionment.

It is not just or fair for any parish by indifference or by neglect of systematic effort, or by using missionary offerings for parish expenses, to fail to pay its share of the stipends of our missionaries.

Amount due July 31, 1911:

St. Paul's, Oregon City.....	$ 32.00
St. Andrew's, Portsmouth.....	3.30
Good Shepherd, Portland.....	81.62
St. John's, Sellwood.....	37.37
*St. Mary's, Eugene.....	140.74

Total$295.03

*No remittance for Missions has been received from St. Mary's, Eugene, during the year.

APPENDIX H.

AMENDMENTS TO CANONS.

Note.—The last complete edition of the Constitution and Canons was printed in the Journal of 1907. The new Constitution as finally approved and adopted at the Convention of 1911 may be found on pages 51-64 of the Journal of 1910. All amendments to the Canons since 1907 are given in full or by reference below:

1. Section 6, Canon II, amended by adding the words: "Unless otherwise ordered by the Convention by two-thirds vote of the members present." (Journal of 1908, page 18.)

2. New Canon enacted, as follows:

CANON XVI.

OF THE CHANCELLOR OF THE DIOCESE.

At each annual meeting the Convention shall elect a Chancellor, upon nomination of the Bishop. The Chancellor shall be a layman learned in the law, and a communicant member of some parish or mission in union with the Convention. His office shall be to act as legal advisor and counsellor to the Bishop, the Standing Committee, ecclesiastical courts and the Convention, when called upon to do so. (Journal of 1909, page 23.)

3. Canon XV amended to read as follows:

CANON XV.

Section 1. At each stated meeting of the Convention there shall be elected an Assessment Committee to consist of two layman and the Secretary and Treasurer of the Diocese, who shall hold office until their successors are elected and assume office. Such committee shall make annual assessment upon the parishes, missions and congregations of the Diocese in the manner provided in Section 2 of this Canon, for defraying the incidental expenses of the Convention; for charges of the General Convention; for the Episcopal salary; for ecclesiastical trials and discipline, and any other demands which the Convention at any time approve and direct. And each parish, mission and congregation is hereby made responsible for the payment of the assessment levied against it.

Sec. 2. The amount assessed upon each parish, mission or congregation in accordance with Section 1 of this Canon shall be based upon its current expenses, being the amount paid for ministerial and other salaries, organist, choir, sexton, lights, insurance, heating, rent and all other current parochial expenses incurred for conducting and maintaining the services, the care, preservation, ordinary repairs and expenses of church buildings and rectories and grounds, exclusive of amounts paid on account of principal and interest of mortgage, bonded or funded debt or for permanent street or other permanent improvements, as shown by its annual report filed that year. The Assessment Committee, in determining the amount of the current expenses, may consider the income side of the annual report. If in any parish the rectorship is vacant, the committee shall take the average of the previous five years (or less, if the parish be of less age). If any parish or mission shall fail to file with the Diocesan Secretary or Treasurer, as required by Section 8 of Canon VI, a copy of its annual report for that year; then the Assessment Committee shall arbitrarily fix the amount of the assessment of such parish or mission.

4. Article I of Canon XI, Constitution of Parishes, amended to read as follows:

ARTICLE I.

ACCEDING TO THE GENERAL AND DIOCESAN CONSTITUTION, CANONS, ETC.

This Parish, as a constituent part of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in the Diocese of Oregon, expressly accedes to, recognizes and adopts the Constitution, Canons, doctrines, discipline and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, and the Constitution and Canons of the Church in the Diocese of Oregon."

Further amendments to the Canons, made in the Convention of 1911, will be found in this journal, on pages ———. They have to do with the dates of the Convention and of the annual parish meetings, with the formation of new parishes and missions, name and membership of the Board of Church Extension, etc.

APPENDIX J.

Report of the Social Service Committee of the Woman's Auxiliary to Good Samaritan Hospital.

The Social Service Committee has so far found only a few cases needing their attention. Shortly after its appointment a meeting was held when the policy of using existing social organizations such as the Associate Charities, Visiting Nurse Association, Peoples' Institute, etc., to aid discharged patients, was adopted. Our mission to be to bring them into touch with these agencies, and only rendering direct help when this was not possible.

The chairman addressed the assembled nurses in the lecture-room of the nurses' home after chapel service one Sunday evening, explaining the proposed scope of the work, and asking their cooperation, by informing the committee of persons needing its assistance, which should come to their knowledge while discharging their duties. These cases to be reported to the superintendent, or head nurse, who would telephone the chairman, as Miss Loveridge recommended this plan.

The committee then met at the hospital in order to interview patients, whom it was suggested might need their services.

Mr. A., who lost the use of his legs, so that he was obliged to use crutches, while working at street-paving for an asphalt company, had a wife, and same conducting a bakery and small shop in the middle west, so it was decided that he should return to them on his discharge as he could be of service in tending the shop even in his crippled condition, but his departure was delayed by a suit he had already begun against the company, which his lawyer had said could not be tried for almost a month. The lawyer was visited and asked if it was possible to hasten the suit.

The superintendent asked the committee to visit the wife of a patient, who had been transferred to the Open Air Sanitarium, as it was reported that she was destitute, and in broken health from nursing him before his removal from home. It was found the Visiting Nurses' Association already had charge of the case.

Mrs. G. had had pneumonia, shortly after recovering from a severe surgical operation was visited in the tenement where she lived, the physician, who had attended her said a relapse was quite probable if she did not have very nourishing food. Her husband, who had been out of work some months, had secured a job the day before the visit, and she was most unwilling to receive charity. It was only when it was suggested to her that she could repay them at some future time that she consented to accept milk from the Visiting Nurses' Association, and a member of the committee undertook to supply her with eggs and some other delicacies, which by bringing them herself and using the utmost tact, were accepted. Flowers supplied by the same member greatly pleased her. She, however, again informed the committee that they better discontinue the milk, or allow her to pay for it. Some weeks before they actually did so, as the nurse said it was most necessary for her complete restoration to health. It was gratifying to find this spirit of independence in one who, prior to her illness, had done housecleaning and acted charwoman.

A patient convalescing from a severe surgical operation—a widow whose six children were in the Odd Fellows' Home—was greatly distressed at not having a visit from them, which the matron of the home informed her was impossible. Through one of the committee, who also had connection with the home, the children were brought to see their mother, and about a fortnight later a member of the Junior League, after consulting with us, called for the children in her automobile, and a second visit was made, both greatly cheering the sick mother, whose gratitude was touching.

Although the committee feels that it has made very small beginnings, they hope, as its gets into closer touch with the hospital (members of the committee are making weekly visits of inquiry in rotation), to be able to assist in making the cures effected by the hospital permanent by ministering to the needs of any one who needs a comfortable place of abode, further medical aid, work, advice—in short, a friend.

MARY MONTGOMERY TALBOT,
Chairman Social Service Committee.

MINUTES

The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions was opened in the Pro-Cathedral of St. Stephen the Martyr at 10 a. m. on June 14th by the Right Rev. the Bishop of Oregon, celebrating the Holy Communion, assisted by the Vicar of the Pro-Cathedral, Rev. Horace Ramsey, after which a delicious luncheon was served by the women of St. Stephens in the adjoining parish house, and then the business session was called to order in the church, the President, Mrs. Charles Scadding, in the chair, and an address of welcome was made by the Honorary President, Mrs. Hill. The chair then appointed Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Thayer and Mrs. Hancock nominating committee, and the order of business was suspended while they were in conference.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted. The report of the Corresponding Secretary was read and accepted. Report of the Organizing Secretary read and accepted. She declined to accept re-election. Report of the Mission Study Secretary read and accepted.

Report of the Treasurer was read and accepted. $782.49 had been received, $215.49 for General Missions, $367.00 diocesan, a gain of $171.00 in the total receipts, and specials had amounted to $200.00, which perhaps accounts for the fact we had not met our apportionment, and it is most important we do this before contributing in other directions, especially as Mrs. Scadding suggested it was too low even as it stands for a state as rich as Oregon.

The United Offering Secretary reported $520.06 sent to the triennial meeting in Cincinnati, and $158.21 on hand collected since.

The Corresponding Secretary then read the reports of the branches which were all interesting. Those responding to the roll-call and the pledges made for this year were as follows:

St. Andrew's, Portsmouth—Miss Amber Case presented one of the best reports of the year, having twelve members who have raised the astonishingly large sum for a new auxiliary in a mission chapel of $85.00. Ascension—Miss Turner, director. The members are among our youngest girls, and it is one of our most active branches. St. Stephen's—Miss Elizabeth Knight, secretary, reported an average attendance of six members and $82.30 contributed to missions.

Since last year, following the suggestion of Mrs. Lyman, two babies' branches have been organized.

St. Matthew's—Mrs. Craw, secretary. On November 12 has 18 members and contributed $6.02. St. David's—Mrs. H. R. Talbot, secretary, has 22 members, and contributed $6.59.

A letter from Miss Emery was then read in which she urged more prayer and study of missions as the greatest aid to our success, and that a personal canvass of the parishes to increase interest in missions be undertaken by the women, if one was not already being conducted by the men in the parish. She told of the new plan of apportionment, when the sum asked from each parish was to be increased but hereafter the sums contributed by the Auxiliary and the Sunday Schools are to be included in the Apportionment.

The Bishop took the chair during the election of officers and congratulated the Auxiliary on their good work. The nominating committee presented the names of new officers and on a motion to have the Secretary cast a ballot they were unanimously elected.

The committee on place of meetings, Mrs. Breck, chairman, appointed them as follows: Second Monday in October, St. Matthew's; second Monday in January, St. Michael's and All Angels; second Monday in March, the Ascension.

The Bishop then introduced Mr. John W. Wood, of New York, Secretary of the Board of Mission, who gave a soul-stirring and inspiring address. It was moved by Mrs. Pfahler and seconded that Mrs. Scadding express our thanks to Mr. Wood. Carried. It was moved by Mrs. Talbot and seconded that we express our thanks to the ladies of St.

Stephen's for their hospitality. Carried. Meeting adjourned to convene at St. Matthew's Chapel on Monday, October 9th.

Reverend S. M. Dorrance pronounced the benediction.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY MONTGOMERY TALBOT,
Secretary.

JUNIOR AUXILIARY

Madame President and Members of the Auxiliary:

The general policy of the Junior officers this year has not been one of expansion, but rather of an intensive character. While we are very anxious to reach the goal where every parish and every mission in the diocese will have its Junior branch, we felt that this was a time to pause and turn our efforts to strengthening the forces already in the field.

Of our eight branches, two were without leaders until January of this year, but since that time they have done yeoman service and have added much to the strength of the Juniors.

Corvallis and Newport branches have responded nobly to all the requests that we have made of them, and I wish to mention them especially since they may not have any representative here to speak for them. Respectfully submitted,

E. M. NEWILL,
Junior President.

MRS. J. A. SELLWOOD, Diocesan Treasurer.

APPORTIONMENT.

The General Board of Missions has asked the Diocese of Oregon for $3,460 for General Missions, and what the Woman's Auxiliary raises and what is raised by the children in the Sunday School, Lenten offerings will apply on this amount. The Bishop thinks a fair division of this total amount will be:

From Parishes and Missions	$2,100.00
From Woman's Auxiliary	600.00
From Children's Lent Offering.....	500.00
From individual gifts	300.00
Total	$3,500.00

Will we raise our share, namely, $600, before August 31, 1912? We can if we will; we can and we will. It can if we will follow the new method being adopted by the Church Mission House, namely, the individual weekly pledge for Missions, to be placed in a small envelope in the treasury of the home parish. This plan is being adopted all the Church and is proving most satisfactory.

NOTES.

Among other encouraging features, the attendance was the largest which has been at any annual meeting; 142 were present, with St. David's leading with 32, and delegates came especially for the meeting from as far as Marshfield and Ashland. Already over $158 has been received from the Treasurer of that self-denial fund, the united triennial offering, which is better than the first year of our last one, although we will have to be more generous if we wish to have ready to present at the time of the General Convention more than $520, the amount given for past three years.

It was splendid to have in attendance at the annual meeting so many Juniors, whose flourishing condition makes us so hopeful for the future of the Woman's Auxiliary. There were more of them present at this annual meeting than ever before, and their reports read by the branch secretaries made one feel that the strength of the organization, when the present leaders pass it on to other hands, is assured.

The Rev. C. W. Robinson, rector of St. Paul's Church, Oregon City, preached the sermon at the Annual Meeting. It was an inspiring call to service for God. Miss Robinson and Miss Percival were present at the meeting.

Mr. John W. Wood, General Secretary of the Board of Missions, gave a stirring address, and it was a great uplift to all to come in contact with a keen mind and fiery zeal in doing a large part in furthering one of the great movements of our time, and making history. His address made us feel that the days of the saints and martyrs are not of the past when we heard of the heroic work done by our missionaries.

The interesting and forceful way the Bishop presented to us the local work cannot be passed over in any account of the meeting; nor the systematic and expeditious way our president, Mrs. Scadding, conducted its business part. Certainly not the least enjoyable part was the time and opportunity given for social converse, and who will forget the splendid opportunity afforded for prayer and praise while partaking of the Holy Communion with which the day opened. Surely, if signs mean anything, the missionary work of Oregon Church women must go forward during the coming year. Let our watchword be: "Advance."

The Auxiliary and the Oregon Churchman.

In order to pay expenses the subscription price of The Oregon Churchman has been raised to $1.00, but by an arrangement with the business manager, one-half of each subscription secured through a branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, may be retained by that branch for its missionary apportionment, provided ten or more subscriptions are sent in by that branch. Let us take an active interest in our diocesan paper, which ranks with the best, and let every woman sent in her $1.00 for the year through the local Branch Secretary. DO IT NOW.

I

THE BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

Delivered in the Pro-Cathedral of St. Stephen the Martyr, Portland, on the eve of the Twenty-fourth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon, Tuesday, May 14, 1912:

Dear Brethren of the Clergy and Laity:

Grace, mercy and peace be unto you from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Surely it is a happy and uplifting thing that our Docesan Convention this year should begin on this Rogation day and at this Ascension time. Let us, like the men of Galilee of old, gaze up into heaven that we may catch the vision of our Ascended Lord, that we in heart and mind may thither ascend, and then, inspired by that vision, let us carry into all our undertakings the recollection of His commission "Ye shall be witnesses unto Me."

Witnesses to Christ is the central thought for us on this occasion. Those words I take for our text. I desire it to be the strong undertone of all that I shall say in this annual "charge." The thought will sweeten the record of our work, will save it from being dry or uninteresting, and will give us enthusiasm and courage to march steadily onward.

We pray Thee our Ascended Lord to accept the witness we have born to Thee, and to graciously pardon our mistakes and failings.

CHANGES IN CLERICAL STAFF.

The changes in our clerical staff have been as follows: Rev. Samuel M. Dorrance has left Ashland and gone to the Diocese of Rhode Island. For three years he did faithful and earnest work at Ashland, and won the hearts of all. Rev. Wm. Lucas, at the request of the vestry at Ashland has been transferred from St. Mark's Mission, Medford, to Trinity Mission, Ashland. The Rev. Joseph Sheerin comes to us from the Diocese of Harrisburg and has taken charge of St. Mark's, Medford. Rev. W. L. Johnson came to us as a deacon from Minnesota, and was ordained priest at St. Stephen's Pro-Cathedral on February 4th, and has been placed in charge of Holy Innocents, Astoria, and the Clatsop County Missions. The Rev. E. H. Clark, from Chicago, has charge of Woodstock. The Rev. Jerrald Potts, who began the promising Mission of St. Michael and All Angels in Rossmere, has accepted an invitation to return to Canada as assistant. Rev. D. J. Macdonald, formerly a Presbyterian clergyman, was admitted to the diaconate on February 4th, and sent to McMinnville, but has this last month been transferred to the Diocese of Olympia. The Rev. John Marshall resigned St. Andrew's, Portsmouth, and he and Rev. J. W. Armstrong and Rev. W. R. Powell, are the non-parochial clergy in the Diocese. The Rev. Dr. Lloyd, Chaplain at Vancouver, I have licensed as a "Foreign Clergyman," licensed to officiate in the Diocese of Oregon. Miss Caroline P. Sheffield, who has done such excellent work in the Diocese for several years, resigned in March and is now in California.

A CORPORATION SOLE.

As a Corporation sole I have to report to the Convention that the property of the Diocese is fully listed, is in good condition, and that with the exception of Holy Innocents, Astoria, and a small piece at Cottage Grove, seems to be growing slightly more valuable each year. At Sutherlin a lot 120 by 140 has been given to us by the Luse Land & Water Company, and already a suitable combination parish house and chapel has been built upon it. All Church property in the Diocese is covered by insurance, and all taxes and special assessments in the missions have been paid. While there has been paid from the income of what is known as "The Bishop's Fund" to the Treasurer of the Board of Church Extension for stipends of the missionaries less than was given last year the special assessments, repairs on property, taxes have made such a great demand that at the end of this fiscal year the income is exhausted and the account overdrawn. Years ago when Bishop Morris secured property in the small towns there were no special assessments, or taxes to pay. Last year these charges in almost every place have been large, and the burden has fallen heavily upon the Bishop's Fund. Of course, wherever possible advantage has been taken of the Bonding Act, and it is to be hoped that next year the committee in these missions will see to it that these special assessments, taxes, etc., are met locally. I must urge upon our missionaries and their committees watchfulness in these matters, for in two cases some property was sold for taxes and had to be redeemed.

Now that we have more clergy in the field we expect our missions to grow stronger each year, and that they will require less aid from this fund from year to year, so that the income may be used for the extension of new work in rapidly growing rural districts.

The Chancellor of the Diocese and Mr. Wm. MacMaster have kindly invested for me the trust funds at good rate of interest and without charge. I desire to express my appreciation to these gentlemen, and also to Mr. C. B. Pfahler, chartered accountant, who has faithfully kept my books, examined and listed our property and securities.

REINFORCEMENT FUND.

Lately I have been able to interest a few of our laymen in the creation of a fund to be known as the Reinforcement Fund, the purposes of which are:

First—For the purchase of property intended for Church purposes.

Second—For the making of loans secured by property, used for or intended for Church purposes.

Third—For assisting missions, and wherever possible parishes, in the payment of interest on their loans, thereby enabling them to direct their energies toward the liquidation of the principal.

The committee at work with me on the establishment of this fund are the Chancellor of the Diocese, Mr. James B. Kerr, Mr. Sanderson Reed, Mr. C. N. Huggins, Mr. W. B. Asher and Mr. C. B. Pfahler.

So far three missions have taken advantage of this fund which is still in its infancy, but which, if it grows as seems likely, ought to do for this Diocese in a simple and practical, if limited, way what the American Church Building Fund aims to do for the Church at large. I commend this good work to our laymen and women, and when the committee begins its work next autumn I hope that many laymen will be found to make direct contributions to this fund, and some will be found who will be willing to lend sums of money from $50 to $500 at five per cent interest for the purposes stated.

CHURCH EXTENSION—DIOCESAN.

The report of our Board of Church Extension records a year of active work, and much progress, and I shall not attempt to review a field which it has covered so well. Briefly I would state that we now have fourteen parishes self-supporting except Good Samaritan, Corvallis. Twenty-seven missions where we have property; five preaching stations where we have no property and give occasional services. We have on our staff of clergy in the Diocese twenty-nine priests, two of whom are non-parochial, and one chaplain at the hospital. Fourteen of these priests are dependent on the Board of Church Extension for their stipends, in whole or in part. Our income from all sources for missionary work in this Diocese last year (i. e. from General Board, Bishop's Fund, local pledges to stipends, apportionments), was $14,016. Our expenditure for stipends, etc., was $13,538. The Treasurer therefore reports a balance of $478 to his credit at end of the fiscal year, April 30th. It will need this amount and all the unpaid amounts of apportionments to meet the stipends which will have to be paid in June and July.

I am thankful to report that our missions are gradually beginning to realize their own responsibility, and to rest less upon "what the Bishop is going to do." This is essentially a missionary field, but the day has gone by when we can beg for our work in the East. The Diocese of Oregon must learn to stand alone. We cannot expect aid from our General Board much longer. We need a larger Diocesan consciousness, greater sense of responsibility, and more self-sacrifice.

In this connection I urge the Convention to take the greatest possible care and thought in the elections which will occur on Thursday. The Lord's business should be carried on with the same care and thoroughness surely as any other business, and yet it has occurred that members of Boards and committees have in some cases attended but few meetings, and have shown little or no interest in the work. Think the elections over before hand, and vote intelligently. To those of you who shall be elected on any committee, accept the solemn responsibility resting on you, and give your best attention to the work expected of you. Do not let other matters interfere with your attendance at board meetings, enter fully into all discussions, express your convictions, but do not feel hurt if things are not always your way. Serve out your term, and do your duty. We have a body of faithful, hard-working loyal priests. I appreciate the work you are doing my brothers, and I thank God for the growth and good spirit in the Diocese due to your prayers and labor. Your problems are great, your stipends small; but you have the great joy of working for God and His Church, and the opportunities here are magnificent. Let us pull together lovingly, heartily and with renewed enthusiasm.

CHURCH EXTENSION—GENERAL.

The budget of the General Board of Missions this year called for $1,503,528. Of this sum Oregon is asked to give its apportionment of $3,400. Of that amount we have sent to New York to April 30th the sum of $1,415.64. The balance must be sent to the Treasurer of the General Board before August 31st. Some parishes and missions have already paid their share of the apportionment in full. These are honor congregations. Many have as yet made partial payments, and will pay balance by the end of August. Some, I regret to say, have so far paid nothing; but have taken offerings for missions, and these their treasurers should forward to Mr. Hastings at once, if only a dollar. The amount expected of Oregon by the General Board amounts to an average of 95 cents per communicant. What is raised by the Woman's Auxiliary, and by the children's Lenten Offerings will apply on the parish apportionment. In view of this assistance from the women and children, and considering the fact that the Diocese is being assessed only $500 for the Bishop's traveling expenses, instead of $1,500 for his salary as last year, the increased apportionment ought not to depress anyone. It ought to act as a spur and a challenge. It is not a doom laid upon us, as some seem to think, but a privilege offered us to help God extend His Kingdom; and every dollar of it comes back again to Oregon. We can easily raise our apportionment if we will. How? ORGANIZE. If the plan of a missionary committee in every parish and mission, the Duplex-envelope, etc., were carried out, there is no reason why the Diocese of Oregon should not meet its full duty. But it largely depends upon the clergy, and their committees. If this great obligation is brought persistently, clearly, reasonably, and persuasively to the attention of our laity they will meet it.

Like the men of Galilee, my brethren, gaze up into heaven that you may see our triumphant and Ascended Lord; and if you catch the vision you will be impelled to be earnest witnesses of Him in your own parish, your own Diocese, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL.

How can we better witness unto Christ than by making every effort to carry out His ministry of healing? This is what our Hospital stands for. I rejoice to tell you of its growth, its high standards, and its efficiency. The more financial support we get, the more paying patients we receive, the more free, or charity work, can be done.

Portland, which boasts of its high standing among the cities of the country for its bank clearings, and commercial prosperity does not begin to realize its responsibility to its hospitals. While the Good Samaritan is an institution, begun and fostered by the members of the Episcopal Church in this Diocese, and has received large and generous gifts from Church families, yet it is not narrow or sectarian. Its doors are open to all the needy sick, without regard to station, creed, or color; but the general public, while quick to use it, has been slow to support it. I would not be surprised if this were largely our own fault for we have not gone before the general public by a vigorous campaign to inform them of our work, our needs, and to solicit their contributions of money. This city is generous, if rightly approached, and I believe the time has come for larger efforts on our part to reach the general public. Last year we began the endowment of a Newsboys Cot, and our own children have given their gifts for it, but so far we have had no response either from the newsboys themselves, or from the daily newspapers for which they work. We need $5,000 for this purpose, and believe that if the city daily papers will support the movement, that sum can be realized by the end of the year. The Annual Report of the Hospital will give you details of the work and the needs. I would simply remind you of a few things. The debt on the Bishop Morris Memorial Building has been reduced to $10,000. Owing largely to the fact that the operating department has assumed part of the expense of furnishing the memorial building it has an indebtedness of about $15,000. We need a new house for orderlies and maids, thus giving more rooms for patients in the hospital. The Nurses' Training Home should be enlarged. It was built for fifty nurses, and we now have ninety-three. A new elevator, in addition to the one already in use, is sorely needed, and a maternity annex should be built in the near future.

The Board of Trustees meets monthly in the Hospital. They are greatly aided by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Hospital. Two members of this auxiliary, with one member of the Board make a careful inspection monthly, and their report is made in writing to the Trustees, who carefully and exhaustively follow up all reports, and criticisms and complaints.

Read the story in the official report of the operations successfully performed this year, the diseases cured, the wounds healed, and you will thank God for the Good Samaritan Hospital. All honor to my illustrious predecessor for his courage in establishing, and to the Churchmen of his day, for financially supporting this noble institution. It is for us, their successors, to see to it that "the barrel of meal wastes not, and that the cruse of oil does not fail."

THE BISHOP SCOTT SCHOOL.

The old Bishop Scott School property on Nineteenth street, has been leased for a long term of years, details of which will be given you in the Secretary's report. The commission paid the real estate agent for negotiating the lease will materially reduce the income for this next year, but thereafter we should be in receipt of an annual income of over $6,000. We still have 100 acres of farm land with buildings in Yamhill County. A generous offer came from Ashland, offering the old Normal School buildings and fifteen acres of land for a site for the school, and the Trustees considered carefully the advisability of selling the Yamhill Farm, accepting the Ashland offer. For various reasons they finally concluded that should the school be reopened at all it may be well to open it in a small way in or near Portland, as a School Home for orphans and destitute boys. The intention is to begin a home near some good public and high school, with a clergyman and his wife to care for the boys, and have the boys go to the public school, and in summer holidays take them to the farm at Yamhill. The working out of these details is now in the hands of a committee. Mr. Thayer had also offered sixty-five acres down the Columbia River as a site for the school. Appreciating both these generous offers the Trustees declined both with sincere thanks to the donors.

ST. HELEN'S HALL.

St. Helen's Hall has so far by God's blessing had a prosperous year. The numbers have kept up well, both in the day school and in the resident department, and the girls themselves have been for the most part those with a real desire to improve. St. Helen's Hall has to cope with the excessive desire for pleasure characteristic of our age, and the girl who comes to school only "to have a good time," has to be either converted or dismissed after fair trial. At the same time, between the excellent concerts and dramas which are presented in Portland every season, and the various school happenings, such as musicals, lantern lectures, basketball matches, school parties, etc., our girls have a number of pleasant breaks in the usual routine of school and seem to enjoy school life as girls should. In the midst of study and play and Chapel services, and teaching, we feel that character is being formed, good developed, and evil cast out.

ST. ELIZABETH'S HOUSE.

The records of the House show that 43 girls have been received during the past three years, some have remained for a year or even two and others have through one cause or another remained a few days only. Strange as it may seem, only three of these forty-three have come through the influence of the clergy. These three are still at St. Elizabeth's and are doing well. Surely some of the reverend clergy must know of girls who need to be helped. Will they not either bring or send them to St. Elizabeth's, or put the Sisters in touch with them? If the clergy do not already know about St. Elizabeth's House, will they not make inquiries about it and its lines of work, or better still, I urge you to visit the house. You will find a plain but comfortable home, containing a bright and happy set of girls who are honestly striving to be good. Help them, and the Sisters in their work for them, by your prayers and interest. I desire to express on my own behalf, and I am sure on behalf of this Convention, our hearty thanks to God for the work for Christ and His Church, which is being done in this Diocese by the eight Sisters of St. John the Baptist.

THE NEW BISHOPCROFT.

The property at the corner of Everett and 20th Street, 150 feet by 116, known as Bishopcroft, has been leased for a period of 50 years at 6 per cent on a valuation of $40,000 for the first ten years, to be increased by arbitration every ten years. No commission was paid for securing this lease, consequently the full income has been received monthly since last May. The trustees have by the rearrangement of their funds in consequence of this lease been able to build a modern, attractive, comfortable new Bishopcroft on property they already owned on the corner of 19th and Elm Streets, Portland Heights. Mr. David Lewis was the architect and Mr. Mackenzie the general contractor. The house is delightfully planned, and well built, and will be a worthy home for future Bishops with larger families. That its building was in no way a tax upon the Diocese, that no Parish, or Mission, or individual was asked for money to help in its construction, adds greatly to the pleasure of its occupants; and we further rejoice that by this rearrangement on the part of the Trustees the Parishes and Missions have been relieved of assessment for their Bishop's salary, and are now assessed for his traveling expenses only. The house chapel is a haven of rest, and a quiet place for prayer and meditation, and for such special services as the Bishop may be called upon to perform, and for our daily prayers. All the furniture, including altar, windows, silver vessels, and linen, are the gifts of personal friends to whom I am very grateful. Our desire is to make it a genial home, radiating love and sympathy, and offering a hearty welcome to all. "Peace be to this house, and to all who dwell therein."

THE HENRY R. PERCIVAL MEMORIAL LIBRARY.

A very beautiful gift, making a valuable addition to the property of the Diocese, has come to the Diocese through the generosity of Miss Catharine R. Percival, formerly of St.

Elizabeth's Parish, Philadelphia, and now of Portland. In loving memory of her brother, the late Rev. Henry R. Percival, Miss Percival has built in the rear of Bishopcroft, on property held by the Bishop, a fireproof library building of brick. It contains a well lighted and ventilated stack room with capacity for about 7,000 volumes, an office for the Bishop, Librarian, Registrar, and Archdeacon, a large store room in second story, and an ample basement. The large room is a suitable place for committee meetings, mission study classes. Miss Percival presents this Library, its furniture, and heating and lighting equipment to the Glory of God and in memory of her brother. I am sure I voice the feeling of this Convention when I thus publicly thank Miss Percival for her generosity, and her beautiful gift which will aid us in venerating her brother's saintly character. He was one of the great theologians of the American Church, pious, humble minded, loyal and a great preacher and faithful priest. May he rest in peace and may light perpetual shine upon him.

THE OREGON CHURCHMAN.

A Diocesan paper as a vehicle for Diocesan news is a part of the necessary equipment of the Diocese. Under the energetic management of Mr. Ralph Hahn it is rapidly getting on its feet financially. It is ably edited by Rev. B. G. Lee, and attractively printed by Mr. A. S. Auterson at lowest possible cost. As a medium for the dissemination of news, and of communication between the Bishop, clergy and Church members it ought to receive better support from our people than it does. It is uncontroversial in tone, definite in teaching, and gladly gives up-to-date news of leading events in the Church at large and of the Diocese in particular. The committee on publication have in view a further increase of its usefulness, by issuing certain numbers as special illustrated editions. This number for May is the Eastern Oregon number, and largely devoted to the splendid work Bishop Paddock and his clergy are doing east of the Cascade range. The September issue will deal with our Coast Missions and Southern Oregon; and other issues will be specials on behalf of our Institutions. The subscription is 50 cents per year. It ought to go into the home of every Church family, and be carefully read by all. There ought to be some members of this body who would find it to their advantage to advertize, and some of you who could secure advertisements, or direct our manager in the way of securing them. As a tabulated statement of the financial standing of every parish and Mission with regard to assessments and apportionments is printed monthly, in it I would recommend to the Convention that it subsidize the paper to the amount of $50 or $60 per year.

THE SOCIAL WITNESS OF THE CHURCH TO CHRIST.

The saving of the individual soul, the making strong our Parishes and Missions, the extending of the Church in this Diocese is only part of the witness we must bear to Christ. The Church has a social message. Three years ago I appointed a Social Service Committee, and at each Convention since then that committee has given us clear and forceful reports. Such interest was awakened in the community that the Mayor appointed a Vice Committee of fifteen, and made our Chairman the chairman of his committee. Their first report has been published. Recently the Grand Jury has handed in its report, and it has been circulated in printed form. It is a startling exposé of awful conditions in this city. The recommendation of the Vice Commission is being supplemented by the work of the Social Hygienic Association of Portland, whose publications are being produced under the auspices of the State Board of Health. What is going to be done officially with these reports? Do you not care? Has Portland no conscience? Has it no civic pride? Is its conscience so dead as to let it rest in its filth? Loathsome diseases of the body, soul destroying pestilences are spreading and all the while the inert public regards as inevitable the things that are largely preventable. Where is the city's conscience? Where is the Church's conscience? The Church must witness to Christ by making an effort to awaken the public conscience. The city and the nation look to the Church. The Church must furnish example, inspiration and conviction. May God give us courage to bear such social witness, and to preach the eternal gospel that Righteousness exalteth a nation, and that Sin is a reproach to any people.

A WORD TO WARDENS, VESTRYMEN AND TREASURERS.

With all my heart I wish to thank the Wardens and Vestrymen of our Parishes, and the official Committees in our Missions for the faithful and effective service you are rendering as a whole to the Church in this Diocese. Great responsibilities rest upon you. Yours is chiefly a ministry of administration, a care of property, a building up of the temporalities of the Parish or Mission to which you belong. In admonishing you at this time I would try with God's help to elevate your duty to a high spiritual plane. Oh that each and every one of you might catch the vision of the Church as the Body of Christ, as the extension of His Life in the world, and that you are in a large measure responsible for the extension of His Life first of all in the circle of your parish, then in your Diocese, and then in all the world. Your work is not commonplace, or secular. The office is not honorary or a sinecure. The office is what the man makes it. You are stewards, and it is required of stewards that they be found faithful. The Lord's business should be carried on with as great care and thoroughness as your own business. To keep accounts, to attend vestry meetings, to care for the fabric, to welcome strangers, to pay bills promptly, to see that your parish is solvent financially, to advise the rector, and to do all this as for the Lord is a sweet privilege as well as a solemn duty. I lovingly counsel you to regard your election or appointment to office from this high point of view and to fulfill your duty with scrupulous conscientiousness.

It has happened in some places that bonded sewer assessments, and instalment payments for street improvements have been allowed to lapse so that it became necessary to pay them in full; and lots have been sold for taxes and have had to be redeemed all because Wardens and Vestrymen have failed to be careful about the business end of their Parish. It is not uncommon for the loose offerings, so called, to receive no check or audit whatever. Sometimes they are carried to the Treasurer by this or that or the other person who may happen to be on hand. Worse still, they are occasionally left for some time in the alms-basin in the vestry or choir room with no one to look after them. All this is loose-jointed and discreditable. It is not a question of the loss of sacred funds, but it is a question of protecting the Church, the Vestry, the Treasurer from attack where no defense could be forthcoming. Slipshod and haphazard methods in Church affairs are a reproach to the Church and nerve-racking to every upright man. Bishop Potter once brought this matter before his Diocesan convention, and later on before the General Convention, and proposed the following canon:

"The amount of other offerings received in connection with any service in any Church or Chapel shall be ascertained by the wardens, or two vestrymen, or two other persons appointed by the Rector and Wardens for that purpose."

The Diocese of Chicago adopted the following resolution:

"That arrangements be made to have two persons count the collections received at all services. We would also remind the treasurers that they should insist on this plan as a precaution to save themselves from the evil gossip of suspicious persons."

After preaching in some twenty parishes in England, in every single case I met the two Wardens in the vestry room at the close of service, who counted the offering, recorded it in a book, placing their initials after the item.

Speaking generally, treasurers of our congregations handle two kinds of funds:

First, those that are contributed in various ways for the maintenance of the parish.

Second, the contributions made through the parish, but not to it for various specified objects.

The funds belonging to the first class should be paid on order of the Vestry or Finance Committee. In some cases the Treasurer acts under a blanket resolution to pay certain bills regularly without further reference to the vestry. In some cases the Treasurer receives his authorization from meeting to meeting. But in some cases alas: the treasurers present no monthly statement, receive no O. K. on bills to be paid, and use their own wide discretion as to what will be paid and when and how. In such cases both vestry and congregation are apt to be in ignorance of financial conditions. There have been instances where the clergyman's salary was in arrears, where insurance premiums were overdue, taxes unpaid, fuel bills unpaid, and all the while the vestry was in inexcusable ignorance. Fortunately these instances have been few and far between, but they should never occur.

The funds belonging to the second-class are contributions for extra-parochial purposes, e. g., Diocesan and General Missions, and require less formal treatment. These, says Bishop Anderson in a Letter to Treasurers of Chicago,

"work automatically. They are contributed through the Parish, not to it."* The treasurer is the obliging medium through whom such moneys pass to their designated destination. Treasurers should not use their own procrastinated convenience in passing on what does not belong to them to where it does belong. The last issue of The Living Church reports that hundreds of dollars raised by children in their Lenten Offering are still held back by parish treasurers. I trust this is true of no Parish or Mission in Oregon.

When I was a member of the Convention of the Diocese of Chicago the question came up repeatedly as to whether Church Treasurers should be bonded. The question was not raised because of any feeling of insecurity about the funds of the Church. The underlying motive was the protection of the Treasurer's good name and the Church's business reputation. The Convention of the Diocese of Chicago in 1908 concurred in the following recommendation of its committee on finance:

"That all Parishes and Missions take steps to bond their treasurers. Especially would we suggest that the treasurers themselves urge that this be done for their own protection."

I realize the unwisdom of being dogmatic and saying that every treasurer ought to do precisely so and so. I do not presume to tell you how to manage the business end of your parish or Mission or how to keep books. You are capable business men, and know how to do all this or you would not have been elected to office, and you are more familiar with business methods than I am. Circumstances alter cases, and one system in one place might not do in another. But there is such a thing as a right and a wrong way. Let us conduct our religion on business principles, and our business on religious principles. It is the Lord's business. It is the Lord's money. Do your work with loving care, with your best skill, in the best way it can be done. You are serving the Divine Master. You are extending His Life in the world.

A CLOSING WORD TO WITNESS BEARERS.

A few words in closing to you, my brothers in the ministry, my loyal, faithful clergy. You do not expect or desire my thanks for duty faithfully done. God gives you your rich reward. I do appreciate every effort you have made in witnessing to God by working for the upbuilding of His Church which is His Body. In living close to God we shall be standing shoulder to shoulder for His Church, and we shall learn of Him how to exercise our ministry. Remember Christ gathered His Apostles into companionship with Himself before He gave them commission to go forth. He restrained men who were eager to preach an incomplete Gospel. No apparent urgency of work may lawfully divert or withhold us from these devotions and studies that deepen our association with our Lord. We must be constantly with Him, since we have to go forth from Him, and witness to Him. Activity and zeal have place in the Christian ministry, but its main characteristics is "the Spirit of Christ;" and this can be ours only through prayer, and meditation, and discipline, and sacrament. Spiritual character is the effective force of Christian witness bearing.

*See letter to Treasurer by Bishop of Chicago.

Sometimes I think the diaconate has ceased, and that it has passed over into the episcopate for the modern bishop has so much "serving of tables" to occupy him. Pray for your Bishop that he may have a wise and understanding heart, that he "may be to the flock of God a shepherd."

Let us all realize the momentousness of our calling and vocation. The work of Christ is in our hands. He Himself has declared this in plain terms, "All authority is given unto Me in heaven and in earth, go ye therefore into all the world." Every act of authorized ministry has that sanction and support. We must know how much has been put into our hands. It is a strange mystery that so much of divine blessing and eternal happiness for so many people must, humanly speaking, depend upon the view that one man takes of his ministry. The pilot that mistakes his course, the doctor or dispenser that by loss of memory mixes his poisons with his drugs, the officer that misunderstands his commander's orders in a crisis of battle, can work no such havoc as a parish priest who misreads his commission, or misknows his responsibility. It is wonderful that God should have put the heavenly treasure into earthen vessels; let us not count the treasure earthen because He has condescended so greatly.* As the Father sent the Son, so the Son has sent us; our ministry is His, and what we do is His deed.

*See Retreat Address," by the Rev. John Wakeford.

Let us remind ourselves constantly that the Church might live without preaching, but could not live without prayer for a single day; let us make full proof of our ministry as intercessors. It is our blessed privilege to stand before God in the name of our people, to invoke His blessing on their souls and bodies, their homes and goods, their employments and interests. Job rose up early in the morning and offered burnt offerings for his seven sons; for said Job, "It may be that my sons have sinned and forsaken God in their hearts, and this did Job continually" (Job 1:5). We in our apostolate must have such thought for our people and pray for them even though they may not pray for us. We in our ministry plead Christ for our people in union with His constant intercession. If we are not surrounded by large congregations, or many parishioners, is it not far better that we are identified with the One? If our ministry is unpopular, is it not better that it is effective and acceptable with God? We shall gather from our prayers incentives and inspirations for witness bearing, we shall gain for our people helps and blessings we could secure for them in no other way, and we shall keep astir the spiritual influences which bind our flock to the heart of the Father.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE.

To the Bishop and Members of the Diocesan Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Your Standing Committee has held six meetings during the year.

The Committee organized at its first meeting by the election of Rev. H. M. Ramsey as President and Horace D. Ramsdell, Secretary.

Consent was given to the ordination of three Bishops, three Bishop Coadjutors and two Suffragan Bishops. Consent was granted to one parish to renew a mortgage on its property, and has acted on numerous questions and communications from the Bishop and parishes.

HORACE D. RAMSDELL,
Secretary.

IV.

REPORT OF AUDITING COMMITTEE.

To the Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Your Auditing Committee begs to report that acting under resolution on page 58 of Journal of 1911, they employed Mr. Alex C. Rae, a public accountant, to audit the accounts of the Board of Hospital Trustees, the Board of School Trustees, the Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall and the Board of Trustees of the Episcopal Fund; and we herewith submit his bill amounting to $205.00, and ask that the payment be provided by the Boards interested.

A.

The accounts of Mr. R. W. Hastings, Treasurer of the Diocese, have been examined, checked with the vouchers and found correct.

B.

The accounts of Mr. Hastings as Treasurer of the Bishop Morris Jubilee Fund, Convention Fund, and Board of Church Extension have been examined, compared with vouchers and found correct.

C.

The accounts of Dr. Josephi, Treasurer of the Board of Hospital Trustees, and statement of securities and investments up to March 31, 1912, have been examined by Mr. Rae and endorsed correct.

The general accounts of the Good Samaritan Hospital have been also examined and reported by him to be in a very satisfactory condition and correct.

Your Committee notes that this is the only Board which has fully complied with the recommendations heretofore made, and we understand the Board to be well satisfied with the change.

D.

The accounts of the Treasurer of the Board of School Trustees have been audited by Mr. Rae and found correct, but we would call attention to his recommendations that a proper balance sheet should be included in the report, showing assets and liabilities.

E.

The accounts of the Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall have been found by the accountant correct and endorsed accordingly. He recommends that a proper balance sheet, showing assets and liabilities, should be included. The statement of the Treasurer should be more explicit as to receipts and expenditures, stating their nature in addition to the amounts.

He also examined the accounts of St. Helen's Hall and found them correct, but reports the present system cumbersome and insufficient for the needs of the School.

F.

With reference to the Board of Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, the accountant reports the book of account, vouchers and securities to be in order and in accordance with the report of the Secretary Treasurer.

It seems useless to repeat the recommendations made year by year as to the manner in which the principal account is kept, which have never been carried out by the Board.

Mr. Rae's report and recommendations are attached and we concur in same and recommend their adoption by all the Boards interested.

JAMES LAIDLAW,
WILLIAM C. ALVORD,
J. C. ROBINSON.

Auditing Committee.

James Laidlaw, Esq., Portland, Ore.:

Dear Sir: As requested by you, I have examined the Superintendent's and Treasurer's books of account of the Good Samaritan Hospital; the books of account of the Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall and the Board of School Trustees; the statement of receipts and disbursements of the Sister Superior of St. Helen's Hall and also the books of account of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the Episcopal Fund and have attached my certificate to the reports submitted by the various officers enclosed herewith.

GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL.

Superintendent's Books.

I found the Books of the Superintendent to be correct and the records to be in a very satisfactory condition. The prices paid for some of the supplies appear to me to be somewhat high and I think a saving could possibly be effected by keeping a close watch on the wholesale market prices. It might also be well to consider the advisability of having one central heating plant for the whole of the hospital buildings with a view of reducing the fuel expense.

Treasurer's Books.

The books of the Treasurer were found to be in a very satisfactory condition and all cash receipts and disbursements regularly accounted for. The securities referred to were also examined and found correct.

ST. HELEN'S HALL.

The report of the Sister Superior to April 30, 1912, were examined and found to be in order, but a number of vouchers have yet to be produced. The present system of keeping the accounts is cumbersome and insufficient for the needs of the school.

BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES OF ST. HELEN'S HALL.

The books of account, vouchers and securities of the Secretary were found to be in order and in accordance with his report. I would suggest that a proper balance sheet be included in his report showing a complete statement of all assets and liabilities.

BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

The books of account and vouchers were found to be correct and in accordance with his report. I suggest here also that a proper balance sheet be included as a part of his report.

Two of the properties referred to on his previous list of real property do not occur in this year's reports and I understand that these properties have been reconveyed.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES EPISCOPAL FUND.

The book of account, vouchers and securities were found to be in order and in accordance with the report of the Secretary-Treasurer. The real estate belonging to the Board has been included in this year's "principal account," as recommended by the Auditing Committee in 1910 report, but is placed at a nominal value. The episcopal residence is the cost price of the building. The adopted recommendations of the Committee on Report of this fund regarding O. W. P. and C. & S. bonds and note of Disabled Clergy Fund of $1,500 have not been given effect to.

General Remarks.

Every facility was afforded the Auditor to make a thorough examination of the books and accounts and all questions asked were satisfactorily answered and I am of the opinion that care and attention is being given by the various officers and treasurers to the affairs entrusted to them. It is necessary, however, that adequate records be kept of all assets and liabilities of the various funds and I recommend that each treasurer be instructed to keep a ledger in which to perpetually record the intromissions of the various funds and accounts under his management.

It is also desirable that a fixed date be set for closing the yearly accounts at which date all accounts should be closed and the Treasurer should then report on the income and expenditure and the assets and liabilities for the year as well as produce a statement of the securities.

It would be undesirable to change the date for closing the books of St. Helen's Hall as they should be closed at the end of the school year, but the books of other funds should all be regularly closed at the date designated.

Yours very truly,

ALEX C. RAE,

Accountant and Auditor.

V.REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The Board of Missions of the Diocese of Oregon has held eleven meetings since the last Convention with an average attendance of six out of seven clerical and five out of eight lay members.

We have to report that during the year there has been adopted a carefully considered set of by-laws which will go into effect under the incoming Board. We feel that these by-laws, properly observed, will materially increase the efficiency of this Board.

As usual, there have been changes in the missionary staff of the Diocese, and while we regret the absence of those who have gone, we shall not on that account be deterred from rejoicing over those who have come to lend a hand in the fight for the Cross. The vacancy at Ashland was filled by the transfer of the Rev. William Lucas from Medford. The new clergy are the Rev. E. H. Clark at the Church of Our Savior, Woodstock; the Rev. W. L. Johnson at Holy Innocents, Astoria, who also has charge of other missions in Clatsop County, and the Rev. Joseph Sheerin at St. Mark's, Medford. Since the last report of this Board, St. Andrew's, Portsmouth, and St. Michael's, Rossmere, which at that time had resident pastors, have become vacant. The Mission at McMinnville is still, or again, without a clergyman.

Owing to conditions which appeared to warrant the change, consent has been given for the sale of the property of St. Matthews Mission, Portland, and that the work will be continued at a point farther south where property will be purchased and buildings erected. It is thought that this change of surroundings will be beneficial to the mission.

With the hope that it may interest the Convention, we present some figures from the report of our treasurer. During the eleven months past we have received from all sources for the maintenance of the work $14,489.67 and have disbursed $13,770.88, leaving a balance of $718.79, with total liabilities May 1st of $457. The receipts of the Board were derived chiefly from the Missions themselves, the apportionment on congregations for Diocesan Missions, the allowance from the General Board and the allowance from funds in the hands of the Bishop of the Diocese. It is a cause for thankfulness that our income has been sufficient.

The chief items of expenditure are the stipends, traveling expenses, and house rent of the missionaries. During the past year twenty clergymen have received their salaries in whole or in part from the income of the Board. The scope of the work may be briefly indicated by stating that these missionaries have ministered to some thirty-five congregations by regular or occasional services.

It is a distinct cause for encouragement that, notwithstanding the irregularity of the Diocesan year, the apportionment for Diocesan Missions brought in $2736.05, an increase of 35 per cent over the preceding year, and, probably, the largest amount contributed for extension of the Gospel in this Diocese in its history. It may be a fair inference from this increase that there are more people interested in the growth of the Church and interested in a practical way. If the whole truth may, occasionally, at any rate, be told, there was still due on May 1st on Diocesan apportionments $990.33 from twenty-two parishes and Missions and of that number eighteen do or, until recently have received assistance from the funds of the Board. Your committee positively refuses to draw any inference from this bewildering fact.

We regret to state that the receipts from the pledges of the Missions show a slight decrease during the year past. On May 1st there was due the treasurer from this source more than one thousand dollars.

Taught by our sad experience of last year this committee will make only one recommendation to the Convention. We propose to the consideration of this body the advisability of enacting a canon which will require the bonding of all treasurers of the Diocese.

For the Board:

H. M. RAMSEY,
BARR G. LEE.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE EPISCOPAL FUND.

The Trustees have no change to report in the amount of the principal of the fund during the year.

The estimated value of real property held by the Board, in addition to the principal, is as follows:

Lot 8, Block 161, Caruthers Addition.....	$ 3,600.00
The W. ½ of Lot 9, Lots 12, 13, 17 and 18, the South 16 feet of West 30 feet Lot 14, and the South 16 feet of Lot 16, Block 275, Couch Addition.....	60,000.00
	$63,600.00

Referring to the Report of the Committee on report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund appearing in the Journals 1910 and 1911 recommending that certain items should be written off, the Board is of the opinion that the funds committed to its care being held in trust should be accounted for from year to year as hitherto. In this manner, which items should or should not be written off need never be considered, and in addition the manipulation of accounts is thereby rendered more difficult.

In conformity with the resolution appearing on page 45 of Journal 1909, the Trustees have increased the stipend of the Bishop to four thousand dollars per annum, such increase to date from May 31, 1911.

The new episcopal residence is now completed and occupied. The Trustees here desire to place on record their appreciation of the services rendered by Mr. D. C. Lewis, the architect, and of the faithful manner in which all work in and upon the building was done by the various contractors.

Secretary.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE HOSPITAL BOARD.

To the Twenty-fourth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Gentlemen: The Board of Hospital Trustees of the Diocese of Oregon hereby submits the following report.

It is most gratifying to be able to report that the Good Samaritan Hospital has had a most satisfactory year as the reports show.

This is in a very large measure due to the fact of the active co-operation and harmony that exists between the Board and the management. Monthly meetings of the Board and monthly inspections by committees of the Board and of the Auxiliary to the Board of Trustees are proving strong factors in promoting greater efficiency in the administration of the affairs of the Hospital.

To the Auxiliary to the Board great credit is justly due for the large and growing number of friends that are becoming more and more interested in the Hospital and its many needs.

Acting upon the advice given by the Auditor last year the Board, as soon as practicable, adopted and carried out the suggestions relative to the changes in the system of bookkeeping.

It is with pleasure we desire to acknowledge the gift of $500 from Mr. J. N. Teal to be used in any way the Board saw fit. In order to simplify matters of endowment funds, the Board thought it wise to consolidate some of the smaller funds with the above named gift and have therefore put into one fund the following:

The J. N. Teal donation.....	$ 500.00
The Lotta S. Short fund.....	90.63
The King Oscar II Jubilee Fund.....	112.79
The Mothers' Bed Fund (Lamson).....	384.51
The Mothers' Bed Fund (McGill).....	200.00
Total	$1,287.93

Making of the whole one fund to be known as "The Mothers' Bed Endowment Fund," said fund to be completed when the total amount reaches $5000.

As far as possible those instrumental in starting these given their consent to the action of the Board.

In the year 1891, by the authority and direction of the then Convention, a sinking fund was created by setting separate funds have been communicated with and have gladly aside a percentage of the incomes of cottages that represents certain bed funds. This has been regularly continued and now with the accrued interests the sinking fund amounts to $10,000. Believing that the object of the said Convention has been complied with, the Trustees respectfully ask that they be relieved by this Convention of adding still further to this fund as hitherto. However, it is the intention of the Trustees to keep invested this $10,000 and add to it yearly all interests that may accrue until the sinking fund equals the amounts of the original endowments.

Accompanying this report the statement of the Treasurer is hereby submitted. The Treasurer's statement is for the period of twelve months ending March 31, 1912. This is because of the impossibility of carrying out the wishes of the convention by having the year end on April 30. As the time is altogether too short between the close of the Diocesan year (April 30) and the date of the Convention (May 14) to allow for the closing of the books and the proper auditing of the same. The retiring Trustees are the Rev. John Dawson and Mr. R. L. Glisan.

Presented in behalf of the Board:

JOHN DAWSON,
Secretary.

VIII.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE BISHOP SCOTT SCHOOL BOARD.

For the eleven months ending April 30, 1912.

To the Twenty-fourth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The board of school trustees hereby submits to the Convention its report for the fiscal period ending April 30, 1912, with the following statements attached:

Report of treasurer.

List of real property.

During the past year the board has paid the balance of the indebtedness to the Spencer library fund, amounting to $989.95, and has paid on account of the indebtedness to the Doane scholarship the sum of $548.06 leaving the entire indebtedness from this board to the scholarship funds, held by the board of trustees of St. Helen's Hall, $900.00.

In the report of this board to the last annual Convention reference was made to arrangements that were then under way for a ground lease covering Bishop Scott Academy property, now occupied by Glendora Hotel. These arrangements were finally consummated on November 15, 1911, and a lease was entered into upon that date for a period of fifty years, from which lease the board is to receive annually as rental during each of the first and second years of said term the sum of $3750.00; during the next eight years the sum of $7500.00; during the next ten years the sum of $10,500.00; during the next ten years the sum of $13,500.00; during the next ten years the sum of $16,500.00, and during the last ten years of such fifty-year term the sum of $19,500.00 per year, all of such sums to be net to the board of school trustees, the lessee to assume and pay all taxes and publish charges of any character whatever.

The board feels that this is a most satisfactory transaction and that by its consummation there is assured a fixed, permanent and constantly increasing income by means of which the objects and purposes of the board may be carried into effect.

The matter of the reopening of Bishop Scott Academy has very seriously occupied the attention of the board. Preliminary negotiations were inaugurated looking toward the employment of a rector and principal of the school, but no satisfactory result has been reached. Since the first of February, 1912, a very exhaustive investigation has been made, by all the members of the board, through correspondence and by personal visit of the Bishop and four other members of the board, of an offer made by Ashland Commercial Club and citizens of Ashland, to secure the donation to the board of the site of the former state institution known as The Ashland Normal School. The proposition as finally submitted included the transfer of, approximately, 15½ acres of land, about a mile from the center of Ashland, on which are situate two large buildings and a number of smaller buildings formerly occupied by the normal school. The offer was a very generous one and the board was particularly impressed by the enthusiastic support of the proposition and the courtesy shown to the members of the board by the committee of the Ashland Commercial Club and the citizens of Ashland.

There were some serious questions as to the desirability of location, particularly, in view of its remoteness from the see city of the diocese. Further consideration of this matter was finally eliminated by the adoption of a resolution at the last meeting of this board, held on Wednesday, April 24, 1912, by which the board definitely committed itself to a policy and a plan of future operations which would be entirely incompatible with the proposed site at Ashland or with the re-establishment of a school for boys along the lines heretofore considered by the board. The resolution was as follows:

"Resolved, That this board hereby adopts as its settled policy and plan of operations, the establishment of church homes for boys, availing itself, so far as secular education is concerned of the facilities offered by the public school system of the State of Oregon, and supplementing such secular education with Christian home influences, and that the efforts of the board be devoted, primarily but not exclusively, to the establishment of such homes for worthy destitute boys in the city of Portland and other centers of population in the diocese; that the farm owned by the board in Yamhill county be operated in the interest of such homes as shall be established, and to be used during the summer months as a summer country school for the inmates of such homes."

The board respectfully submits this resolution and the plan of operations therein outlined as a fit and proper work to be undertaken by the board and to receive the sanction and approval of this Convention.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN K. KOLLOCK,
Secretary.

IX.REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE ST. HELEN'S HALL SCHOOL BOARD.

To the Twenty-fourth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The board of trustees of St. Helen's Hall hereby submits to the Convention its report for the eleven months ending April 30, 1912, with the following statements attached:

Summary of receipts and disbursements.

Summary of assets and liabilities.

Report of Sister Superior of St. Helen's Hall.

All the scholarships and the Potter professorship are self-sustaining and invested in first mortgages on improved property in the city of Portland, drawing interest at from six to eight per cent per annum, with the exception of $900.00 still owing from the board of school trustees to this board as trustees for the Doane scholarship, which is represented by promissory note drawing interest at six per cent per annum.

Referring to a resolution introduced at the last Convention, "That the board of trustees of St. Helen's Hall and that of the school board be separate and distinct bodies; also that as soon as possible the funds of the two boards be segregated," the board would respectfully call to the attention of the Convention the fact that the boards have been absolutely separate and distinct bodies since June 1, 1909, and that all funds of the two boards have been segregated since that date. The only point at which the two boards come in contact, from a financial view, is the promissory note of $900.00, referred to in the preceding paragraph.

The report of the Sister Superior which is hereto attached shows a most gratifying condition as to finances, attendance and educational results. With each year of operation the conviction of the board of trustees has been strengthened that the Diocese of Oregon is to be congratulated on the fact that its school for girls has been placed under the very capable management of the Sisters of St. John the Baptist.

To one phase of the financial reports which are attached the board desires to call especial attention.

At the time of the organization of the board of trustees of St. Helen's Hall, in accordance with the resolution adopted by the Convention of 1906, and the segregation of the funds formerly held by the board of school trustees, the property in the custody of this board, for the maintenance of St. Helen's Hall, consisted of five scholarship funds, the Potter professorship and the Spencer library fund, the income of which was specifically appropriated to the maintenance of five scholarships at St. Helen's Hall, the maintenance of a chaplain, and the maintenance and support of the Spencer library; block 3, Johnson's Addition to the city of Portland, the site of St. Helen's Hall, and a few scattered lots from which no income was derived. There was no general endowment to cover the expenses incidental to the owning of such property and the investment of the funds.

The secretary has, therefore, been compelled to carry on his books under the heading "General Fund" all miscellaneous disbursements such as taxes, street improvements and the improvement of property in Willalatin Park acquired two years ago as a possible future site for St. Helen's Hall, and that account is now represented by a deficit of $1171.29, having increased during the past year from $400.15, the items of disbursement during the year which have produced this deficit being, respectively taxes and street improvements, $267.42; improvement of Willalatin Park, $466.22, and miscellaneous expense, $37.50, or a total of $771.14.

These are accounts which cannot properly be cared for as a part of the operating expenses of the school. Payment of insurance on the buildings and the ground rent of the gymnasium has been assumed by the Sister Superior, but these charges should properly be carried by a general endowment.

With the increased attendance at the hall comes an increased demand for improvements and betterments, and your board of trustees has no funds to meet such requirements. A committee of the board has been appointed by the Bishop to co-operate with the Sister Superior and the alumnae of the hall in an earnest effort toward the establishment of a general endowment fund. The aid and support of the Convention and the diocese in this endeavor is earnestly solicited.

JOHN K. KOLLOCK,
Secretary.

St. Helen's Hall has had during the year 1911-12, an enrollment of 210 pupils. Of these 60 have been resident pupils, 150 day pupils.

By Departments.

127 in the Academic Department.

83 in the Elementary Department.

210

The school year 1911-1912 has so far been greatly blessed. The resident department opened in September with our full number, 52, and several were refused for lack of room. After Christmas, there were, as usual, some withdrawals for various reasons, illness at home, change of family plans, etc., but new pupils came in so that the number through the season has kept up to 46 or 47. Also we are glad to state that the girls whom we have had this winter are generally such as can use profitably the advantages the hall offers.

The day school has kept up very well though we have room for a few more children in the elementary department.

The graduating class this year numbers 16, of whom 6 will probably go to college, and several of the others will specialize in music or art.

On the spiritual side we are thankful to record 8 baptisms, and 16 confirmations. Of those baptized and confirmed 8 were day scholars. Our rule is always to advise our day pupils to seek the sacraments at their parish church if they have one; but many of our girls come to us either quite heathen or perhaps having moved to Portland but not connected themselves with any parish. In such cases we try to secure their baptism, confirmation, and first communion, here, where we can so easily have them prepared and then pass them on to the parish Church most convenient for them to attend.

We desire to close with an expression of thankfulness to God for His Fatherly Hand which has indeed been over us and under Him to our many helpers, to our Bishop for his unfailing interest, our chaplain for his generous devotion to the spiritual good of the household, to the members of the board and to our friend and physician, Dr. Holt Wilson.

To the Convention:

That the Mission at Oakland under the name of Saint Clement's, having complied with the canons of the Diocese, and having been reported favorable by the Bishop;

And also the Mission at Sutherlin, under the name of the Church of the Holy Spirit, having complied with the canons of the Diocese, and having been reported favorably by the Bishop:

Recommend that the said Missions be admitted as organized Missions.

XI.REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE.

Your Social Service Committee appointed by the Bishop at the last or Twenty-third Annual Convention of the Church, beg leave to submit the following report:

During the year there have been held eleven (11) meetings with a full attendance of the Committee at all the meetings with one or two exceptions. The subjects and matters discussed during the year were as follows:

1. The Vice Commission.
2. A rest and lunch room for the working girls in the north end of the city.
3. Distribution of a Social Service Programme throughout the various parishes of the Diocese.
4. Proper rooming accommodations for needy girls.

Your Committee feels that if they had done nothing more than secure the appointment of a Vice Commission for the City of Portland they would have accomplished a good work. By and through the efforts of your Committee this Vice Commission was appointed by the Mayor on the 29th day of August, 1911, under and by virtue of the following ordinance prepared under the supervision of the Social Service Committee:

An ordinance appointing a Committee for the purpose of inquiring, within the limits of the City of Portland, with reference to vice in its various forms.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY OF PORTLAND:

Section 1. That there shall be and hereby is created a Commission to be known as the Vice Commission, which shall constitute fifteen (15) persons. The Mayor shall appoint a Chairman of the Commission from among its members. The Chairman of the Commission shall call meetings of the Commission whenever he may see fit and whenever he shall be requested in writing so to do by any five members of the Commission.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the Vice Commission to inquire into the conditions within the limits of the city with reference to vice of various forms, including all practices which are debasing and degrading and which affect the moral and physical welfare of the inhabitants of the city.

Section 3. The Commission shall from time to time transmit to the Mayor and the City Council a written report of existing conditions as it may find them respecting vice, with such recommendations as it shall deem advisable for the suppression thereof, and said Commission shall, upon request, either of the Mayor or the City Council, immediately prepare and transmit a report of existing conditions as said Commission may find them.

Section 4. That there be and hereby is appropriated from the general fund the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) for the payment of the necessary expenses of the Vice Commission to be paid out by the Auditor upon the written order of the Chairman of the Commission.

Section 5. Said Vice Commission shall have full power and authority to employ such assistant or assistants as it may deem necessary for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 6. The Chairman of said Vice Commission or any officer or agent designated or appointed by said Vice Commission shall have full power to compel the attendance and testimony of witnesses, to administer oaths, and to examine such persons as it may deem necessary, and to compel the production of books, documents or other records.

Section 7. Wilful or false swearing by any witness called before said Commission or any of its officers or agents for examination shall be perjury, and punishable as such under the laws of the State of Oregon.

Rev. H. R. Talbot of this Committee was made head of the Vice Commission and we herewith incorporate a report made by Rev. Mr. Talbot to this Committee, showing the work accomplished by the Vice Commission:

In the last report of the Social Service Committee of the Diocese of Oregon attention was called to the effective work a Vice Commission in the City of Portland might accomplish for the municipality by way of a survey and analysis of immoral conditions in the city, as a preliminary to some constructive method of handling such problems.

The Social Service Committee was directed to petition the city authorities to that end. The legal member of the Committee drew up an Ordinance framed somewhat on the lines of that creating the Chicago Vice Commission; the various members of the Committee interviewed the Mayor and each member of the Council, and on August 29, 1911, the Ordinance was passed, the Council later appropriating fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) for its use, and in the beginning of the new year a further three thousand dollars ($3,000). On September 22 the Mayor appointed the fifteen members of the Commission, as follows:

Rev. H. R. Talbot, Chairman.

Rev. H. J. McDevitt, Rector of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception.

Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, Congregation Beth Israel.

Rev. D. H. Trimble, Pastor of the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church.

Rev. H. M. Patton.

Dr. Margaret Quigley.

Mrs. A. E. Rockey.

Dr. S. A. Brown.

Mr. H. H. Herdman, Principal Washington High School.

Hon. W. M. Gatens, Judge of the Juvenile Court.

Mr. W. P. Gardner, Superintendent Boys' and Girls' Aid Society.

L. L. Levings, Superintendent Western Detective Bureau.

Mr. W. G. MacLaren, Superintendent of the Portland Commons.

Mrs. L. W. Sitton, Ex-School Director.

Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin, Superintendent of Public Safety,
Y. W. C. A.

Since that time six members of the Commission have resigned owing to the pressure of the work, their places being taken by Capt. W. S. Biddle; Mr. A. E. Wood, of the Reed Institute; Mr. J. H. Stephenson, attorney; Mr. George A. Thatcher; Mr. E. O. Sawyer, Jr., and Mr. D. F. Morrison, editorial writer of The Evening Telegram.

The method of procedure of the Commission has been as follows:

The various aspects of the problem have been assigned to the Committees which are at present as follows: The medical, juvenile, commercial, economic and legal aspect. Each week the whole Commission meets to consider reports from the various Committees and to determine questions of general policy. It is the plan of the Commission to render its reports and recommendations as each completes its particular survey instead of waiting until the whole field of investigation is covered and occasionally, as opportunity offers, or some particular matter presents itself which the Commission finds it has data on to offer recommendations based on such data. For example, in February, 1912, the Commission found as a result of one of its investigations that the curfew law having fallen into a state of innocuous desuetude, on two nights in February one investigator observed 1215 boys and girls under the age of 17 on the streets and unaccompanied, between the hours of 8 and 12 P. M. Working in unofficial but harmonious conjunction with other civic bodies, the Commission recommended the appointment of a special curfew squad of ten policemen who, in sixty days, warned off the streets after 9 o'clock 2,000 children unaccompanied by elders, 223 being made subject to report to headquarters.

Again, in view of delay and opposition to a much needed measure forbidding the employment of women and girls in shooting galleries, the Commission was able to furnish the Council such a substantial array of data in the matter that the measure was forthwith passed by the Council.

But one aspect of the problem has been reported on in full, that of the medical aspect. From a most careful and conservative survey the Commission brings certain facts and recommendations to the public. The data on which the findings rest are as follows:

1. Consultation with genito urinary specialists.
2. A questionnaire sent to all the regularly licensed and practicing physicians and surgeons in the city.
3. A questionnaire to the principals of the schools in the city and school doctors and school nurses.
4. A questionnaire to the Juvenile Court and other institutions dealing with children.
5. An investigation of the conditions and methods which obtain in the public institutions and hospitals in the city.
6. An examination of conditions in other municipalities.
7. A questionnaire addressed to 1000 persons.

From the information thus collected certain features are emphasized:

1. The presence of venereal diseases in the city, being 21 per cent of all diseases treated.

Attention is called both to the serious and insidious nature of the disease affecting, as it does, not only the physical but moral condition of the patient, the family and the community, as well as the individual, and to the conservative character of the sources from which the data is known. Quacks, medical institutes, public institutions could furnish additional data which would increase the percentage very considerably, as many persons so afflicted ignorantly or shame-facedly avoid a proper treatment.

2. Attention is especially directed to the fact that the public makes no corporate attempt to protect itself or its citizens from a disease which is essentially social in character, although 70 out of the 128 doctors agree that venereal diseases should be made reportable. The nub of the recommendations of the Commission in this matter is the need of publicity, of education in proper sex relations and the creation of a public opinion, which, instead of regarding the disease as a private matter, should hold it as a public menace, one which, instead of being ashamed of and not fearing, the public should not be ashamed of, but fear.

The recommendations of the Commission in this matter are now in the hands of the Council pending action and this Committee expresses a hope that the members of this Convention will bring such pressure to bear on the officials as shall tend to formulate these recommendations into some specific legislation, or, at any rate, in some definite way looking toward the formation of the more intelligent public opinion in the matter.

The point of contact between the work of this Commission and the function of the Church in the community must be clear to any man with a social conscience who has gone to school to the Master of the World, namely, the proffer of a motive which shall withstand and overcome the attacks of temptation that no amount of knowledge is likely to combat successfully alone.

(Signed) HENRY RUSSELL TALBOT.

Your Committee being made aware of the great success in other cities of a rest and lunch room for working girls in laundries, factories, wholesale houses, cigar factories and kindred employments paying small wages, deemed that such an institution to care for the needs of girls working in similar institutions in Portland would be a good work and made some investigation of this matter. Mr. Talbot and Mr. Dawson of this Committee made personal investigation of the factories, laundries, wholesale houses and other institutions employing girls in the north end of the city, and reported that, in their judgment, a rest and lunch room would do much good and would be much appreciated.

Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Hahn were thereupon appointed as a sub-committee to look up a suitable location and ascertain whether or not the rent thereof would make it possible for a rest room of this character to be established. Their report on this matter was very favorable, and your Committee, believing that the permanent executive management of a rest room of this kind must necessarily be in the hands of the women, took this phase of the question up through the Sister Superior of St. Helen's Hall. The Sister Superior seemed interested and suggested that she would ascertain whether or not a Sister could be sent from the East to take charge of the work, but nothing has been heard from this source.

Your Committee, not wishing to rely entirely upon the chances of a Sister being sent from the East to take charge of this work, instructed its chairman, Mr. Talbot, to request the Pastor of each parish in the city to meet with the Social Service Committee in the Commercial Club Auditorium on the 21st day of November, 1911. At this meeting about fifty (50) representative women from the various parishes were present and discussed the question of the establishment of a rest room. The Social Service Committee explained to the women at such meeting that inasmuch as it was a purely temporary committee, it necessarily could not undertake to establish a work of this character, which for its success must extend over a long period of time. In addition to that it seemed to the Committee, as heretofore suggested, that the active executive management must necessarily be in the hands of the women, your Social Service Committee did, however, guarantee to the women that if they would take charge of the work through an organization to be formed by them, your Committee would see that the necessary funds for the carrying on of the work for a period of at least one year would be furnished to them. After a discussion of the questions involved, the women present at the meeting seemed to have some doubt as to the advisability of a Rest Room of the character, and for the purpose of making investigation of the needs and possible requirements, a committee of five women was appointed. This committee later reported that after investigation, in which they had talked with many of the girls whom it was supposed would be aided by a Rest Room, they were of the opinion that it was not advisable to attempt the establishment thereof at this time.

While having every respect for the judgment of the women on this committee, your committee is still of the opinion that a Rest and Lunch Room for working girls in the north end factories, etc., would do much good and would meet with much success, but it is a matter that a temporary committee cannot of itself handle.

Your Committee, feeling that a more general knowledge throughout the Diocese of the possible scope of the work of the Social Service Committee would be of benefit to future Committees appointed by the Bishop, has secured a pamphlet prepared by the joint commission on social service of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the pamphlet being headed and known as a Social Service Programme for the Parish. A number of these pamphlets are in the hands of Mr. Hahn, the secretary of this Committee, for the purpose of distribution to the members of this Convention, and your Committee hopes that these pamphlets will be read with care and the ideas therein suggested be hereafter taken up by the Social Service Committees of the various parishes that may be appointed as hereinafter recommended.

Your Committee further suggests to its successor that if these pamphlets be not too expensive, a sufficient number be secured to be distributed in each parish.

There has been called to the attention of your Committee that from June 29 to July 6, 1913, there will meet in Portland the Second World's Church Citizenship Conference, and upon motion, duly made and carried, the Social Service Committee resolved to request this Convention to appoint delegates to represent the Episcopal Church of this Diocese at said Convention.

Your Committee further recommends that this Convention by motion request the Bishop to issue an Episcopal letter requesting the Pastors of the various Parishes in this Diocese to appoint a Social Service Committee for the Parish, said Committee to consist of as many members as may be deemed advisable by the Pastor, these Parochial Social Service Committees to report to the Committee appointed by the Bishop at least quarterly and oftener if desired, as to the work being conducted by them and offering suggestions as to the work that may be taken up by this Committee, and further, that the Social Service Committee appointed by the Bishop be at all times authorized to call upon the various parochial Social Service Committees for such work as may be outlined.

Your Committee also desires to call attention of this Convention, and through this Convention the people at large, of the work of what is known as the Social Hygiene Society.

Dr. Hyde, at the request of Rev. H. R. Talbot, addressed the men of St. David's Church upon the subject of Social Hygiene. As this subject is of importance in connection with the Social Service work, it is suggested by the Committee that such addresses be given by suitable persons in the Dioceses, when occasion occurs and the time is opportune.

In connection with the part of the work of this Committee, which may properly be called Social Hygiene, Dr. L. W. Hyde, who is a member of the Social Service Committee and one of the Executive Committee of the Social Hygiene Society of Portland, reports the work of this Society to the Committee. It is the belief of this Committee that the work of the Social Hygiene Society has been thus far judicious, careful, well thought out and of great benefit to the youth, as well as parents. We endorse what they have done and we recommend the moral support of the Dioceses for their work.

Another matter of great importance to this Committee and one which it hopes its successor will have time to look into is the question of Rooming and Lodging Houses for needy girls. While there are many places within the city where a man may secure clean and proper lodgings for a very nominal consideration, there is no such place where a needy girl may be thus accommodated. The Y. W. C. A. does not fill this want as the prices for rooms at the Y. W. C. A., or the prices of rooms under their control or supervision, while not high probably for the accommodations offered, are not within the reach of a large and increasing demand for smaller and cheaper quarters.

As may have been gathered from the several statements made in this report, your Committee is of the opinion that the best work of a Social Service Committee cannot be had so long as the Committee is temporary in its character.

Your Committee, therefore, suggests that in the appointment of future committees the term of the work be extended to five (5) years with a provision that of the first Committee one member serve for one year, one for three, one for four and one for five years, thereby permitting of a new appointment by the Bishop each year without interfering with any plan of work which may be outlined by the Committee.

Respectfully submitted,
SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION,
R. Hahn, Secretary.

XIV.REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIAN EDUCATION.

To the Convention:

No duties having been assigned to your committee this year, either by the Bishop or the Convention; and the committee of last year having made a very complete statistical report of the condition of the Sunday Schools of the Diocese, there appears to be little for the undersigned to do, except comment upon one or two matters of interest, and make a few suggestions.

Your committee, two of whom, by the way, belong to the Board of School Trustees, are of the opinion that the announced intention of the Board of School Trustees, to use the Bishop Scott Academy endowment for the education of boys of the poorer or destitute classes, by instituting a home, or homes where they may be nurtured under proper Christian influences, while they receive their secular training in the public schools maintained by the state, is praiseworthy; and that the plan of using this endowment for the benefit of those who really need help commend itself to the sympathy and interest of Christian men and women.

Thoroughly good work continues to be done in St. Helen's Hall, and in St. Elizabeth's House, and your committee feels that the Diocese is under a debt of gratitude to the Sisters or St. John the Baptist and the Christian ladies who assist them in their work of training young girls for Christ. Mention should be made of the excellent work done by Miss Eaton of St. Helen's Hall in teaching week day Bible classes in St. Mark's Parish and in Piedmont. The teaching missions conducted by the Bishop at various points in the Diocese have undoubtedly done much to promote intelligent Churchmanship, and we commend the Bishop's zeal and faithful service in this direction.

The ever-abiding difficulty of manning our Sunday Schools with efficient and consecrated teachers, especially in the smaller towns and districts, suggests the thought that the clergymen who find themselves hampered and their work retarded in this respect, give their serious consideration to the St. Sulpice Method of Instruction, or some modification thereof. By this system one teacher, be he priest or layman, can, with the assistance of one or two helpers (not teachers), do more to promote discipline, create interest and inculcate Christian knowledge, than under like circumstances can be accomplished in any other way. The judicious use of a gavel will ensure order and precision. The enthusiastic teaching of that with which the teacher is thoroughly familiar will produce interest and receptivity on the part of the Christian. The use of carefully prepared and proper illustrations will fix truths in the minds of the children and stir their hearts. Of course this method means careful work and preparation on the part of the Catechist; but no one need hope to teach who will not work and prepare.

It would be an excellent thing if someone familiar with the St. Sulpice Method could give "demonstrations" in many of the Sunday Schools of the Diocese.

Respectfully submitted,

JNO. E. H. SIMPSON,
A. A. MORRISON,
HEMAN BURR LEONARD.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HOSPITAL TRUSTEES.

Your committee to which was referred the report of the Board of Hospital Trustees, have pleasure in commending the efficient management of the hospital's affairs by this Board.

We have nothing to criticise. In accordance with a suggestion in the report we offer the following: Resolved, that the Board be released from further compliance with the direction of the Convention resolution of 1891 governing the creation of a sinking fund for the increase of endowments for certain beds.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

Your Committee on Report of the Board of Missions, wish to record our appreciation of the very excellent report of the Board, and commend to the carefully attention of the Diocese the suggestions contained therein. We also recommend that their suggestion regarding the bonding of all Treasurers of the Diocese be submitted to the Committee on Canons for the drafting of a suitable Canon for said bonding.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON REPORT OF THE BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

Your committee cannot too strongly commend the sound, common sense and beautiful practical charity of the proposal to establish a Church home for boys such as is suggested in the report of the Board of School Trustees. Such a policy merits the approval and cordial co-operation of the entire Diocese.

However, in view of the change of plan disclosed by the report, we recommend that the Convention urge upon the Board of School Trustees the advisability of considering the sale of the Oak Hill Farm for not less than has been invested therein and such a use of the proceeds as may seem best adapted to promote the present policy of the Board.

In view of the action taken by the Convention of 1910, this Committee notes that the Ascension School Fund now held by the Board of Trustees will be handed over to the Bishop of Eastern Oregon as soon as a request for same is made. The reason that this fund has not been conveyed before this time is that the Bishop of Eastern Oregon has requested that the fund be held by our School Trustees pending the settlement of a suit with the railroad company.

The attention of the Convention is drawn to the fact that in signing the lease to the school property Lots 2-11, Block 277 and Lots 4-5, Block 278, Couch Addition, the Board of School Trustees of Bishop Scott Academy has made no provision to protect the Diocese against the use of the property for undesirable or immoral purposes. The situation as it now stands gives the Church, which is the owner, and therefore finally responsible to the community as well as to the communicants, no control over the uses to which it may be put.

If the specious argument be advanced (1) that the city ordinances provide against immoral and therefore illegal use of the premises or (2) that to insert a clause prohibiting an immoral use of the property this commercially desirable lease could not have been consummated, the answer is obvious; that the responsibility of a religious body holding property cannot be discharged on merely legal or commercial grounds; that if the Church of Christ or any part of it does not lead the way in a sense of moral responsibility for the conduct of its property, the whole community is that much poorer in real wealth.

This committee therefore unhesitatingly and unanimously condemns such actions and desires to utter this feeble and futile protest. It has no recommendations to offer. The thing is done and the Diocese must accept the consequences; no very cheerful outlook to any member of a religious body who is familiar with the conditions as they obtain today under such a lease in this or any other large city.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE DIVISION AND REFERENCE OF THE BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

As the name of this committee, "On the Division and Reference of the Bishop's Annual Address," indicates, we feel it is not in our province to make, as has been customary, a resume of the Bishop's address or to approve or disapprove of anything contained therein.

The evident work of this committee is to subdivide the Bishop's address and refer such subdivisions to the respective standing committees.

We therefore propose that hereafter the Bishop appoint this committee "On the Division and Reference of the Bishop's Annual Address," at the preceding Convention or some days before the annual Convention and place in its hands a copy of this address that it may be properly subdivided and referred to the proper and respective standing committees that they may report thereon.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE.

Your committee would like to congratulate the Diocese on having had for the last year such an efficient committee. The work has been done with such thoroughness that it would seem ill-advised in this committee to attempt to add anything to the report which has gone into the matter with such minute particulars.

It would seem a matter for regret that the subject of a Rest Room did not meet with a more hearty response, and we would heartily concur in the recommendation that the subject be taken under consideration by the new Social Service Committee.

Your Special Committee would like to recommend that the Convention appoint delegates to the Second World's Church Citizenship Conference, which is to meet in Portland, June 29, 1913.

Also, that the Bishop be requested to issue a pastoral letter requesting each Parish to appoint a Social Service Committee to act with the Social Service Committee of the Diocese.

Also that the Parish Social Service Committees invite Dr. L. W. Hyde to address the people of the Parish on Social Hygiene, when found practical.

Also that the new Committee continue the work of the past Committee as to Rooming and Lodging Houses for needy girls.

And lastly, that the new appointments for the Social Service Committees be made, one for five years, one for four, one for three, one for two and one for one year.

Respectfully submitted,

H. D. CHAMBERS, Chairman,
GEO. F. ROSENMULLER.

XXI.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE TREASURER OF THE DIOCESE.

Your committee begs leave to report that the Treasurer's report has the ratification of the Chairman of the Auditing Committee, Mr. James Laidlaw. We note with satisfaction that the cash balance on hand is more than sufficient to meet the liabilities. We regret that the failure of the parishes and missions to pay their apportionments promptly made it necessary for the Board of Church Extension to borrow so large an amount as $1,300.00 during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

H. D. CHAMBERS, Chairman,

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL CLERGY RELIEF FUND.

The committee regret to learn that so few (only 16) of the 45 parishes and missions of the Diocese contributed to the General Clergy Relief Fund from June 1, 1911, to May 1, 1912, and most earnestly recommends that the clergy of the Diocese bring the matter of the Christmas offering in aid of the General Clergy Relief Fund more urgently to the attention of their congregations, impressing upon them the worthiness of this institution and the great privilege which is theirs in contributing to it.

R. E. REMINGTON, Chairman,

I have continued my work as Archdeacon under the orders of the Bishop and Board of Church Extension.

HINTS TO PAROCHIAL OFFICERS.

Impress upon the women of your parish that they are, by virtue of their baptism, members of the Woman's Auxiliary. Urge them to recognize this claim by working along the appointed lines and giving such dues as your parish branch may settle upon.

Every branch is expected to give to the Apportionment Fund and the United Offering and to do its share of any work planned by Diocesan Officers.

Take The Oregon Churchman and read to your branch the Auxiliary page, which is the official organ of the Auxiliary. Keep ready for reference the last report of your diocesan branch, Miss Emery's last report and the "Spirit of Missions."

When you begin a box advise the recipient and diocesan Secretary. When it is shipped advise again, giving date and mode of shipment. Prepay all expenses.

Report changes of address, and any changes in your list of officers to the Secretary.

MINUTES.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held May 14th, the opening service beginning at 10:30. Chaplain Lloyd of Vancouver Barracks, preached the sermon. The offering was $19. At 12 o'clock about 150 were served with a delicious luncheon by the women of St. Mark's.

At 2 o'clock the business meeting was called to order with the President, Mrs. Scadding, in the chair. The hymn "Oh, Zion, Haste," was sung and prayer offered by Bishop Scadding. Mrs. Scadding welcomed the Delegates. Reports of the Diocesan Secretaries were read and approved, and the Diocesan Treasurer's report read and accepted. This report will be found in full on another page.

Treasurer of United Offering report, which is incomplete, shows $168.90 received this year. Balance on hand from last year, $158.21. A gift of $35 from this annual meeting makes a total of $362.11 to date.

Mrs. Hallam, recently of Minneapolis, and now of St. David's Parish, stated clearly the uses of the United Offering Fund.

Roll call of branches followed with a total of 132, as follows:

Those responding to the roll call and the pledges made for this year were as follows:

The attendance in 1911 was 152. An offering was then taken amounting to $20.30. Reports of Secretaries and Treasurers of Junior branches were read. Moneys included in the Treasurer's annual report, as are also the gifts from the Babies' branches.

The report of the nominating committee resulted in the re-election of the present incumbents with the exception of Mrs. A. M. Oakes, who was elected Recording Secretary, vice Mrs. Talbot, who resigned to become educational secretary, a newly created office. A short interesting address was given by Chaplain Lloyd on church conditions in the Philippines.

Time and places of general meetings for the coming year are as follows: October, St. Michael and All Angels; January, St. David's; March, Trinity.

It was voted by the Convention to send $15.00 to the famine sufferers in China and $35.00 to be added to the United Offering. After a short address by Archdeacon Horsfall, the meeting, which was one of the most earnest and helpful, adjourned.

ELVA K. OAKES,
Secretary.

JUNIOR AUXILIARY.

Minutes of Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Junior Auxiliary was held in St. Stephen's Church, May 11, 1912, and opened with the Corporate Communion service, with address by Bishop Scadding on "Prayer and Labor," at 11 o'clock.

Lunch was served to 52 in the parish house at 12:30 o'clock.

The business meeting which was opened by the Bishop was held in the Church immediately after lunch.

The Secretary's report was read and approved.

The Treasurer's report was read and approved.

Roll call followed showing the following present: St. David's 13, St. Stephen's 15, Trinity 12, St. Michael's Mission 1, All Saints 10, Percival Memorial 1.

The pledges were made as follows:

	Diocesan	General
St. David's	$24.00	$16.00
St. Stephen's	30.00	20.00

Trinity	21.00	14.00
All Saints'	6.00	4.00
Ascension Chapel	8.00	4.00
Percival Memorial	10.00	5.00

The reports from the different branches were listened to with a great deal of interest.

The collection was taken and amounted to $6.55, which, on a motion by Miss Dayton, was put in the United Offering.

Mrs. Oaks gave her extremely interesting lecture on "The World at Boston," which was followed with a talk by Miss Turner urging the branches to form Study Classes next year.

Mrs. Scadding made a few remarks on the same subject.

The box next fall is to go to Hankow, China and should be shipped by October 15th.

There was a general discussion on "the election of Diocesan officers by the Juniors" but all agreed that next year would be a better time to start as all were not prepared for it this year.

The Bishop had appointed the following committee to examine the scrap books for the offering of prizes: Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Breck and Mrs. Talbot. Mrs. Barker reported the following prize winners:

First prize, No. 4—Ascension.....	$5.00
Second prize, No. 1—St. Stephen's.....	3.00
Third prize, No. 2—Ascension	2.00
Fourth prize, No. 3—Newport.....	1.00

There being no further business the Bishop closed the meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. H. H. THOMPSON,

APPENDIX.

I

THE BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

Delivered in the Pro-Cathedral of St. Stephen the Martyr, Portland, on the eve of the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon, Tuesday, May 20, 1913:

The Congregation will remain standing while I call the roll of those faithful communicants who, during this year, have passed from the Church Militant in this Diocese into the Church at Rest in Paradise:

The Right Reverend Charles Chapman Grafton, D. D., Second Bishop of Fond du Lac.

The Right Reverend William Crosswell Doane, D. D.,
First Bishop of Albany.

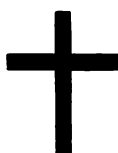

The Reverend William Lucas,
Vicar of Trinity Mission, Ashland.

Ashland, Edward H. Gould; Astoria, Edna Jenneth Petersen, Grenville Reed, Matthew James Seafitt; Bandon, James Armstrong, Martha Nosler; Coquille, David John Lowe, Daisy Holland; Empire, Charles Getty; Gardiner, Sarah Handerson; Gold Beach, Fanny Caughill, James Caughill; Marshfield, Louisa Hirst, L. K. Ballinger; North Bend, Mary A. Hollister; Portland, St. David's, Mary Elizabeth Winn, Minnie K. West, Samuel Gordon Allen, Asa Lewis Tyler; St. Mark's, Elizabeth Turner, Nellie Hastings Devers; St. Michael's, John R. Duck; St. Stephen's, Alice K. Holmes, Mary Corienne Reed, Ethel A. Burnett, Mary A. Pennoyer, Donald Southard Currier, Henry Edmond Daly; Roseburg, Flora Katherine (Ladd) Coates, Charles James Davies; St. Helens, Eliza Sweitzer, Olga Freiwald; Salem, Zarelda Hayden, Augusta Downing, (Mrs.) William Buck; Seaside, James Irwin; Sutherlin, Fred Nelson; Toledo, Elizabeth Graham; Woodstock, Ulrich Zeitfuchs, Isabelle Divine; Grants Pass, Mrs. A. N. Parsons, A. W. Butler.

Trinity Parish, Portland, James Laidlaw, Warden and Vestryman, died at his post, holding mission services at the Poor Farm, and doing his duty for the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and this Diocese to the very end. He was a good and noble soldier and servant of the Lord Jesus.

For these and all His other servants, who departed this life in the true faith of His Holy Name, we give God thanks and praise, and pray that we with them may have our perfect consummation and bliss in His divine and everlasting glory, through Jesus Christ our Lord: Amen.

Dear Brethren of the Clergy and Laity:

Grace, mercy and peace be unto you from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Until this year I have followed the custom of my predecessor, in making the annual "charge" to the Convention, to discuss at some length all the institutions and organizations within the Diocese; but a resolution passed by the Convention last year relieves me of this; and reports concerning them will be found printed and on the tables for your information and study. It will save much time if merely the titles of these reports be read tomorrow, and the reports themselves go directly to the respective committees, and they be read on the second day when returned by these respective committees for discussion and necessary action.

My desire and prayer now is to inspire you by a general survey of our field and of our work to greater adventure for God, to arouse us all to united effort, zeal according to knowledge, and greater efficiency for the great opportunities before us this year to extend Christ's Kingdom.

CHANGES IN CLERICAL STAFF.

The changes in our clerical staff have been as follows:

The Rev. Joseph Sheerin has left Medford and has undertaken duty under the Bishop of Eastern Oregon. The Rev. H. H. Marsden has left Albany and has been transferred to the Diocese of Washington. The Rev. Alfred W. Griffin has been canonically received and is Vicar of St. Barnabas, McMinnville. The Rev. F. K. Howard has been canonically received and is the City Missionary, and Chaplain of the Good Samaritan Hospital. The Rev. W. R. Powell, our oldest priest in the Diocese, has resigned as Chaplain of the Hospital, and since January has been rendering faithful service at St. John's, Sellwood. The Rev. F. M. Baum has been transferred from the Church of the Good Samaritan, Corvallis, to St. Andrew's, Portsmouth, and has also begun a promising unorganized mission at Kenton. The Rev. William Hamilton has been appointed Vicar of St. Mark's, Medford, in addition to his work at Grants Pass. The Rev. C. H. H. Bloor has been received from the Missionary District of Alaska and is on the clerical staff at Trinity Church, Portland. The Rev. Wm. Lucas, our faithful Vicar of Trinity Mission, Ashland, entered into Paradise, Sunday morning, May 18.

A CORPORATION SOLE.

As a Corporation Sole I have to report to the Convention that our mission property is in better condition than at any time in the history of the Diocese. Its value, exclusive of the mortgage indebtedness, is approximately $75,000.00. All the property has been carefully and accurately listed, and I had hoped to be able to present to the Convention at this time a detailed report of its value, but, notwithstanding the effort which has been made, it has been impossible to collect the data necessary for such a report. We feel confident, however, that with the data which we are now seeking, a very full report of all Church property in the Diocese will be forthcoming next year.

- All the property is covered by insurance, and all taxes and special assessments payable during the year have been paid, and the latter has been a heavy drain upon the Bishop's Fund.

The receipts from what is known as the "Bishop's Fund" have been used in strict compliance with the terms of the legacy, which provides that the income shall be used by the Bishop of Oregon, at his discretion, for "the Missionary, Benevolent, and Education" purposes of the Diocese.

Now that we have more clergy in the field, and our Missions are growing stronger, we expect them to require less aid from the "Bishop's Fund," so that the income may be used for new work, and for assisting candidates for Holy Orders, two of whom we hope to have at the Seminary next year.

The investments are all made by Mr. Rodney Glisan, Chancellor of the Diocese, and Mr. William McMaster, and the accounts are carefully kept by Mr. Charles B. Pfahler, chartered accountant, to all of whom I desire to express my grateful appreciation.

To encourage parishes and missions, and to help them to help themselves, I have organized a "Reinforcement Fund," and once a year invite about 100 Churchmen to meet me informally for the purpose of discussing some of our financial problems and increasing our membership. The first report of the "Reinforcement Fund" is hopeful, and is printed, and will be before you tomorrow.

THE BALLOTING SYSTEM AND ELECTIONS.

Owing to an error in cutting the ballot into separate slips for each Board last year, there was much confusion and waste of time in the matter of elections. To avoid this I appointed a committee consisting of the Rector of St. David's Church, Mr. Horace Ramsdell and Dr. Josephi to study out and prepare a workable plan for voting this year. This will be submitted to you early tomorrow in the form of a sample ballot, with the instructions printed on the back; and I hope that you will take immediate action upon it, that the voting may be expedited, and carefully and thoroughly done on Thursday. In this connection I urge the Convention to take the greatest possible care in the matter of these elections. The Lord's business should be carried on with the same thoroughness surely as any other business, and yet it has occurred that members of Boards and committees have not been regular in attendance at meetings, and have shown little or no interest in the work of the Board on which they were placed by this Convention. Think the elections over before hand and vote intelligently. To those of you who shall be elected, accept the honor and responsibility. Serve out your term and do your duty. Express your convictions forcibly, and do not feel hurt if things are not always going your way.

On Thursday we will (D. v.) elect four priests and four laymen, with others as substitutes in case of illness, to represent the Diocese in the General Convention at New York next October. Our delegates go to represent us, not their own private opinions. They do not go to represent any particular parish or town, but to represent the Diocese as a whole. We should choose men who have a full appreciation of this and who, before they give our vote, will counsel together and ask, "What would our Diocese have us do?" It must be remembered that each Diocese votes as a unit. A division of opinion in the delegation expressed by a divided vote practically takes the vote of the Diocese away and leaves it worse than unrepresented. A divided vote silences the voice of the Diocese and destroys such influence, even if it be but little, which the Diocese possesses and expects its delegates to use. We need therefore to choose faithful men who can be depended upon, without detailed instructions from us, to speak and vote as we would have them, and to make the voice of the Diocese to be ever heard for the Catholic Faith, and Catholic life in the Holy Catholic Church.

GENERAL SURVEY OF THE DIOCESE.

A—Our Policy: My policy for the Diocese during the past four years, if I may state it in a sentence, has been to unify the Diocese, and to build up the family idea. In the making of the treasury of our Board of Church Extension into a "family fund," or "war chest of the Diocese," into which all parishes and missions pay their apportionments and their pledges for stipends, into which also comes the interest from the Bishop's Fund, and the General Church Apportionment, and from which all stipends of the missionaries are paid; in the general missionary work in the Diocese of our efficient Archdeacon, and Deans of Convocation; in the uniform teaching of all the clergy that each congregation cannot "flock by itself" but is part of the Diocesan family; in the increased circulation of the "Oregon Churchman" and in my own frequent visitation of our struggling missions—in all these things a large measure of success has crowned this policy. The reproach of the "Silent Churches in Oregon" is now fast passing away. The vacancies at Albany, Corvallis and Salem will be filled by September. We have fourteen -parishes self-supporting except the Good Samaritan, Corvallis, and twenty-nine missions. We have on our staff of clergy 30 priests. Seventeen of these priests are dependent on the Board of Church Extension for their stipends, in whole or in part. A new rectory and parish hall has been built for St. Barnabas, McMinnville. A new Church building will soon be erected in Marshfield. Two lots will be sold this month at Bandon in order to pay off the debt there, and six lots will still be left. St. Matthew's Church building on Caruthers Street has been sold, and a new site has been purchased further south on which an attractive Church hall has been built, leaving a balance of about $5,000.00. A new Church will eventually be built on the corner. The Church of the Good Shepherd has been obliged to make extensive repairs, the Church building having become a veritable fire trap. These changes and repairs have been made as necessity required, and now the building is in good condition, and is attractive and well furnished. The heavy debt incurred is being bravely shouldered by the congregation. The property of St. Michael and All Angels' Mission will be sold, and a lot secured five blocks further east. The present Church building of this Mission is too small for the growing congregation, and while hardly two years old shelters a Sunday School of more than 70 children.

B—Our Institutions: Our Good Samaritan Hospital continues its noble ministry of healing, and is growing in efficiency.

Our St. Helen's Hall, and St. Elizabeth's House under the loving care of the Sisters of St. John the Baptist, make satisfactory reports. They should be supported by our prayers and liberal gifts and endowments. They are accomplishing great things for the daughters of Oregon.

It is expected to reopen the Bishop Scott Grammar School on our 100-acre farm in Yamhill County next September with 20 boys and three capable masters, and a house mother, and a superintendent who comes with highest testimonials from a school in Philadelphia. The idea is not to compete with the high priced boys' boarding schools in the East, but to provide a good grammar school education, manual training, and healthy out-door life on the farm, all for $300.00 per year. Neighboring Bishops commend this plan as a worthy memorial of Bishop Scott, and one which will meet a real need in Oregon.

C—Our Vicars: In order to emphasize further the unity of the Diocese, and the personal relationship of each mission to its Bishop, the Standing Committee has given consent to my request for a uniform name for the missionary clergy, which will clearly express to our missionary congregations their close relationship to their Bishop. Heretofore the missionaries have been variously titled, "Priest-in-charge," "Assistant," "Missionary Rector," "Minister-in-charge," etc. All missionary property being vested in the Bishop who is a Corporation Sole, he is the Rector of all missions, and the clergyman appointed to each mission is his deputy, and is now called "Vicar." The title "Vicar" means one deputed or authorized to perform the functions of another, a substitute in office, a deputy. When a "Vicar" leaves a mission it falls automatically under the Rector, who will see to it that at least occasional services are maintained, and another "Vicar" appointed as soon as possible. This is no new "fad," merely to give titles to our hard-working, practical, self-effacing missionaries who care nothing for titles, but a simple old-fashioned title, clear and beautiful in its meaning, and tending to unify the Diocese. Already the congregations in the mission field have fallen in with the plan and appreciate it.

Therefore our missionary force consists of one Archdeacon, three Deans of Convocation, Dean of the Pro-Cathedral, and thirteen Vicars.

D—Our Finances:

Income for Church Extension.....	$14,872.82
Expenditures for stipends, etc.....	13,856.78
Balance for Treasury.....	$ 1,016.04

This balance will be entirely absorbed in paying the stipends of the Vicars during the next two months; but, even so, this is the best financial showing the Diocese has ever made. In addition more money has been raised and sent outside the Diocese for the flood sufferers in Ohio, and to be applied on the General Missionary Apportionment than the Diocese has ever raised before. These items, and many other statistics will be placed before you in the reports of others. For the blessings we have had, and for the small measure of growth we have had I thank God.

THE DIOCESE AS A WHOLE.

We shall never get a true view of the Diocese, just as we cannot get a true view of a book, or a character, if we seek first for the details and, adding up our impressions, produce the result as a sort of sum in addition. Fancy judging a Keat's sonnet by the first four lines, or a book by Figgis or Tyrrell by two or three chapters taken at random. It is as a whole, showing things which cannot be put into statistics, that we may more correctly estimate the value, force, power of a Diocese, or a life, or a book. In this larger vision, in the view of the whole, by evidence which eludes statistics we feel that our policy of unifying the Diocese has made a distinct advance.

UNITY BY COMMON PRAYER.

The negative unity of tolerance and kindly feeling is manifest among us in Oregon, but that positive unity of conscious spiritual fellowship in co-operative spiritual service leaves much to be desired. The first, indeed, is necessary, but by itself is wholly impotent. The second is the true and only way God builds His Church, and brings His Kingdom. In this we are lacking. We live in parishes, we work in groups. We pray by ourselves. The Diocese is the real cell of our spiritual organism. It is the real unit of the Church's structure. In it we are caught up into the Spirit's unity. Whatever helps us to Diocesan consciousness, and Diocesan devotion helps to unite us. If we as a Diocese are ever, and in any measure, to be at one with God, and with each other, it will be only as, and if, we learn and love and pray together. A Diocese at prayer is a Diocese at work. Realizing all this we set apart Wednesday, February 12th, as a Diocesan Day of Intercession. It was an occasion of great spiritual refreshment and uplift to all who took part in its observance at the Pro-Cathedral, and in other places outside Portland. Many of our prayers that day have been directly answered. The inspiring addresses on prayer, the requests for intercession, the silent prayers and meditations, together with the daily prayers of members of our Diocesan Prayer Union, make us realize that the Diocese is being guided towards a stronger unity, through the deepening of its spiritual life, than can be tabulated in statistics. Brethren pray for us.

UNITY BY COMMON SERVICE.

A learned and gifted writer has shown us that civilization is at the Cross Roads, that the conflict, observed everywhere in human life is not one on the surface or even about doctrine, but that it is a veritable Armageddon between the spirit of Christ and that of Antichrist. Certainly around us is much social unrest, and especially on this Coast the Church has to breast the waves of materialism, commercialism, worldliness, extravagant living, luxury and lust. All kinds of reforms are suggested, and legislation proposed. But, Brethren, it is a NEW SOUL the world needs, not a scheme of reform. Rudolph Eucke of Jena, one of the weightiest of living philosophers, preaches strongly this very need of redemption as distinct from remedies of reform. The Church faces men today, not as a theory, but as a LIFE, giving to many amongst us a sense of supernatural vision and redemptive peace to be gained nowhere else. This fact unites us in our common service. This must be our uppermost thought, our underlying motive.

A—In City Missions:

It is evidenced in our new departure in City Mission work. In our age, with all its unregulated ideals, with its materialism and pathetic unrest, there is one cry in which there is hope—the cry for life, life, more life. It is this cry our Chaplain heeds and is trying to satisfy in some small measure; not approaching the problems with some “cure-all,” or anything that is merely institutional, but in the kindly spirit of the Master, assuring each and every unfortunate with whom he deals of his eternal worth; that he is worth the life and death of Jesus Christ. It is this service which is acceptable to the inmates of the city prison, our hospital, and the poor farm, to the strangers within our gates, actors and actresses and transients at the hotels. This city mission work unites us. It is the work of all of us. The Chaplain is our Vicar, acting on behalf of all priests in this city. Read his first report carefully and support him heartily. Early in the Autumn I hope we shall have secured some down-town room or hall, where men may find a comfortable reading and game room, where coffee can be served at a nominal cost, where the Chaplain and a number of lay assistants may hold services, discussions, conferences, and come into personal and helpful touch with those who now may reproach the Church with the statement that she does not care for their souls. Here is where parochialism fades away. Here is where we may stand shoulder to shoulder in a great cause. Every communicant in the city, as well as every Rector, should be deeply interested in this City Mission work. I request that once a year every Rector invite the Chaplain to tell the story of his work to the morning congregation, and, when convenient, give the laity an opportunity to make an offering for the support of this worthy cause.

B-Social Service:

Our policy of Diocesan Unity must also be evidenced in common service along the line of the Report of our Committee on Social Service. Strong, awakening, stirring reports have been made by the Social Service Committee, and by the Vice Commission, and not long ago by the Grand Jury. It will not do for us to hear the condemnation of a "restricted district for the social evil," the enactment of a "tin plate ordinance," or the proposal to establish a "Morals Court," etc., and say "splendid," but remain inactive. This is my business, and it is your business, and we must cooperate with the committee in common service. They have laid before us a workable plan. Let us follow it, and in each and every parish and mission establish a branch that by thorough study we may act unitedly and intelligently as circumstances arise. It is right that by every means in our power, legislative and other, we should try to diminish external evils; but a world wherein everybody is respectable might very well be a world wherein no one is religious, therefore the real task of the Church is to awaken a vision of God, and by her faith to effect the redemption of human nature. Here is where we stand together. This is the Master's message that the Church would have you deliver from your several pulpits. The claim of the Gospel is not so much to solve problems as to come near to human lives. It is to MAN, as he lives and works, as he fights and sins, as he loves and hopes, as he feels the need of outside support to sustain him in his weakness, of Love from Beyond to console him in his gloom, of social institutions and environments to prevent his spirit from being crushed by the world, that Christ appeals. Some tell us that Jesus proclaimed a social gospel.* So He did. But it was not that of Karl Marx or Henry George or any legislator. He came to upset the whole scale of values. He came to alter men's wants. The real economic reformer is not the man who alters the laws, but he who changes the wants of a sufficiently large number of people to change the markets. Consider how great a reformer was Peter the Hermit. He made more difference than many legislators. So does any effective preacher of standards above the common. There would be fewer harlots if the great majority of men even tried to live purer lives; while the appalling inequalities of our day would vanish as if by magic if a sufficient number of men were to leave off "making haste to be rich" and a sufficient number of women were to "set their affections on things above." Christianity is in its essence social. Whatever else the doctrine of the Trinity means, it means this—that God is Himself a fellowship, and we His Church on earth, are to express, as best we may, that Divine harmony. In this harmony we find our unity. As Churchmen we do not enter into what is technically called "social service" offering this man's theory, that man's scheme, or another man's individual remedy, or even a widely commended "institutional church." But we stand together, trustees for a "Faith once delivered to the Saints," members of one Body—the Holy Catholic Church, which makes her appeal to all sorts and conditions of men, resting on definite facts issuing in clear statements, and ministering gifts real but supernatural. So the Church faces men as a LIFE, and that alone will satisfy their deepest needs, will answer their bewildered cry.

Do you realize the enormous demands the Church makes upon us as a LIFE—as nothing less than the extension of the Incarnation of our Blessed Lord into this generation? SHE WANTS A LIFE FOR A LIFE. I have not preached a begging sermon this year, have made no appeals from the pulpit for money. I have prayed. I have tried to work hard. I have tried to hold before the souls of men this LIFE, and our necessary Diocesan unity because we are this life "which is hidden in Christ with God." The financial returns are better than they ever were. The Church demands are great, and we must not be timid in presenting them. We get little because we ask little, and very likely because we give but little real service. It is as Mr. George Wharton Pepper of Philadelphia recently said to the Bishop of Los Angeles, "The average man knows what the Church in his parish with its Rector and machinery has done for him, and if the Church has not done enough for him to arouse him from his lethargy, to inspire his enthusiasm and to enlist his profound interest, he is not likely to make response to any appeal, however eloquently it may have been pleaded, to perpetuate what so far as he can see is a futile system, BUT when he realizes that the Church through its ministry has brought peace to his soul and joy to his heart, when he has been aroused to the privileges of membership in the Body of Christ, then his reply will be not only, "here is my money, but here am I, send me.'"

So, my brothers in Holy Orders, whose zeal in the Master's work, and whose patience, and loyal co-operation with me I deeply appreciate, let us evidence unity in our common service. However we may differ in opinions let nothing keep us apart. Let us help each other, stand should to shoulder. Let us counsel together, read together, pray together more than we have ever done before. Let not tempestuous debates, or vexing personalities which may ruffle the surface, in any way disturb the deep under current of brotherly love, and let us move forward in unity of spirit in the service of God for men.

II.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE.

To the Bishop and Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Gentlemen: I would respectfully present a report of the actions of your Standing Committee during the past year, as follows:

Your Committee met for organization on June 24, 1912, at which time the Rev. H. M. Ramsey was elected President and Horace D. Ramsdell Secretary.

Your Committee has held six meetings during the year. Consent has been granted as follows:

Consecrations as Suffragan Bishops.

Rev. Frank Arthur McElwain, Diocese of Minnesota.

Rev. Henry Sherman Langley, Diocese of Iowa.

Rev. John Chamay Lindsay, Diocese of Connecticut.

Rev. Samuel Gavitt Babcock, Diocese of Massachusetts.

Consecrations as Bishops Coadjutor.

Rev. Wm. Farrar Weeks, Diocese of Vermont.

Bishop Peter Trimble Rowe, Diocese of Southern Ohio.

Rev. Horace Percy Silver, Diocese of Kansas. Consent denied.

Consent was also granted to the Diocese of Texas for the election of a Bishop Coadjutor and to the election of the Rev. Theodore Irving Reese to be Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Southern Ohio.

Your Committee in January endorsed and approved the action of the Bishop of this Diocese in appointing Wednesday, February 12, 1913, as a day of intercession.

Your Committee also approved the plan of nomenclature proposed by the Bishop of this Diocese, viz: that Missionary Priests be known as Vicars (the Bishop of Oregon being the Rector of the Mission) and the priest in charge of the pro-Cathedral to be known as the Dean of the Cathedral.

Your Committee also granted consent to the change in name of St. James' Church, McMinnville, to St. Barnabas, at the request of the Bishop of Oregon and the Rev. A. W. Griffin, of McMinnville.

Respectfully submitted,

H. D. RAMSDELL,

Secretary.

III.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

To the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The Board has held eleven meetings during the year with an average attendance of nine members.

The Board has been working under the new rules and By-Laws as printed in the Journal of last year's Convention with very satisfactory results, many of the details having been handled by committees thus simplifying and facilitating the work of the Board.

There are now seventeen missionaries in the Diocese serving twenty-nine missions. Two missionaries have retired, two have been added and a third has accepted a call but will not enter upon his work until after convention.

For the year ending April 30, 1913, the receipts and expenditures have been as follows:

RECEIPTS.

General Board of Missions.....	$ 3,000.00
Bishop's fund	1,800.00
Collections	196.76
Pledges to stipends.....	5,650.89
Diocesan apportionments	3,192.07
All other sources.....	314.31
	<hr/>
Total receipts	$14,154.03
Balance May 1, 1912.....	718.79
	<hr/>	$14,872.82

DISBURSEMENTS.

Stipends to missionaries.....	$12,720.22
Rent allowances and traveling expenses....	924.85
Purchase of church property.....	109.50
All other expenses.....	102.21
Total expenditures	$13,856.78
Balance May 1, 1913.....	1,016.04
	<hr/>	$14,872.82

All stipends and other claims have been paid regularly and promptly, and for the first time in several years this has been accomplished without the necessity of making temporary loans. It will be seen from the foregoing statement that, financially, the year has been the best in the history of the Board, if not of the Diocese, and we cannot refrain from expressing the appreciation of the Board for the hearty financial support given it by the Parishes and Missions in the Diocese. Not only have the funds available for its work been larger than in the past, but requests for prompt remittances of pledges and apportionments, made twice during the year, have met with cheerful and immediate response.

From the reports of the Treasurer it appears that there were on May 1, 1913, unpaid apportionments of something over $700 distributed among seventeen parishes and missions, and unpaid pledges toward stipends amounting to almost $1,300 distributed among seventeen missions. Some of these have since been paid or reduced, but the amount still outstanding is quite large, and if paid would make it possible for the Board to maintain one or two additional missionaries in the field. Extension work in the Diocese is limited only by our ability to prosecute it, and it is this fact which prompts us to place so much importance on money matters as furnishing a means to an end.

In this connection it might be said that it has been necessary for the Archdeacon to devote a very large portion of his time in caring for and holding together the unoccupied missions in the Diocese, with consequent neglect to the development of new fields and the ministering to the unshepherded.

During the year the Board has received and forwarded to the General Board of Missions the sum of $3,447.97, thus surpassing any previous record of the Diocese and placing us in an enviable position with the General Board.

The results of the year's work are altogether inspiring, and it is gratifying indeed to report continued progress and hope.

H. D. CHAMBERS,
C. N. HUGGINS,
Committee.

V.REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE HOSPITAL BOARD.

To the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention:

Gentlemen: The Board of Hospital Trustees of the Diocese of Oregon hereby submits the following report:

During the past year the Board has held twelve regular and seven special meetings with an average attendance of six members. This is in itself very gratifying.

The Board has endeavored, more than ever, to realize the great responsibilities that rest upon it and has given most careful attention to many details so that the efficiency of the hospital may be increased. The Board desires to make public record of its appreciation of the valuable services rendered by the Superintendent, Miss Loveridge, the Assistant Superintendent, Miss Welch, the head of the Training School for Nurses, Miss Jolly, and to the members of the medical and surgical staff.

During the year the Board has been compelled, owing to the crowded condition of the hospital in our growing city, to purchase a house to be used as a dormitory for housing the surgical nurses, matrons, stewardess, office help, etc., so as to relieve the congestion in the hospital proper. This house is situated on Northrup street beside the house that was purchased for the use of the orderlies about three years ago.

Necessity has also compelled the addition of another surgery, and one of the rooms adjoining on the third floor has been taken and is now almost ready for use.

During the year the Board has had under most careful consideration the erection of a central heating plant with a possible light and power plant combined. The large expense (about $25,000 or $30,000) in connection with this item has made it the most important subject before the Board. But as the consulting engineer, Mr. W. S. Turner, reports that some of the present boilers are in "poor" condition and others "fair," principally through long time service, it is evident that in the near future a central heating plant must be erected, using oil instead of coal or wood.

Preliminary steps have been taken to install another elevator for the use of the hospital, and this will probably be in use before the next annual convention.

During the year the Board received from the estate of the late Hannah Mason the sum of $3,450, and this amount is being kept separate with the view of having a fund in the memory of the late Hannah Mason. The Board also received from Mr. A. H. Devers the sum of $4,000 in memory of his wife, the late Nellie H. Devers. The interest of this fund is to be used only in cases of cancer when the patient is properly received as such by the management of the hospital.

During the year a new department has been created in the Training School for Nurses, that of administering anesthetics by nurses, and will in all probability be operative when the law passed at the recent Legislature becomes effective June 1st next.

The thanks of the Board are due the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board for its efficient services during the past year.

Accompanying this report the statement of the Treasurer is herewith submitted for the year ending March 31, 1913.

The retiring Trustees are the Rev. T. F. Bowen and Dr. A. J. Giesy.

JOHN DAWSON,
Secretary.

During the year the Board of School Trustees has repaid to this board the balance of $900 on the note held by this board as trustee for the Doane scholarship.

The report of the Sister Superior, which is hereto attached, shows a continuance of the gratifying conditions which have heretofore prevailed.

The Board of Trustees desires to again call the attention of the Convention to the deficiency in the general fund of the board. Notwithstanding the sale of real property in Hawthorne Avenue Addition from which was realized the sum of $750, the deficit in this fund has been increased during the current year from $1171.29 to $1411.10, the principal items causing the increase being taxes and street assessments $630.31, interest $358.75.

During the year a special committee of the board has been cooperating with a committee appointed by the General Alumnae Association of St. Helen's Hall with the view to the establishment of a permanent endowment from the income of which miscellaneous charges of this character may be met. It is earnestly hoped that during the coming year the efforts of this joint committee will result in the permanent establishment of such fund.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN K. KOLLOCK,
Secretary.

St. Helen's Hall has had during the year 1912-1913 an enrollment of 187 pupils. Of these 53 have been resident pupils, 134 day pupils.

By departments

121 in the Academic Department
66 in the Elementary Department
The graduating class numbers 15.

In September, 1912, the school opened with 45 resident pupils; the smaller number than last year being due possibly to general financial conditions, also perhaps to the slightly increased terms. There have been as usual some withdrawals during the year, also new pupils coming in so that the average number of resident pupils has been 40. Most of our girls have come from Oregon and Washington and have been with few exceptions satisfactory pupils.

In the day school also there has been a smaller attendance; about 20 pupils less than for the last two years. The loss was chiefly in the upper classes of the elementary department, and is in a measure due to the attraction of a school recently started with somewhat different ideals. St. Helen's Hall was founded for thorough school work and definite religious instruction, and in fidelity to these principles lies its hope of future usefulness. The special needs of our own times must of course be considered, and in view of the present demand for "practical subjects" we have this year given a systematic course in sewing by hand and machine. Next year we intend to add dressmaking and millinery, also a theoretical course in domestic science. (It would be unwise in this building to attempt courses that involve expensive equipment.)

Last autumn it so happened that about half of our teachers were new arrivals and some fears were expressed that they might not be equal to their predecessors. We are glad to say that they have proved their ability in every department and this is becoming recognized so that we have good prospects of increase next year, especially as we expect to retain all of our present staff.

Among the year's many blessings we desire to mention with gratitude to God that thus far the record of health has been excellent. There has been no serious illness and few colds so that we have had less need than usual for Dr. Holt Wilson's kind and unfailing attention. Although we have not had illness, death for the first time since the arrival of the Sisters, has drawn very near. Olga Freiwald, a girl in the graduating class, passed away suddenly in November at the Good Samaritan Hospital shortly after an operation. She had been with us as resident or day pupil over four years, and had received all her sacraments in the Chapel of St. Helen's Hall. She was so sincerely Christian in her life that we felt she was ready when her call came. Our Chaplain, the Rev. W. A. M. Breck, who had given her her last Communion, committed her body to its rest in Riverview Cemetery.

We wish in closing to express our gratitude to our Bishop and the members of the board for their interest in the Endowment Fund and the help they have given the Alumnae in this matter. Now that the need has been recognized and a beginning made we trust that with God's blessing it may be brought to the desired conclusion.

THE SISTERS OF ST. JOHN BAPTIST.

During the year the board has paid the balance of the indebtedness to the Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall as trustee for the Doane scholarship.

During the past year the building erected by Metropolitan Investment Company on the property covered by the ground lease on the property lying between Nineteenth Street and Trinity Place, immediately adjoining the property of Trinity Church, which was in process of construction at the time of the last annual Convention, has been completed, resulting in complete security to the board for the annual rentals provided for in said lease, and insuring the permanency of the income to be derived from this source for school purposes.

The board has completed arrangements for the reopening of a Diocesan school for boys under the old name of "Bishop Scott Grammar School," on the property owned by the board in the northern part of Yamhill County, near the town of Yamhill. Rev. Barr Gifford Lee, now rector of St. Paul's Church, Salem, has been chosen as rector and head master, and Paul T. Stucke, late of St. Martin's School, Philadelphia, and for a long time connected with Racine College Grammar School at Racine, Wisconsin, has been appointed superintendent of the physical plant and in charge of the commissary department.

This action of the board has been taken in response to an apparently earnest and sincere demand for a school of this character and it is earnestly desired by the board that this new venture receive the support of the Diocese.

To quote briefly from the prospectus now in process of publication by the board, "The school will aim to give a thorough grammar school education at a very moderate cost. It is to be a practical home school, under moral and religious influences, where every boy, whatever his means or social position, will be on the same basis with every other."

"The Rector hopes to make the religious tone of the school simple and genuine with nothing of unreality. The services will be arranged and conducted with this in view."

"Good breeding will be cultivated as one of the most important of the social virtues."

"The school is not in any sense to be a commercial institution. The rates are designed to cover the bare cost of operation, * * * lower than that of any other church school on the Pacific Coast and about half the rate of most schools. It is made possible in part by the fact that we shall produce the greater part of the food supplies on the farm at small cost."

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN K. KOLLOCK,
Secretary.

X.REPORT OF DIOCESAN SOCIAL SERVICE
COMMITTEE.

To the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Your committee appointed under the resolution of last year met and formed for its work shortly after the appointments were received. At this first meeting Rev. H. M. Ramsey, whose efficient work in the preceding year had been much appreciated by the committee, felt it was necessary to resign, and the Bishop therefore appointed in his place the Rev. C. W. Robinson, of Oregon City.

There were held during the year seven regular meetings which were well attended by the various members of the committee, and numerous irregular meetings by members who had been appointed to do certain work.

Your committee cannot say its work for this year will make the same direct showing that the one of last year made, but it feels that at least in part the committee is entitled to take credit for much of the activity displayed by the people of this community in the social questions of our everyday life, which fact we hope will be more apparent as this report progresses.

The first work of your committee was in response to the request of the Bishop that we follow his pastoral letter, written by him at the suggestion of the committee of last year to the various parishes of this Diocese, with a parochial letter. The pastoral letter of the Bishop, as you will recall, called to the attention of the various parishes in a general way the necessity for local social service committees to work in conjunction with the social service committee of the Diocese. The parochial letters prepared and sent out by your committee were in the nature of follow-up letters outlining and suggesting possible work that might be taken up. We regret to report that as a result of these letters, some fifty or more in number, we received very few replies. Of these replies all were to the effect that work, such as suggested by the Bishop's letter and the parochial letters of your committee, was practically impossible in the various parishes answering, with the exception of St. Mark's, St. David's, and Ascension Chapel, all of Portland, and St. Paul's of Oregon City.

St. Mark's Parish has established a social service committee, and Rev. Henry Russell Talbot and Mr. Ralph Hahn of your committee appeared before the St. Mark's committee and addressed them upon the possible work that might be accomplished by a social service organization. We are unable at this time to report in detail the work that has been accomplished by St. Mark's, but from information received believe that the work is progressing in a very favorable manner.

Ascension Chapel has also established, by and through the efforts of Mr. Ralph Hahn of your committee, a social service work in the nature of a club for young men and young women. This club is in a flourishing condition and is doing much good along the lines of educating the young men and women to higher ideals with reference to social questions.

The Rev. C. W. Robinson reports that St. Paul's at Oregon City has not felt it wise to attempt the organization of a social service committee to work within St. Paul's Parish alone, but he has been able to create an interest along these lines in the parish with the result that some of St. Paul's parishioners are working in conjunction with other church and municipal organizations at Oregon City along social lines. Your committee suggests that in many of the smaller towns this method of joining with others will accomplish better and quicker results than to form strictly Church organizations.

It is with pleasure that we are able to report that the work of the local social service committee of St. David's Parish is proving a very great success. The Rector, Rev. Henry Russell Talbot gave the use of the yard surrounding his home for a play ground and through a public subscription $620.00 was raised and the play ground equipped. Children under nine years of age are permitted the use of these grounds and it is only to be regretted that the same is not larger in order that children of even more mature years might be cared for. This playground is at present in charge of Miss Katherine Taylor and is accomplishing a good work, not only locally but also has great educational value in teaching the public generally the value and necessity of such play grounds.

In addition to this work of the play ground, St. David's Parish has under the auspices of its local committee held numerous meetings at which have been presented and discussed questions of the hour pertaining to the general welfare of the community. At these meetings men well qualified to speak upon the subjects presented have been present with the result that the social service life of St. David's Parish is not only active, but accomplishing results.

Generally speaking, it is becoming more and more evident that if a Diocesan social service committee is to render efficient service, its efforts must be supplemented and extended through parochial units: bodies of men, or men and women, who will undertake the study of local social conditions either as an organization or in collaboration with other local bodies.

From its correspondence with reference to forming social service committees during the past year your Diocesan committee considers that its efforts to inaugurate such groups would meet with better results if preceded by a campaign of enthusiasm and education. It accordingly submits the following outline for a social service mission with a request that it be approved by the convention:

(1) Such mission to cover a period of one or more days and to consist of (a) social service hymns set to stirring and singable tunes; (b) devotional service emphasizing the social side of Christianity; (c) addresses on social service adapted to 1st, Industrial and Commercial communities; 2nd, Agricultural communities; such hymns, devotions and subjects of addresses to be prepared by the social service committees, and the missions to be conducted by the duly authorized missionaries of the Diocese of Oregon.

The outline above is the only active result that your committee can lay claim to, yet it desires to call attention to the large increased interest throughout the entire community on social questions of all kinds, particularly those relating to social hygiene and the welfare of girls and minors. This result we think was largely brought about by the active work of the Vice Commission of this city. As you will remember, the Vice Commission was originally appointed by and through the efforts of the social service committee of last year.

In addition to the creating of interest in social service questions, various members of your committee have taken an active interest with reference to legislation before the late session of our legislature and made active efforts to have passed certain laws for the betterment of social conditions in this city. The Rev. Henry Russell Talbot caused to be formed and presented a bill known as the Morals Court Bill. This bill failed of passage but this was due largely to the fact that it was not thoroughly understood and sufficient time was not had after its completion for educational work. We believe that eventually the Morals Court Bill will be introduced in our legislature along the lines outlined in the one presented, and that it will become a law, and urge all to prepare themselves to assist in securing such a measure.

Members of your committee also took an active interest in the preparation and passage of what is generally called the Iowa Abatement Law, soon to be on our statute books. This law gives ample authority and power to handle the social evil in its commercialized form with considerable hope of effective results.

The social service committee of the Diocese of Chicago sent to your committee a communication in the form of a resolution with reference to the marriage of diseased persons and requested that your committee study, and, if it approved the communication, present a similar resolution for the action of this convention. Your committee takes pleasure in submitting to you the following resolution with the request that it be acted upon and approved by this convention:

"Whereas, it is generally agreed on the part of authorities on the subject of mental, moral, and physical deficiencies, that there is an increase in the number of afflicted persons, and

Whereas, much time is being given to changing the environment of the unfortunate persons, too little time is given to prevent the spread of disease, and mental and moral degeneracy to succeeding generations, and

Whereas, medical societies, national, state and local, the American Bar Association, social workers, and the clergy in general of the country, are giving increased attention to the subject of safeguarding marital selection, and

Whereas, the Legislature of the State of Oregon has passed a law requiring that before license to marry shall be issued there be filed with the court a certificate of a reputable physician that the contracting parties are free from contagious diseases,

Be It Resolved, that this Diocesan Convention heartily approve of this action taken by the Legislature of Oregon in requiring a medical certificate of freedom from venereal disease prior to the issuance of a marriage license and engages to do all in its power to formulate public opinion in support of the legislature, and further.

Be It Resolved, That this Convention through its social service committee, lay before other conventions and convocations of other Dioceses and Missionary Jurisdictions, this action and the legislation had by the State of Oregon, and urge their co-operation in framing similar statutes in their respective states by encouraging the spreading of educational matter before the congregations within their jurisdictions and by any other means at hand."

Your committee in closing desires to request this Convention that it consider the advisability of apportioning for the work of the social service committee a reasonable sum of money. During the past year the expenses of the committee have been met by the voluntary subscription of its members and your committee feels that the work it may accomplish is of sufficient importance to justify a request for financial aid.

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH HAHN,

Secretary of Diocesan Social Service Committee.

XI.

REPORT OF AUDITING COMMITTEE.

To the Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

We herewith submit the report of Mr. Alex C. Rac, Public Accountant, on the accounts of the Good Samaritan Hospital (Superintendent and Treasurer), the Trustees of St. Helen's Hall, Board of School Trustees and the Board of Trustees of the Episcopal Fund. Vouchers have been carefully examined and the statements of receipts and disbursements are certified as correct.

We have personally examined the accounts and vouchers of Mr. R. W. Hastings as Treasurer of the Diocese, of the Bishop Morris, Jubilee Fund, Convention Fund and Board of Church Extension, and find the same to be in order and correct.

It was suggested in last year's report that a simplified form of keeping the accounts of St. Helen's Hall would be of advantage and it is hoped a better system will be inaugurated during the coming year.

The repeated suggestion of your Auditing Committee and the resolution adopted at last year's Convention that property held by the Board should be valued at a reasonable valuation has been ignored in the report of the Trustees of Episcopal Fund, and we call your attention to the fact. It might be in order for the Convention to appoint appraisers to fix the valuation of these properties.

In order that this report may be properly presented to the Convention it would seem desirable that the chairman or acting chairman of the Auditing Committee should be ex-officio a delegate to the Convention, or that at least he should have the privilege of the floor, and we recommend some action on the part of the Convention to that end.

The bills of Mr. Alex C. Rae, the Public Accountant who has been employed by the Committee, amounting to $200.00, are submitted herewith. Mr. Rae engaged to do the work of auditing the accounts of the Hospital for $150.00 per year, but the time consumed by the work during the year and the multiplicity of the transactions have resulted in a money loss to Mr. Rae. We recommend that the Auditing Committee in its option, be allowed to expend such amount as may be necessary, up to $250.00 per annum, for compensation of the accountant auditing these books.

J. C. ROBINSON,
WM. C. ALVORD,
Auditing Committee.

To the Auditing Committee of the Diocese of Oregon, Portland, Oregon.

Dear Sirs: As requested by you, I have examined the Superintendent's and Treasurer's books of account of the Good Samaritan Hospital; the books of account of the Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall and the Board of School Trustees, and have attached my certificate to the reports submitted by the various officers. I have also examined the statement of receipts and disbursements of the Sister Superior of St. Helen's Hall.

GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL.

Superintendent's Books.

These books have been monthly audited and found to be correct and in good order, but the distribution of expenditures should be more carefully made. A large proportion of the accounts receivable for the year will probably not be collected and this part of the work should receive careful consideration.

It appears to me that a saving might be effected in the Purchase Department by securing bids on various supplies purchased.

Treasurer's Books.

The books of the Treasurer were found as usual to be in satisfactory condition and all receipts and disbursements regularly accounted for. The securities referred to were also examined and found to be correct.

ST. HELEN'S HALL.

The report was verified only as to expenditures for which vouchers have been produced.

BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES OF ST. HELEN'S HALL.

These books are in order and in accordance with the reports.

BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

These books were found to be in order and in accordance with the report.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF EPISCOPAL FUND.

The books were found to be in order and in accordance with the report. A ledger has now been opened and the various transactions recorded therein.

Yours very truly,

ALEX C. RAE,
Public Accountant.

XII.REPORT OF THE RURAL DEAN OF THE NORTHERN CONVOCATION.

To the Bishop and Members of the Twenty-fifth Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

In obedience to a recent Canon of this Diocese, the following is offered as a report of the Dean of the Northern Convocation, for its first year:

Two meetings of the Northern Convocation have been held. The first at Grace Church, Astoria, September 25th and 26th, 1912; the second at St. David's, Portland, November 13th and 14th, 1912. Careful preparations had been made at both places for a spiritual uplift, and a mutual kindly understanding of those relations between priests and people, which only come on a frank interchange of opinions, and personal acquaintance with each other.

Both meetings were attended by our good Bishop, and, we regret to say, by only a few of the Clergy, with some of the local laymen.

The hospitality provided by these parishes was of so generous a character, as to suggest the lack of nothing towards the happiness and success of these convocational meetings.

The programs of these two events included much to stimulate helpful thought, and earnest spiritual assistance, and so it proved to all those whose good fortune it was to be present.

The value of convocational meetings is that rare opportunity, so greatly needed especially by every priest, of a heart to heart talk with his brethren, of the many trials and serious problems that constantly confront him. It is by such intercourse that the priest may see clearly how to meet his perplexities, and gather that strength and courage that comes from the expressed interest and sympathy of his fellows.

And further, the purport of these meetings is that, as honest servants in the fields of The Blessed Master, to make a careful survey of all that is being done within the limits of the convocation; and so far as possible, to strengthen such work as already exists, and to provide for the successful development of such new work as needs and opportunity are seen to invite and encourage.

To accomplish our evident duty, every priest must remember that he is a member of the common family and as he helps, or neglects, so is the entire family effected. The very life of the family must exact the fullest interests and consecration of its members. No excuse may prevail with Him who has charged us with the highest commission given unto men, for neglect of opportunity to make our presence and personal efforts felt for the common good, and the up-building of His Kingdom. In unity there is invincible strength. In the lack of unity there is always an unhealthy weakness. In all solemnity, we must remind ourselves that we need no other interpretation for our recognized weakness in this Diocese, than our lack of enthusiastic unity. God grant us grace to see the danger to our Diocese, and the fault of it in ourselves.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. F. ROSENMULLER.

Astoria, May 14, 1913.

XIII.

REPORT OF THE RURAL DEAN OF THE CENTRAL CONVOCATION.

To the Bishop and Members of the Twenty-Fifth Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The Central Convocation held two meetings during the year, one at Newport in the summer of 1912 and one in Salem later in the year. These were attended in each case by nearly all of the clergy in the Convocation,—with the addition of our beloved Bishop, Archdeacon Chambers, and the Rev. Geo. Hunting, the Secretary of the Eighth Missionary Department. The laity have not attended these meetings so far to any large extent, but we expect this will come later. These gatherings have been productive of great good and we confidently expect greater results in the future in arousing interest in the missionary work of the Church.

Respectfully submitted,

P. K. HAMMOND,
Dean.

XIV.REPORT OF THE RURAL DEAN OF THE SOUTHERN CONVOCATION.

To the Bishop and Members of the Twenty-Fifth Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The primary meeting of the Southern Convocation was held in Trinity Parish house during the session of Convention on Thursday, May 16, 1912. The clerical members present were Rev. Wm. Horsfall, Bandon; Rev. C. W. Baker, Roseburg; Rev. W. B. Hamilton, Grants Pass; Rev. R. E. Browning, Marshfield; Rev. J. Sheerin, Medford. Rev. Wm. Horsfall having been appointed Dean by The Bishop on the nomination of the Convocation, took the chair. Rev. W. B. Hamilton was elected Secretary. On motion of Rev. R. E. Browning, the meeting adjourned. The second meeting was held in Medford on Monday and Tuesday, October 7 and 8. All the clergy were present excepting the Dean. Several lay representatives were also present. The conference Monday afternoon was followed by a missionary meeting at night.

Tuesday morning in St. Mark's Church, the Holy Communion was celebrated by the Bishop. During the conference the conditions and prospects of the missionary work in the counties comprising the Southern Convocation were discussed and addresses were made on the subject, "Thy Kingdom Come," by Revs. R. E. Browning, W. B. Hamilton, the Archdeacon and the Bishop. On the invitation of Rev. C. W. Baker it was agreed to hold the next meeting at Roseburg on the Monday and Tuesday next preceding the Diocesan Convention in May, 1913.

The conference closed with noonday prayers for missions and the Episcopal benediction of the Bishop.

W. HORSFALL,
Dean.

XV.REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIAN EDUCATION.

The report of this committee includes only the time between the beginning of Lent to the present date.

On the resignation of Rev. J. E. H. Simpson, the Rev. Mr. Robinson was appointed a member of the committee and chairman.

At the wise suggestion of the Bishop, a series of lectures were given each week during Lent on Sunday School and Missionary work. These were well attended and your committee feels confident that they have brought forth much fruit.

Some method of instructing the children in the outlying districts of the Diocese where no parish exists is strongly recommended.

If some Christian man or woman could institute and carry out a correspondence course of Christian instruction, your committee feels it would be very beneficial.

Respectfully submitted,

A. A. MORRISON,
H. B. LEONARD,
ROLLINS K. PAGE,
C. W. ROBINSON.

XVI.REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE TREASURER.

Your Committee has reviewed the report of the Treasurer of the Diocese and finds that his report has been duly audited. It desires to draw attention to two matters only:

First—In the matter of apportionments at the close of the fiscal year 1912, twenty-two parishes and missions were delinquent to the amount of $990.00. At the close of the fiscal year 1913, seventeen parishes or missions were delinquent to the amount of $744.00, a gain of five to the amount of $246.00.

Second—Although nine parishes or missions were delinquent in the matter of assessments at the close of the year.

all but two had paid their assessments before the Convention met. Good Samaritan, Corvallis and St. John's, Sellwood, which had not paid its assessments for two consecutive years.

HENRY RUSSELL TALBOT,
GEO. F. ROSENMULLER,
CHAS. B. PFAHLER.

XVII.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH.

Your Committee on the State of the Church beg leave to report that they have not the data at hand to make an adequate report. We note, however, that the property interests of the Diocese have been well cared for and that one new Church has been purchased during the past year.

We congratulate the Church on the fact that all the work of the Diocese has, in the main, been well sustained.

We suggest, however, that a more definite attempt should be made to reach the unshepherded in the Diocese.

Your Committee would call attention to the Sunday School work of the Church, without offering a solution of the problem we feel that the small increase, if any, in the membership of our Sunday Schools, and the small proportions of confirmations from among their members, presents cause for apprehension for the future of the Church. This constitutes in our mind one of the most serious problems before the Church today.

WM. B. HAMILTON,
GEO. F. ROSENMULLER,
H. D. CHAMBERS,
W. M. RAMSEY,
FRANK SPITTLE.

XVIII.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

Your Committee feels that the Diocese is to be congratulated on the Report of the Board of School Trustees. The work at St. Helen's Hall, as shown by this report, continues to maintain the high standard of excellence of which the Diocese is so proud.

The reopening of the Bishop Scott Grammar School marks the realization of a long deferred hope.

Your committee joins with the Board in appealing to the Diocese to support this new venture which it has launched in response to the desire and demand of the Diocese.

WM. B. HAMILTON,
HORACE D. RAMSDELL,
HAMILTON JOHNSTONE.

XIX.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

The Committee on the Bishop's Annual Address desires to express the gratification of the Convention upon both the growing unity of the Diocese and upon the practical manifestation of this temper of co-operation in unprecedented offerings and contributions for the manifold work of the Church.

Attention is especially invited to the Church Endowment Society which is strongly commended by both the Bishop and the Chancellor. The proposition is extremely simple. A person can take out an ordinary life policy or a 20 or 15-year endowment and be sure the money will go to the parochial or Diocesan object in which he is interested. The proposed new system of balloting commends itself to our judgment and we think the Convention will do well to adopt this time-saving method.

Your Committee would supplement the Bishop's feeling allusion to the passing of two former members of this body. Resolutions concerning the death of Rev. Wm. Lucas will be presented by the members of the Southern Convocation. Regarding the death of James Laidlaw, we beg to submit the following as an expression of this body of Churchmen:

The Church of Oregon in Diocesan Convention assembled desires to record its appreciation of the life and example of our deceased brother, the late James Laidlaw. He was a Christian soldier whose deep convictions and courageous warfare in the Master's service were an inspiration to his comrades of the Army of God in the fight for the uplift of humanity.

As a member of the Diocesan Convention for nearly twenty years he was prompt in his attendance, diligent and vigilant for the interests of the Church and wise in his counsels. We shall feel the loss of his presence and brotherly advice, but rejoice in the memory of his saintly life and character.

A copy of this record shall be transmitted to the afflicted widow and family with expressions of our deep and loving sympathy.

Respectfully submitted,

F. M. BAUM,
C. W. ROBINSON,
S. E. JOSEPH.

XX.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

Your Committee to which was referred the report of the Board of Church Extension, desire heartily to commend the Board for its most faithful and efficient work, and to congratulate the Board on the advantages which it has enjoyed under the working of their new rules.

The Convention should feel profoundly grateful for the record of the year past so far surpassing anything the Diocese has known in its past history. But good rules are good only as they are worked and your Committee trusts that all clergy, parishes and missions will co-operate heartily with the Bishop and the Board of Church Extension in the so far successful efforts, under the new rules, to push forward the advance line of effort.

Two matters in this report seem to call for special mention. First, that the sum of the unpaid pledges would, if paid, enable the board to place one or two more missionaries in the field. If delinquent congregations would realize that they are actually thus depriving places and people of the Church's ministrations they would no doubt make some, or greater efforts to do their duty. This we are told is true. At least two fields are unworked because of their delinquency. May it be hoped that next year's report will show these two places at least supplied. Second, the Archdeacon reports that he has been so largely engaged in supplying vacancies that he has been prevented from engaging as largely as he would like to do in Church extension work.

Your Committee would suggest that rectors planning holidays and committees of vacant parishes and missions try other sources of supply first, only turning to the Archdeacon when all other possible sources have failed.

REPORT OF THE OREGON CHURCHMAN.

Twenty-fifth Annual Convention, Diocese of Oregon:

The Bishop has asked me to make a report on the business management of the Oregon Churchman.

I only wish that I could report favorably. My failure to report favorably is partially due to the lack of attention given by the Business Manager, and largely by the lack of evident signs of interest shown by a large percentage of both clergy and Communicants in the Diocese.

I, as Business Manager, have not had at my disposal sufficient time nor help to devote to its successful management. During the year I have made several attempts to arouse some interest, and I might here say that Coos Bay made the only successful effort in the Diocese towards enlarging its circulation, and also through their efforts they paid for that month's entire issue.

I want at this time to give credit to Mr. A. S. Auterson, the publisher, who has worked heart and soul, and has financially carried the publication, at times amounting to over $200.00, and who has at all times given his best efforts in its behalf.

The publication is sorely in need of a Business Manager who can devote sufficient time to its management to make it a success.

The circulation has declined, due to many requesting that their subscriptions be discontinued and by many being taken from the roll by failure to pay their dues. The latter has only been done in extreme cases, which have been entirely too frequent. We have subscribers as follows:

In the city of Portland 262, of which 71 per cent are delinquent.

In the country 451, of which 80 per cent are delinquent.

Outside of the Diocese 128, making a total of 702, of which only 574 reside in the Diocese.

Looking at the circulation from an Advertiser's stand it is of little value. The Oregon Churchman reaches only 16 per cent of the Communicants of the Diocese, which is not a very good showing, taking into consideration the number of years that the paper has been in existence. My observation has been that a great many look upon the Oregon Churchman as an object of charity. I am positive that the Bishop is much opposed to having it considered as such. It is the official publication of the Diocese of Oregon and should be given active support, and should not be treated as a joke.

With only 574 Communicants taking the paper in the Diocese, the publication has but a small chance to survive. The publication costs considerably more than the amount charged for by subscription, so consequently we must rely almost solely upon our advertising, and it is needless to say that the average Advertiser will not take space in a paper whose representation among its own people is so small.

Financially the paper is in fairly good shape.

In the last year, beginning May 1st, 1912, and ending April 30th, 1913, we have received from all sources $1,011.85. We have expended $1,074.20. You will note a difference of $62.35 in favor of expenditures, which represents money advanced personally by the Business Manager to keep the affairs of the paper going.

The Business Manager would suggest that the Bishop either appoint some one to assist, or appoint some one to fill the office of Business Manager whose duties during business hours are so divided as to permit time to successfully fill the office.

Respectfully submitted,
RALPH HAHN,
Business Manager Oregon Churchman.

REPORT OF THE REGISTRAR OF THE DIOCESE.

To the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

I beg leave to submit my report as Registrar of the Diocese.

Upon taking charge of the new quarters assigned to me in the Percival Memorial Library, I found that the Archdeacon had very kindly placed the names of the Dioceses upon the shelves which were to hold the Journals of the past five years.

I have received very few Journals the past year.

The new canons require the Secretary of the Diocese to turn over to the Registrar copies of all Journals received by him, and they should be sent to the Percival Memorial Library, 548 Nineteenth Street, Portland, Oregon.

Respectfully submitted,
W. A. M. BRECK.

XXIII.

REPORT OF THE REINFORCEMENT COMMITTEE.

To the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The Reinforcement Fund.

Statement of the receipts and disbursements of the Reinforcement Fund from April 8, 1911 (the date on which the first subscription was paid in), to May 1, 1913:

Receipts	$660.00
Disbursements	300.11

Balance in hands of Mr. Sanderson Reed, Treasurer	$359.89
---	----------

Pledges to the fund, payable annually.....	$730.00
Interest pledged in aid of Missions.....	714.50

The object, method and needs of the Fund are as follows:

Object—To help parishes and missions to help themselves.

Method—By paying interest on their loans thus enabling them to devote their efforts to paying the principal. Ten per cent of their loans to be repaid annually. When loans have been paid in full the parish or mission is pledged to repay to the fund the interest advanced in equal annual payments, thus making the fund perpetual.

Needs—Annual subscriptions to enable the committee to enlarge the scope of its work.

The Bishop's Committee are Mr. Rodney L. Glisan, Chancellor of the Diocese, and Messrs. James B. Kerr, Charles N. Huggins, Walter S. Asher, Sanderson Reed and Chas. B. Pfahler.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. B. PFAHLER,
Secretary.

Portland, Oregon, May 1, 1913.

REPORT OF THE CHAPLAIN OF THE CITY MISSION.

To the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The Committee on City Missions, appointed by the Bishop, consists of the following members:

Mr. F. C. Malpas, treasurer, Canadian Bank of Commerce. Mr. C. F. Adams, Mr. Oscar Menefee, Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie.

Besides the work of surveying the field, with a view of establishing at least a reading room and conducting services in the downtown district, many other lines of service have been found to need the time and services of the Chaplain of the City Missions.

To speak of these first, I would report that, on the invitation of four of our city Clergy, I have preached on the subject of our work in their Parish Churches and have addressed several guilds and other organizations and have given a series of lectures on the West and East Sides to arouse and instruct the social consciousness of our Church people.

In the matter of conducting the services of the Church in public institutions: It is a pleasure to report that the services so long maintained by the late Mr. Laidlaw have been continued on the fourth Sunday in each month largely through the co-operation of Churchmen and women, mostly from Trinity Parish. Lack of opportunity, time and organization have prevented services being held in other public institutions.

In pastoral work among individuals my cards have been left with the managers of the hotels with the request that their guests be informed that the chaplain's services were at their disposal in cases of sickness and distress.

As chaplain of the Actors' Church Alliance, I have had posted in the theatres the cards of the Alliance which announce the Clergy, the services in their Churches, who are chaplains of the A. C. A.

Some time and much thought and correspondence have been given to the work for the sailors but so far it has been confined to individual ministration; two lads being prepared for Confirmation.

Ministry to individuals in the jails and other places has brought me into contact with county and city officials and has taught me somewhat of local needs and conditions. Accordingly, I can safely report that there is, in such ministry to private individuals and in public institutions, enough work to more than occupy the time and ability of a city missionary.

While much of this work has given sights and insights into our needs and opportunities, the survey proper has consisted of two automobile trips, by the courtesy of Mr. Adams, to the south, north and east parts of the city, in addition to many walking trips over portions of the same territory. Speaking subject to correction by better informed persons, I would consider the North End the field best adapted to the location of a reading room and to reaching with the Church's ministrations the largest number of single and homeless men, which, I infer, is the sort of ministry contemplated in this survey. The availability of rooms in this quarter has not been investigated by the chaplain because he thinks that business men can handle such affairs to better advantage. From the police and my own observation I learned that the district is filled with men from November to March, to many of whom a decent resort would be welcome and through which others might be shown the better way of spending their time. Back of and previous to beginning such a settlement, with a reading room and services for a starter, lies the necessary organization of men and women who would work in the mission and share in all the undertakings of the City Missions.

To this end I would suggest that, with your approval, the Bishop arrange for a meeting of the Church people of Portland to organize so that the City Missions shall represent the whole Church in action for the common good. Realizing that by reason of my newness in the city and especially on account of my inexperience with this particular work the omissions and defects of this report must be patent to every member of this committee, I therefore submit it with much diffidence to your tender mercies and crave your indulgence for its shortcomings.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERIC K. HOWARD,
Chaplain.

XXV.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE AGENT OF THE GENERAL CLERGY RELIEF FUND.

We, your Committee on the report of the Treasurer of the Christmas Fund, beg leave to report:

That it is gratifying to find so many of the parishes and missions contributing to this worthy fund, and we believe that if the spirit and letter of the Canons were carried out and the proper authorized person elected by the Standing Committee from their own number received the offerings, there would not be a tendency on the part of some parishes and missions to forward them on their own responsibility to the General Treasurer. In the statement of the General Treasurer of the fund due credit is given, but your Committee is of the opinion that the full record of offerings and

Churches and missions contributing should be recorded in our Diocesan Journal.

We most respectfully petition the Bishop of the Diocese to issue an annual pastoral to all parishes and missions urging them to interest themselves in this most worthy cause, directing them where to send their offerings.

Your Committee does not desire to cast any reflection upon Mr. Geo. C. Nicholson for his faithful services, but we earnestly believe that a more intelligent system would be most beneficial in dealing with the Christmas Fund in this Diocese.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN DAWSON,
WM. HORSFALL.

XXVI.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE EPISCOPAL FUND.

Your Committee begs to report that from an examination of the Report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund and from supplemental examination furnished by members of said board it appears that payments of rentals due from the lessees of property in block 275, Couch addition, to the City of Portland, are delinquent, and it seems probable that the lease on said property will be cancelled. Such cancellation will, temporarily at least, cause a reduction of approximately two thousand dollars per year in the income of the Fund, with the result that the total income will be insufficient to pay the Episcopal stipend and other necessary expenses. This situation is regrettable from a financial viewpoint, but this Committee, nevertheless, looks forward with feelings of gratification and relief to the probable severance of all business relations with the lessees of the property in question.

We recommend that in future no lease of any magnitude covering a considerable period of time shall be made without thorough investigation of the moral and financial responsibility of the second party thereto and without a good and sufficient bond guaranteeing performance of the contract on the part of the lessee.

In all other respects the report is approved and the work of the Trustees is highly commended.

Respectfully submitted,

P. K. HAMMOND,
C. W. HUGGINS,
WM. B. HAMILTON,
H. D. CHAMBERS.

XXVII.

REPORT OF THE ARCHDEACON.

To the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

My work as Archdeacon has been much the same as in past years. I have visited and cared for the smaller missions in the Diocese, and supplied vacant parishes and missions when called upon to do so. The time should come when the Archdeacon could give the most of his time in visiting the smaller towns where the Church is not known and in looking up the scattered Churchmen over the Diocese.

My statistical report does not read large as compared with the energy expended: Places visited 31, services held 151, Baptisms 5, marriages 13, burials 9, sermons and addresses 163.

Most respectfully,

H. D. CHAMBERS.

§40. Sec. 3. When any vote is taken by orders, a majority of the lay delegates from each parish shall determine the vote of that parish. When the delegates of a parish are equally divided the vote of the parish shall be given as "divided," and shall have no affirmative value. In the case of an election, however, in computing the total number of votes cast a divided vote shall be reckoned as one vote.

§41. Sec. 4. All elections shall be by ballot unless the same be dispensed with by unanimous consent. In any election in which a vote by orders is not prescribed, such vote may be required in the manner provided in Section 2 of this Article.

§42. Sec. 5. No vote may be cast by proxy.

He shall give such security for the faithful performance of his duties as shall be prescribed by Canon. The Standing Committee, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Ecclesiastical Authority and the Chancellor, may remove the Treasurer from office for any serious neglect or misconduct, of which they shall be the judges; provided, that the Treasurer shall in no case be removed unless and until he shall have had sufficient opportunity to appear in person, and if he desire, by counsel, and to defend himself before a regularly called meeting of the Standing Committee, at which the Bishop, if there be one, and the Chancellor must also be present, unless they are without the bounds of the Diocese, or incapacitated by serious illness at the time appointed for the said meeting.

§49. Sec. 4. The Registrar shall be chosen from among the Presbyters of the Convention, and the same person may be elected to the offices of Secretary and Registrar, at the pleasure of the Convention; provided, that the election to each office shall be by separate and distinct votes; but the ballot may be dispensed with as provided in §41 Section 3 of Article IX.

Any four members (the whole having been summoned), shall be a quorum; except for such purposes as, agreeably to their own rules, may require a larger number. They may make rules of meeting and business and alter and repeal them from time to time. Vacancies in said Committee, occurring by death or otherwise, shall be supplied by the concurrent vote of the clerical and lay members of the Committee.

§59. Sec. 4. Due notice in writing shall be sent to all members at least three days before the time of any meeting of the Standing Committee; provided, however, that with the express consent of every member a meeting may at any time be held without such notice.

§59. Sec. 5. In case of a vacancy in the Episcopate the powers and duties to be performed by the Bishop in matters of discipline shall be performed by the Standing Committee, except in those cases where such powers and duties are or may be specially delegated to or enjoined upon the clerical members of said Committee, in which case such powers and duties shall be exercised by said clerical members alone. §64. Sec. 2. The Convention shall in like manner elect the same number of alternate deputies from each order.

§65. Sec. 3. Each deputy so elected shall notify the Ecclesiastical Authority in writing at least six weeks before the said meeting of the General Convention, of his acceptance of the appointment and intention to perform its duties, in default of which the Ecclesiastical Authority shall designate one of the alternate deputies to take his place; and the Ecclesiastical Authority shall likewise designate one or more of the alternate deputies, as the case may require, to supply any deficiency in the representation of the Diocese which may in any way occur. And the person or persons so designated by the Ecclesiastical Authority, being furnished with his or their certificate thereof, as the case may be, shall have all the power and authority of deputies duly elected by the Convention.

If in any parish the rectorship be vacant, the committee shall take the average of the previous five years (or less, if the parish be of less age). If any parish or mission shall fail to file with the Diocesan Secretary a copy of its annual report for that year, as required by Section 290 of these Canons, then the assessment committee shall arbitrarily fix the amount of the assessment of such parish or mission.

All persons qualified to sign the application and intending to be members of the mission, shall be entitled to attend and take part in the meeting, whether actual signers or not. The meeting shall choose a name for the mission, whether the name proposed in the application or another, which name, if approved by the Ecclesiastical Authority, shall become the name of the mission. The meeting shall also elect two wardens, a clerk and a treasurer, all of whom shall be communicants of full age. The wardens shall always be men, but in case of necessity women may be chosen for clerk or treasurer.

Sec. 190. It shall be the duty of the wardens, under the direction of the missionary, to procure a proper place to be used as a place of worship; to see that the same is kept clean and in good repair, and that it be provided with all things necessary for conducting the services of the Church decently and in order. They shall also have the charge of all property of the mission, except real property, and shall co-operate with the Bishop, Archdeacon or Dean of Convocation in maintaining services in the absence of a missionary.

Sec. 191. It shall be the duty of the treasurer to collect or receive all moneys contributed by the mission, and to remit or disburse them according to the direction of the Board of Church Extension.

Sec. 192. It shall be the duty of the clerk to keep a record of events of importance to the mission, and a list of its families and members, and to keep the minutes of all business meetings of the mission and of the board of officers.

Sec. 193. The wardens, clerk and treasurer, together with the missionary, who shall be chairman ex-officio, shall constitute the board of officers of the mission, to have charge of its secular and financial affairs, subject to such civil and canonical limitations as are now or may hereafter be provided.

Sec. 194. The title of real estate given to or purchased by any organized mission shall be vested in the corporation of "The Diocese of Oregon"; but no gift or donation shall be accepted, nor any purchase made for the mission, without the consent of the Bishop and the said corporation. The Bishop may, in his discretion, deed and convey to the said corporation the title to any or all mission property held in his name as corporation sole or otherwise.

Sec. 195. Every mission in which a missionary of the Diocese ministers shall pledge and pay monthly to the treasurer of the Board of Church Extension such an amount as may be agreed upon, from time to time, by the mission and the said board. And the refusal or failure of any mission to make and continue such pledge and payment shall be sufficient ground for the withdrawal of the missionary.

Sec. 196. There shall be an annual meeting of the members of every mission, on the first Monday in May, at eight o'clock P. M., or as soon thereafter as possible, as the missionary (or wardens, if there be no missionary,) may determine. The qualification of voters shall be the same as those of a parish. The annual meeting shall elect the lay officers of the mission, and shall transact any other business which may canonically come before it. The notice of the annual meeting shall be given by the missionary (or warden, if there be no missionary,) in the same manner as provided for parish meetings. In case of a vacancy in the office of warden, clerk or treasurer of a mission, the Bishop may appoint until the next annual meeting.

CANON 18.

Missionaries.

Sec. 201. Missionaries shall be appointed by the Ecclesiastical Authority. The salaries of missionaries shall be determined by the Board of Church Extension. The rector of a parish, with the consent of the vestry, may be assigned to additional duty as a missionary.

Sec. 202. The duties of a missionary in charge of a mission shall be as far as applicable the same as those of the rector of a parish.

Sec. 203. Every missionary in the Diocese, or other clergyman doing missionary work in the Diocese, shall transmit quarterly to the Bishop, in duplicate, a written report, separately for each mission in his charge, in such form as may be prescribed by the Board of Church Extension. The Bishop shall file such reports with the Secretary of the Board of Church Extension. The secretary of said board shall forward one copy of each of said reports to the Dean of the Convocation in which the mission is situated.

Sec. 204. The style and title of a missionary in charge of any mission shall be "Vicar."

CANON 19.

CANON 22.

The Vestry.

Sec. 228. In every parish there shall be a vestry, which shall consist of the rector (if there be one) and the wardens and vestrymen; and the corporate name of the parish shall be the same as provided in Canon 21. The duties of the vestry shall be to manage all the temporal concerns of the parish. In case of a vacancy in the rectorship, they shall elect a rector in accordance with the provisions of these Canons; but no Rector shall have any vote in the election of his successor.

Sec. 229. Every parish shall ordain for itself the number of vestrymen, the number to be determined by the annual parish meeting each year; provided, that no change shall be made in the number of vestrymen, as already determined and existing at the time of any such annual meeting, except by three-fourths vote of all the qualified voters present at the said annual meeting; and provided further, that the number shall not be fewer than five nor more than nine, exclusive of the Rector. All vestrymen, except the rector, shall be laymen, qualified to vote for vestrymen in the parish, and a majority of such laymen must be communicants. All vestrymen shall be males.

Sec. 230. The vestry shall have power to fill any vacancy or vacancies which may occur in their body until the next regular election of vestrymen, and shall continue in office until their successors shall be duly elected.

Sec. 231. It shall be the duty of the rector or clergyman in charge, or in case of his absence, of the clerk, to call a meeting of the vestrymen as soon after their election as possible. At this meeting the rector shall appoint one of the vestrymen to be senior warden, and the vestry shall elect another of them to be junior warden; provided, that in case of a vacancy in the rectorship, the vestry shall elect both the wardens. At the same meeting the vestry shall also elect a clerk and a treasurer. The clerk and treasurer may or may not be members of the vestry.

Sec. 232. Both the wardens must be communicants in good standing in the Church. They shall remain in office until their successors are duly chosen, unless they or either of them shall not be re-elected vestrymen at the annual parish meeting when held; in which case they or either of them shall ipso facto vacate the office of warden upon the adjournment of the said annual meeting.

Sec. 233. The clerk and treasurer shall by virtue of their election become the clerk and treasurer, respectively, of the parish corporation. They shall continue in office until their successors are duly elected.

Sec. 234. Each parish shall regulate for itself, through its vestry, the stated meetings of its vestry; but special meetings may be called at any time by the rector, or both the wardens, or by any three vestrymen, by giving three days' notice, by mail, to each member of the vestry.

Sec. 235. A quorum of a vestry shall consist of a majority of all the members thereof, and no meetings shall be held without the attendance of the rector or one of the wardens.

CANON 23.

Duties of Wardens.

Sec. 240. The wardens, under the rector or clergyman regularly officiating, shall have a care that the church building be kept from all secular or other uses not authorized by the canon law of the Church, that it be kept clean and in good repair, as becometh the house of God, and that the premises thereof be kept in proper order. They shall also see that the parish be provided with all things necessary for conducting the services of the Church decently and in order; shall gather the alms and other offerings of the people in decent basins provided for the purpose, and reverently bring the same to the minister; and shall preserve order and decorum in and around the church building on all occasions whatever, and especially during the time of divine worship. In case there be no rector, or in his absence or inability to act, the senior warden, or in his absence, the junior warden, shall preside at all meetings of the vestry and of the parish. The wardens shall perform all other duties which are assigned to them by the Canons of the General Convention and of this Diocese.

CANON 24.

Duties of Officers.

Sec. 243. It shall be the duty of the clerk to attend all meetings of the vestry and of the parish, to take minutes of their proceedings, and when approved enter and attest the same in the book of minutes of the vestry and parish; to act as clerk of the parish corporation and as such to attest the public acts of the vestry, to preserve the journals and records of the parish, and to perform such other duties as may be legally assigned him. He shall deliver into the hands of his successor all the books and papers relative to the affairs of the parish, which may be in his possession.

Sec. 244. It shall be the duty of the treasurer to receive all moneys collected under authority of the vestry, the reception and disbursement of which is not otherwise provided for; and in case there be no collector appointed by the vestry, he shall also collect the same. No money shall be paid out by the treasurer except on an order from the vestry signed by the rector or one of the wardens. The treasurer shall present to the parish at the annual meeting a full and accurate statement of all moneys received and paid by him during the year preceding, accompanied by vouchers. The treasurer shall be subject to the direction of the vestry in all matters pertaining to the duties of his office, and shall answer all questions as to the state of the treasury; and if he be not a member of the vestry, shall attend its meetings when requested. The books and accounts of the treasurer shall be open at all times to the inspection of the rector, wardens and vestrymen.

CANON 25.

The Rector.

Sec. 248. The rector, subject to the Bishop of the Diocese, shall have exclusive charge of all things pertaining to or affecting the spiritual interests of the parish. It shall be his duty and right to give order concerning public worship, together with all that appertains thereto. He shall at all times have access to the church building or buildings, and shall have the custody of the keys of the same. He shall have the spiritual direction and control of all associations of the parish, and shall preside, with right to vote, at all parish and vestry meetings; provided, that the presiding officer of the vestry or parish meeting, if voting as a member thereof, shall not have a casting vote in case of a tie.

Sec. 249. Whenever the rectorship of a parish shall become vacant, it shall be the duty of the wardens to give immediate notice thereof to the Bishop, who may appoint a clergyman to fill such vacancy until a rector is elected and takes charge.

Sec. 250. Whenever a rector shall resign, or the rectorship of a parish shall otherwise become vacant, the vestry shall not proceed to fill the vacancy until after a written communication from the vestry to the Bishop, if there be one, officially advising him of the vacancy. At the expiration of at least ten days thereafter the senior warden, or in his absence the junior warden, shall call a meeting of the vestry, giving not less than ten days' written notice thereof, and stating the purpose of the meeting to be the selection of a rector. The warden shall at the same time notify the Bishop of the time and place of such meeting and invite him to be present thereat. If the Bishop shall not be present at the meeting of the vestry at which a rector shall be selected, the warden shall, immediately after such meeting, communicate to the Bishop the name of the clergyman selected. If the Bishop shall desire to confer with the vestry thereon, he shall designate a date for the conference, which date shall be within thirty days after the aforesaid notification, and thereupon the warden shall call a meeting of the vestry at the time so designated for the purpose of such conference. Upon the expiration of thirty days after the meeting at which a rector shall have been selected the warden shall call a meeting of the vestry, giving not less than five days' written notice thereof, and stating the purpose of the meeting to be the election of a rector. It shall require an affirmative vote of two thirds of the whole number of vestrymen to elect a rector. If the person selected shall not be elected or being elected shall decline, the same procedure shall be followed.

Sec. 251. Upon the election of a rector the wardens of the parish shall give immediate notice of such election to the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese, whereupon the person elected may enter upon the rectorship, subject, however, to the consent of the Bishop, as provided in the General Canons.

CANON 26.

Audit of Accounts.

Sec. 254. The vestry of each parish shall appoint during the year two auditors, neither of them being treasurer or clerk of the parish, who shall, before the annual meeting of the parish, examine the books and audit the accounts of the treasurer, and make a written report to the vestry. The same report shall also be read at the annual parish meeting.

CANON 27.

Parish Meetings.

Sec. 257. There shall be an annual parish meeting in every parish, for the purpose of hearing and acting upon the reports of the rector, the treasurer, the auditing committee, the Sunday School, and the various parish guilds and other organizations; for the election of vestrymen, as provided in these canons; and for the transaction of such other business as may legally and canonically come before the meeting.

Sec. 258. The annual parish meeting shall be held on the first Monday in May of each year, at eight o'clock P. M., or on such other day and hour in that same week as may have been determined by the vestry at a duly convened vestry meeting held not later than the last Monday in April next preceding; provided, that if for any cause the said annual parish meeting shall not be held during the said week, the vestry shall appoint another date, as early as possible thereafter, for the said meeting.

Sec. 259. Official notice of the annual parish meeting shall consist of a written notice signed by the rector or by one of the wardens, and posted on the outside of the church door at least one week before the date for such meeting; provided, that if the said meeting shall not have been held during the week beginning with the first Monday in May, three days' notice shall suffice.

Sec. 260. All communicants of the Church twenty-one years of age who have been enrolled on the parish register for six months immediately preceding any parish meeting, and have communicated in the parish during the year preceding; and all baptized persons of like age who are and have been contributors, in their own names, to the support of the parish for not less than six months preceding, shall be legal voters of the parish. Voting by proxy shall not be allowed. If the parish shall have been organized within six months prior to the day of such parish meeting, then the period of membership or contributions shall date from such organization.

Sec. 261. The rector shall preside at all parish meetings. If there be no rector, or in case of his absence or disability, one of the wardens shall preside, as provided in Section 240 of Canon 23. The clerk of the vestry shall be clerk of the parish, and shall act as such at all parish meetings. In case of his absence, the meeting shall elect a clerk pro tempore.

Sec. 262. The election of vestrymen shall be by ballot. Three tellers shall be appointed, one by the presiding officer, one by the vestrymen present, and the third by these two. The tellers shall receive and count the votes for vestrymen, and shall also act as judges of the election. Any legal voter may challenge the right of any person to vote, and the judges of election shall decide the question. Whenever a vote shall be challenged, the judges shall endorse upon the ballot the name of the voter, whether the vote was allowed or rejected, and affix thereto their signatures. It shall be the duty of the clerk to enclose all ballots cast at the election, and all rejected ballots, in an envelope duly sealed, to be endorsed by himself and the judges, and deliver the same to the vestry; and it shall be preserved unopened, subject to the order of the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese.

Sec. 263. The presiding officer shall act as inspector of election and certify who are elected vestrymen.

Sec. 264. An appeal from the certified result of the election shall lie to the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese. In case of such appeal, the Ecclesiastical Authority shall recanvass the vote and ascertain and declare the result of the election; and its decision upon such appeal shall be final.

Sec. 265. Special parish meetings may be called at any time by the rector or the vestry, notice of any such special meeting being given in the same manner as the notice of the annual parish meeting; provided, that the notice shall set forth the business which it is proposed to transact; and no other business than that specified in the notice shall be in order.

CANON 28.

Parish and Mission Boundaries.

Sec. 269. If there be but one parish or mission within any village, town, city, county, or section of a county, it shall be deemed the spiritual cure of the clergyman having charge thereof. If there be two or more parishes or missions therein, it shall be deemed the cure of the clergymen thereof.

Sec. 270. No parish or mission may be organized within the limits of any city or municipality in which there is already a parish duly organized, without the consent in writing first given of the rector and vestry or rectors and vestries of the parish or parishes in such city or municipality contiguous to the proposed new parish or mission, unless by decision of the Bishop acting by and with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee.

Sec. 271. It shall be lawful for the rectors and vestries of two or more parishes within the same city or municipality to agree upon boundaries for their respective parishes without regard to existing civil divisions; but the parish boundaries thus agreed upon shall not be definitely settled until approved by the Bishop, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee; provided, that, if there shall be another parish or other parishes within the limits of the city or municipality, then the rector and vestry or rectors and vestries of such other parish or parishes shall be given full opportunity for a hearing before the Standing Committee before such approval, advice and consent shall be given; and provided further, that nothing in this Canon shall be held to prohibit any parish from having its territory partly within and partly without the limits of any city or municipality.

Sec. 272. In cases where the rectors and vestries of any parishes, however situate with respect to each other, are unable or unwilling to agree upon boundaries for their respective parishes, the Bishop and Standing Committee may proceed to define the boundaries of the parishes involved, without regard to existing civil divisions; provided, that such definition of boundaries shall be only upon application of the rector and vestry of one of the said parishes, and upon proof or statement satisfactory to the Bishop and Standing Committee that such rector and vestry have requested the rector and vestry or rectors and vestries of any other parishes to join with them in assigning such boundaries, and that such other rector and vestry or rectors and vestries have refused or neglected for the space of sixty days to comply with their request, and after due notice by the secretary of the Standing Committee to the rectors and vestries of all parishes affected by the application, and full opportunity given to all such rectors and vestries to be heard.

Sec. 273. The rector and vestry of a parish may at any time apply to the Bishop and Standing Committee to have boundaries assigned to their own parish, provided that such boundaries do not affect any other parish.

Sec. 274. The parish boundaries thus constituted shall be valid for all canonical purposes, and also for fixing the parochial connection of all persons desiring, or entitled to, the ministrations of this Church, who have not by some act of their own become attached to a parish or mission, and for defining for each rector the extent of his responsibility for the cure of souls. But nothing in this Canon shall be construed to prevent any clergyman of this Church from ministering privately to persons belonging to his own parish in any occasional office of the Church, or from officiating publicly in any cemetery or other place of burial.

Sec. 275. Parish and mission boundaries established under the provisions of this Canon may be changed from time to time by the joint action of the Bishop and Standing Committee; but no such change shall be made until all the rectors and vestries whose parishes would be affected by it shall have had full opportunity of being heard in relation thereto.

Sec. 276. Whenever it shall be proposed to define or change the boundaries of any parish or parishes, the missionary and wardens of any organized mission which would be affected thereby shall have the same rights of notice and hearing before the Bishop and Standing Committee as the rector and vestry of a parish.

CANON 29.

Change of Name of Parish or Mission.

Sec. 281. Whenever a parish or mission shall desire to change its name, application therefor shall be made by the rector and vestry of the parish or the vicar and wardens of the mission, as the case may be, to the Bishop and Standing Committee, with a full statement of the reasons for the proposed change; and the Bishop and Standing Committee shall have power to give consent to the change proposed. But no such application shall be made, nor such consent given, without the approval previously obtained of a duly convened meeting of the legal voters of the parish or mission.

CANON 30.

Parish Register.

Sec. 285. Every rector or clergyman in charge of a parish or mission, or if there be no clergyman, then one of the wardens, shall keep in a suitable book, to be provided by the officers of the parish or mission, a record of all families, baptisms, confirmations, marriages and burials, within the cure; specifying the names, time and place of birth, parents and sponsors of each person baptized; the names of all communicants; the time when persons became communicants under his charge, and whether by confirmation, transfer from some other parish, or otherwise; the names of those confirmed, and by whom; the names of persons married, and of persons buried, and the time and place of such rite respectively. This book shall be known as the "Parish Register," and shall be preserved as a part of the record of the parish or mission, and it shall be the duty of every rector or clergyman in charge, in case of his removal, to deposit this Register with the wardens. This Register shall at all times be open to the inspection of the wardens and vestrymen and of the Bishop of the Diocese and every person deputed by the Bishop to inspect the same.

Sec. 286. Upon the dissolution of a parish or mission, the Register provided for by this Canon shall immediately become the property of the Diocese, and the said Register shall be deposited with the Bishop, to be under his care for the legitimate purposes thereof.

CANON 31.

Parochial Reports.

Sec. 290. On or before the 10th day of May of each year, every rector or clergyman shall file with the Bishop and the Secretary of the Convention an annual report of his official acts for the preceding fiscal year, and a statement of the condition of the parish or mission which he serves, according to the form prescribed by authority of the Convention.

CANON 32.

Dissolution of Pastoral Relation by Reason of Disability of a Minister.

Sec. 293. Whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Bishop, on competent medical testimony, that by reason of incurable mental or physical disability a clergyman has become incapable of discharging the duties of his cure, it shall be competent for the Bishop, on the application of the vestry of the parish, and upon reasonable notice to all parties concerned, to dissolve the pastoral relation between such clergyman and his Church.

CANON 33.

Bonds of Treasurers.

Sec. 296. The Treasurer of every incorporated board of the Diocese shall give security satisfactory to such board, by bond, for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, in such amount as each such board shall require.

Sec. 297. The treasurer of every parish shall give security satisfactory to the vestry thereof, by bond, in such amount as the vestry shall require, for the faithful performance of the duties of his office.

Sec. 298. The expense, if any, of the bonds required under this Canon shall be paid by the board or parish concerned, as the case may be.

CANON 34.

Corporation of the Diocese.

Sec. 301. The Bishop, the Chancellor, the Treasurer of the Diocese, and two clergymen and two laymen shall become and be a body corporate under the laws of the state, by the name of "The Diocese of Oregon," for the purpose of holding in trust any and all property hereafter given or acquired for objects connected with the Church in the Diocese, other than that held by parochial or other corporations duly organized. They shall be known as the trustees of the corporation of "The Diocese of Oregon." They shall perform such other duties as the Canons may provide.

CANON 36.

City Mission Societies.

Sec. 314. In the discretion and under the direction of the Bishop, city mission societies may be organized for the purpose of ministering to such classes and conditions as are not reached by ordinary parochial agencies. All by-laws or rules drawn up for their government shall be subject to the approval of the Bishop and to the authority of the Canons of the Diocese. The clergyman who shall be appointed by the Bishop to the charge of any such society shall present to the Bishop at each stated meeting of the Convention a detailed report of its work, and its receipts and expenditures.

CANON 37.

Transfer of Communicants.

Sec. 318. A communicant of this Church, changing, by removal or otherwise, his or her parochial connection, shall present a certificate from the minister of the parish or mission of his or her last residence or, if there be no minister, from one of the wardens, stating that he or she is a communicant in good standing; and the minister of the parish or mission into which a communicant removes shall not record his or her name on the parish or mission list until such a letter of commendation shall be delivered or a satisfactory reason be given why the same can not be obtained.

Sec. 319. It is made the duty of every communicant, by the Canon of the General Convention, to apply, on removal, for a certificate of his or her standing. This certificate may be given in the form following, or in such form as may indicate his or her true standing and character:

CANON 38.

Neglect of Holy Communion.

Sec. 323. If the clergyman of a parish or mission shall observe any communicant of the same to be irregular or negligent in coming to the Holy Communion, it shall be his duty to visit the person and admonish him of the bounden duty. If, after such admonition, a communicant shall continue for the space of one year to neglect, or refuse to be a partaker of the Sacrament, then the clergyman may suspend the offending member, and give notice of the same to the ordinary.

Sec. 324. If any communicant shall be absent for the space of two years, consecutively, from a parish or mission, or neglect to receive the Holy Communion for the same period, without reasons assigned therefor, or known and satisfactory to the clergyman, then he shall remove the name of the said communicant from the list of communicants; provided, that the clergyman may restore such communicant on his (or her) application accompanied by evidence satisfactory to the clergyman that the said communicant desires to become an active communicant.

CANON 39.

Complaint on Repulsion.

Sec. 327. When a person to whom the Sacraments of the Church have been refused, or who has been repelled from the Holy Communion under the rubrics, shall lodge a complaint with the Bishop, it shall be the duty of the Bishop, unless he see fit to require the person to be admitted or restored because of the insufficiency of the cause assigned by the clergyman, to institute such an inquiry as follows: The Bishop shall appoint a commission, composed of the Rural Dean and two clergymen of the Convocation in which the parish or mission of the complainant is situate, and the Chancellor of the Diocese, who shall examine the case, and make a report of the facts in writing to the Bishop, with its opinion thereon, who shall then pronounce his decision; provided, that if the Rural Dean be the clergyman who has suspended the said person, the Bishop shall appoint some other clergyman to serve on the commission in his stead.

Sec. 328. When a suspension from the Holy Communion has been confirmed by the Bishop, the suspension shall continue, subject to the conditions of the rubric, and shall be binding on all the clergymen of this Diocese. The duration of all sentences of suspension shall be fixed by the Bishop, and their remission shall be pronounced by him.

CANON 40.

Ecclesiastical Court.

Sec. 332. There shall be an ecclesiastical court of the Diocese of Oregon, to try any clergyman thereof upon charges. It shall consist of five presbyters, members of the Convention, and a lay assessor, a layman learned in the law, who shall be a communicant of the Church, of good reputation for gravity and soundness in the faith, to act as advisor to the court. No member of the Standing Committee shall be a member of this court.

Sec. 333. The Convention shall elect, biennially from the presbyters entitled to seats, not members of the Standing Committee, five, who, together with one layman fulfilling the requirements of these Canons, and elected at the same time and in similar manner, shall constitute the court. No person shall vote for more than three presbyters, and the five presbyters and one layman having the largest number of votes shall constitute the court. Vacancies may be filled by the Standing Committee until the next stated meeting of the Convention, by a vote of three-fourths of the members present.

Sec. 334. The president of the court shall be appointed by the Bishop. The court shall choose a clerk, to hold office during its pleasure. He shall keep a record of its proceedings, of convictions and sentences, and preserve the testimony taken on trials.

Sec. 335. At any trial the lay assessor and three clerical members of the court must be present, and if a less number be present, they shall adjourn from day to day till a quorum be present. In case the lay assessor be absent, or unable to participate in a trial, or disqualified by reason of interest or otherwise, or if for any reason a quorum of the court cannot be obtained, a special appointment or appointments sufficient to constitute a full court, shall, at the request of the members of the court who are present and qualified, be made for the occasion, as is hereinbefore provided, for filling vacancies. The accused may then reject two of these if he desires. Should a lay assessor be thus appointed and rejected, another shall be appointed as before, and the court thus constituted shall proceed with the trial.

Sec. 336. Upon the question of guilt or innocence of the accused, or upon the final decision of the cause, the clerical members of the court only shall vote.

They shall anticipate the opening of the sitting of the court, in any case, by the reception of the Holy Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and remember ever that the power committed to them is to be exercised without pride, prejudice or passion.

Sec. 337. The court shall transact its business in accordance with the Canons of the Church and such rules as it may make for its own guidance

Sec. 338. There shall be an officer of the court, to be called the Church advocate, who shall be a layman learned in the law. He shall be chosen by the Bishop, with the consent of the Standing Committee, and hold office during their pleasure. It shall be his duty to prepare the charges and conduct the trial on behalf of the Church. He shall be the legal adviser of the Ecclesiastical Authority in matters of discipline, and give his opinion, when called upon, on such questions. The accused may have counsel to aid his defence. The Church advocate and counsel for the accused shall be communicants of the Church, of good reputation for gravity and soundness in the faith.

CANON 41.

Confession Before Trial.

Sec. 342. Whenever a clergyman is accused of offenses, either by public rumor, or reliable information, charges shall be prepared without regard to form, but containing the substance of the offenses alleged, with reasonable certainty as to the time, place and circumstances, and delivered to the accused.

Sec. 343. Whenever a clergyman thus accused, or against whom charges are preferred, as hereinafter provided, shall, before the first session of the court summoned to try the cause, voluntarily confess himself to the Bishop to be guilty of the offense alleged, the Bishop shall, in the presence of the Standing Committee, pronounce such sentence as he may judge proper, and cause the same, with the accusation reduced to form and the confession annexed, to be recorded by the clerk of the court.

CANON 42.

Of Charges.

Sec. 346. Charges against a clergyman for a triable offense shall be made in writing, addressed to the Ecclesiastical Authority, and by it referred to the Standing Committee. Such charges may be made by the majority of the members of the vestry of any church of which the accused is a minister, or by any five members of a mission of which he may have charge, or by any three presbyters of this Diocese entitled to seats in the Convention, or as hereinafter mentioned.

Sec. 347. When the accused is not connected with any Church or parish, the charges may be signed by any three presbyters and three lay communicants of the Diocese, or by seven lay communicants.

Sec. 348. If the offense consists in teaching or preaching publicly and advisedly heresy or heretical doctrine or doctrines contrary to those of this Church, a presentment with specifications of the nature, time and place of such offense, shall be made, signed by three presbyters of the Church canonically resident within the Diocese, and delivered to the Ecclesiastical Authority.

Sec. 349. Whenever the Bishop shall, either from his own observation, or from any information which he shall deem worthy of notice, have reason to believe that there is ground for an investigation into the conduct of any clergyman of this Diocese, according to Canon 23, Section 1, of the Canons of the General Convention, he shall, at his discretion, convene the Standing Committee, and lay before them the information in his possession.

Sec. 350. Whenever the Standing Committee, or a majority of them, shall, from any information so laid before them by the Bishop, or from any other information which they, or a majority of them, may think worthy of notice, or from charges made to them as hereinbefore specified, be of opinion that it is proper that a judicial investigation of the conduct of any clergyman of this Diocese should take place, they, with the consent of the Bishop, shall cause a general statement of the facts of the case to be made and delivered to the Church advocate.

CANON 43.

Limitation.

Sec. 353. No presentment shall be sustained in any case unless the offense be alleged and proved to have been committed within five years next before the day on which the charges are delivered to the Church advocate, as hereinafter mentioned.

CANON 44.

Preliminary Proceedings.

Sec. 356. Whenever it is determined to bring to trial any clergyman of this Diocese, the Standing Committee shall notify the Church advocate, and direct him to proceed with the same. He shall thereupon prepare charges and specifications, containing the substance of the offense alleged, with reasonable certainty as to time, place and circumstances. But no variance between an allegation and proof shall be regarded if the accused has not been misled or prejudiced thereby. The style of the charge or charges shall be:

"Articles or charges against..... exhibited on behalf of the Church to the Bishop of the Diocese of Oregon, by acting as Church advocate, in consequence of a presentment made to the said Bishop by the Standing Committee of the said Diocese.

He shall immediately deliver two copies of the charges and specifications signed by him to the Bishop, who shall cause one of them, with a notice of the time and place of trial (which he shall pre-cribe) to be served on the accused personally, or left at his place of abode, at least thirty days before the time appointed for trial.

Sec. 357. The Bishop shall also issue a precept, directed to all the members of the ecclesiastical court, requiring them to proceed to the trial of the accused, at a prescribed time and place, which precept, together with the other copy of the charges signed by the Church advocate, shall be transmitted to the president of the court, whose duty it shall be, on receipt of the same, to cause all members of the court to be summoned to meet at the pre-scribed time and place.

Sec. 358. If the accused shall neglect to attend at the time and place appointed for the meeting of the court, which is convened to try him, after due notice given him, the president of the court shall report the fact to the Bishop, who shall thereupon suspend such clergyman from the exercise of the ministry for contumacy, until he shall appear and demand a trial. If he shall not apply for a trial within three months, the Bishop shall pronounce such sentence as would be proper upon a conviction for the offense alleged.

Sec. 359. Any resort to a civil court, on the part of the accused, for the purpose of impeding, delaying, or averting the trial, shall be treated as contumacy, and the Bishop shall thereupon suspend such clergyman from the exercise of the ministry for contumacy, until he appear and demand a trial.

CANON 45.

Of Trial.

Sec. 363. The accused may, not later than ten days preceding the time set for the trial, challenge and reject two of the five clerical members of the court.

Sec. 364. The accused, on appearance, shall be called upon to say whether he is guilty or not guilty of the offenses charged in the presentment. He may thereupon except, in writing, to the sufficiency of the presentment, or any part thereof, or to all or any of the specifications therein, and such exceptions shall be heard and disposed of by the court.

Sec. 365. If no exceptions are taken, or they are overruled, or only so far allowed as to leave substantial ground for trial, the same shall proceed. If the accused refuse or neglect to plead to the presentment, the court shall enter the plea of not guilty for him, and proceed with the trial. The accused may attend, produce his testimony, and make his defense as advised.

Sec. 366. All testimony shall be given on oath or affirmation. The manner of conducting the trial, and the rules of evidence, unless otherwise provided by the Canons of the Church, shall be the same as in the law courts of the state of Oregon, so far as applicable. The court may adjourn from time to time, not exceeding one week at one adjournment, for the purpose of procuring testimony or furthering the ends of justice.

Sec. 367. Proceedings in a trial shall be private, unless the accused, ten days before the trial, shall demand, in writing, the presence of not exceeding ten persons, communicants of this Church, of his choice, and the court shall have like privilege.

Sec. 368. In case there is reason to suppose that the attendance of a necessary witness cannot be had on trial, either party may, at any time after the presentment is served, on five days' notice to the other, apply to the lay assessor to appoint a commission to take deposition of such witness. The party so applying shall accompany his application with the interrogatories proposed to be propounded to the witness. The lay assessor shall then appoint a commissioner, and fix a time and place to settle the interrogatories before him, at which time and place the other party shall, if he desire, present cross-interrogatories; and further interrogatories may be added with the approbation of the lay assessor, and a reasonable time allowed for that purpose, if the lay assessor shall deem it necessary or proper. The lay assessor shall then transmit the deposition with the interrogatories annexed, to the commissioner, who shall take the testimony under oath or affirmation, as provided by the laws of the state where taken, and certify the same and transmit it, properly sealed and secured, to the president of the court. The deposition so taken shall be read upon the trial, subject to all exceptions that would avail if such witnesses were examined.

Sec. 369. All notices and papers to be served on the accused, after the presentment, may be served on his counsel, and all papers to be served on the prosecutors shall be served on the Church advocate. Such service may be made by leaving the same with such advocate or counsel personally, or at his place of residence or business, or such service may be made by mail, by depositing the notice or paper, properly folded and enveloped, in the post office, directed to the said counsel or advocate, at his place of residence or business, and prepaying postage. But in case of service by mail, three days' additional time shall be allowed for transmission and receipt.

Sec. 370. If the person to be served with any presentment, notice or paper has departed from the United States, it shall be sufficient service thereof to leave a copy at his last place of abode within the United States, sixty days before the day on which his appearance or other act required by such notice or paper is to be performed. If his last place of abode cannot be ascertained, a publication of the copy in a public newspaper, printed at the seat of government of the state or territory in which he last resided, shall be sufficient.

Sec. 371. The court, having fully heard the allegations and proofs of the parties and deliberately considered the same after the parties have withdrawn, the lay assessor shall deliver an opinion in writing of the law of the case, in matters not strictly theological. The clerical members of the court shall then declare respectively whether, in their opinion, the accused is guilty or not guilty of each particular charge and specification contained in the presentment, in the order in which they are set forth; and the accused shall be considered as not guilty of every charge and specification of which he shall not be pronounced guilty by an unanimous vote of the clerical members of the court.

Sec. 372. On the final question whether the accused is guilty or not guilty, no member of the court shall be permitted to vote, or be considered present, who shall not have been present at the delivery of all the testimony. Unless the accused be found guilty he shall be deemed acquitted.

Sec. 373. Whenever a trial shall fail by negligence of any clerical member or members, the president of the court shall report the names and the facts of such negligence to the next ensuing Convention of the Diocese.

Sec. 374. The decision of the court as to each and all the charges and specifications shall be reduced to writing and signed by the court. Such decision or decisions shall be regarded as the judgment of the court. In case of a judgment of guilt on any charge, the court shall state also the sentence which, in its opinion, ought to be pronounced.

Sec. 375. The expenses accruing in the trial of a clergyman, except his own when convicted, shall be paid by the Treasurer of the Diocese, upon the order of the Standing Committee.

CANON 46.

Ecclesiastical Sentences.

Sec. 378. All proceedings within this Diocese, the result of which may involve a subjection to canonical sentence, must be ultimately revised and determined, and all sentences pronounced, by the Bishop. In case of a vacancy in the Episcopate, the Standing Committee shall call in the Bishop of some other diocese, who shall be requested, and is hereby authorized, to act therein, and proceed in the same manner as the Bishop of this Diocese would be authorized to do.

Sec. 379. The Bishop, having received the judgment of the court, it shall be his duty to inform the accused of the said judgment, and call upon him to show reason, if any, why the judgment should not be sustained. He may receive from him any statement in mitigation of sentence.

Sec. 380. The Bishop, having reviewed and adjudged upon the case, shall proceed to pronounce such sentence as may be proper, not exceeding in severity that recommended by the court. Such sentence shall be pronounced in the presence of any three presbyters of the Diocese, after notice to the party of the time and place appointed therefor, and publicly in a Church, or privately, as the Bishop shall determine.

Sec. 381. A copy of a sentence of suspension shall be sent to the accused, and another to the vestry or vestries of the Church or Churches with which he may be canonically connected and such other publicity may be given to it as the Bishop may think expedient.

Sec. 382. The Ecclesiastical Authority, after the final decision, shall transmit all papers, with such decision, to the clerk of the court, whose duty it shall be to record an abstract of the proceedings, including the final judgment and sentence in full, in a book kept for that purpose.

CANON 47.

Record of Constitution and Canons.

Sec. 386. The Secretary of the Diocese shall procure and keep a suitable book, entitled "The Constitution and Canons of the Diocese of Oregon," in which shall be recorded the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese, with a certificate of their adoption signed by the President and Secretary of the Convention. All Constitutions and Canons, and all amendments thereof and additions thereto, hereafter adopted by the Convention shall be certified to by the President and Secretary of the Convention, as having been duly adopted, and shall, with the certificate of adoption, be recorded in the said book, and the said book shall be taken and regarded as prima facie evidence of the due adoption and correctness of all papers recorded therein under this Canon.

CANON 48.

Time of Taking Effect.

Sec. 389. These Canons shall take effect immediately upon their adoption.

CANON 49.

Repeal of Former Canons.

Sec. 391. All former Canons of this Diocese are hereby repealed; provided, that such repeal shall not affect any case of a violation of existing Canons, committed before the date of the adoption hereof; but such case shall be governed by the same law as if no repeal had taken place.

HINTS TO PAROCHIAL OFFICERS.

Impress upon the women of your parish that they are, by virtue of their baptism, members of the Woman's Auxiliary. Urge them to recognize this claim by working along the appointed lines and giving such dues as your parish branch may settle upon.

Every branch is expected to give to the Apportionment Fund and the United Offering and to do its share of any work planned by Diocesan Officers.

Take The Oregon Churchman and read to your branch the Auxiliary page, which is the official organ of the Auxiliary. Keep ready for reference the last report of your diocesan branch, Miss Emery's last report and the "Spirit of Missions."

When you begin a box advise the recipient and diocesan Secretary. When it is shipped advise again, giving date and mode of shipment. Prepay all expenses.

Report changes of address, and any changes in your list of officers to the Secretary.

MINUTES.

The Annual Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held in St. David's Church, May 20.

The Rev. A. W. Griffin, of McMinnville, preached the sermon and Bishop Scadding was the celebrant at the Communion Service. The offering was $22.15. At twelve-thirty luncheon was served by the women of St. David's to nearly two hundred delegates, visitors and clergy.

The business session was called to order at one thirty with the President, Mrs. Scadding, in the chair.

The regular routine of business was disposed of and showed an encouraging condition throughout most of the parishes.

The same corps of officers were unanimously re-elected to serve the ensuing year.

The United Offering report of $889.50 was most gratifying, with more branches to hear from before September 1st. It is believed the hoped-for one thousand dollars will be given.

Roll call was responded to by thirteen organized branches with a total of 146. Offering $21.60.

Bishop de Pencier, of New Westminster, B. C., gave a most stirring address on the work and helpfulness of the Woman's Auxiliary from a Bishop's standpoint.

Grace Memorial extended an invitation to entertain the next Annual Meeting which was accepted.

Respectfully submitted,

ELVA K. OAKES,
Recording Secretary.

THE JUNIOR AUXILIARY.

The largest annual meeting held by the Juniors occurred May 17th in St. David's Church, Portland. In spite of most inclement weather, eight branches had a total representation of seventy-three. Several of the clergy lent the inspiration of their presence—may others follow their good example! Corporate Communion was celebrated at 11 A. M. Bishop Scadding, in a most helpful sermon, emphasized loyal co-operation.

After luncheon the business meeting was opened with prayer by Mr. Talbot. A greeting from the President of the Minnesota Juniors was read by the Secretary. Reports from the branches showed all pledges paid in full. Few mentioned discouragements; all had a note of eagerness to do better work next year. The missionary fete given by the Juniors of All Saints and Trinity during April deserves special mention. The former prepared an Hawaiian booth, and, dressed in the native costume, recited verses descriptive of those islands, while the latter had worked out a miniature Alaska. Each Junior told of some phase of Bishop Rowe's work until the whole story was revealed. Part of this exhibit will be sent to New York next fall. Bishop Scadding has a plan in mind whereby all the Juniors may co-operate in just such a missionary fete during the coming year.

The Juniors have sent gifts to Hankow, China; to Pioche, Nev., and to Alaska; total value, $109.10.

In some branches mission study has kept pace with the work. It is hoped to emphasize more and more the spirit of unity in work and the helpfulness of prayer and study.

Owing to a misunderstanding, only one scrapbook was made this year. The Trinity branch won first prize for their splendid book on Alaska. Bishop Scadding urges all branches to try for first, second and third prizes.

The United Offering report was as follows: All Saints', $3; St. Mark's, $1; St. Stephen's, $5; Trinity, $5; St. Paul's, Oregon City, $1. To these were added the offerings of the day, $13.84, making a total of $28.84. May every branch have a part in this great offering in the years to come!

No large box will be undertaken next fall. Instead, the Juniors of Percival Memorial will support a scholarship in the Normal School in Hankow, China, and other branches will support a second scholarship, probably in the same school. Each will cost $25.

Officers of the Junior Auxiliary were re-elected, with the exception of Treasurer, who is succeeded by Miss L. Balch. Miss Mann, whose faithful and efficient services as Treasurer have won her much praise, felt that she could no longer serve.

Mrs. Scadding spoke of the General Convention to be held in New York next fall, and Rev. C. H. H. Bloor gave an instructive and entertaining story of some of the superstitious beliefs held by the natives of Alaska proving thereby how necessary it is that we do our part to aid in their enlightenment.

This annual meeting was a success as a means of bringing the different Junior branches into closer contact and of stimulating them to greater effort. They do not yet realize the measure of their ability, but, like good Christian soldiers, strive ever to go forward.

DORCAS HALLAM,
Secretary.

The Secretary read the official communication from the Secretary of the General Convention, relative to the following changes in the Constitution of the Church:

1. The change of Section 3 of Article I, providing for the election of a Presiding Bishop.
2. The change in Section 7 of Article I, fixing the time of meeting of the General Convention.
3. The change in Article XI, dealing with the trials of Presbyters and Deacons.
4. The change in Article X, making possible amendments of the Tables of "Proper Psalms on Certain Days" and the "Selections of Psalms."
5. The Report of the "Joint Commission to report a plan for Uniform Regulation of Communicants."

Mr. H. D. Ramsdell offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Communication from the Secretary of the General Convention be placed on file, and Further, That the last clause, relative to the status of Communicants, be printed in the Journal of this Convention.

In accordance with the above resolution the following is the Report of the "Joint Committee to report a plan for a Uniform Registration of Communicants":

Report.

The Joint Committee appointed in 1907, and continued in 1910, "to report a plan for the uniform registration of Communications," respectfully reports that it has given the matter careful consideration, and is of the opinion that the different aspects of the question are admirably covered by the report made in 1907 by a similar Committee of the House of Deputies, to which they beg to refer. It will be found on pages 231 to 233 of the Journal for that year. We agree with all that is there said defining a "Communicant" as one who has received Baptism and Confirmation, or has been formally admitted to the Holy Communion as being "ready and desirous to be confirmed." We reiterate that all such should be enrolled and kept upon the Parish Register until death, transfer or discipline removes the name.

Neglect of the privilege of receiving the Sacrament, long absence, or even departure without a letter is not sufficient reason for erasing a name, as the person may reappear or ask for transfer after many years. His rights as a potential Communicant should be scrupulously conserved. On the other hand, parochial reports should not be padded with misleading statistics. To enumerate all these non-effective members is to exaggerate the real strength of the Parish. Communicants known to have neglected for three years the reception of the Holy Communion, in spite of due and sufficient opportunity thereof, should not be reported for statistical purposes. But, as above suggested, nothing but death, transfer or discipline should justify the removal of a name from the Register.

We recommend that this ruling be made known to Diocesan authorities in order to secure the required uniformity.

The Rev. F. K. Howard offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Resolutions:

Be It Resolved, By the Convention of the Diocese of Oregon, That this Convention place itself on record as favoring legislation by the State which shall guarantee to all employees one day's rest in seven.

THE BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

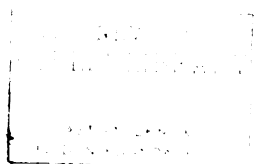

Delivered in the Pro-Cathedral of St. Stephen the Martyr, Portland, on the eve of the Twenty-sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon, Tuesday, May 19th, 1914.

NECROLOGY.

Four of our Bishops have been taken from earth since our last Convention, the Right Rev. William Croswell Doane, Bishop of Albany; the Rt. Rev. Henry Douglas Robinson, Bishop of Nevada; the Rt. Rev. John Scarborough, Bishop of New Jersey, and the Rt. Rev. William Woodruff Niles, Bishop of New Hampshire. Bishop Robinson, in his short episcopate in Nevada, in which he bravely and cheerily met the difficulties of his field and the demands upon his physique, became a factor in the life of his people, both as Bishop and citizen, and endeared himself to his brethren in the Eighth Department. In scanning the necrology as reported in the last Living Church Annual, besides the Bishops, it appears that one hundred and fourteen of the clergy have died in the year covered by the Annual—as it were the numerical force of a good sized diocese blotted out. “For these and all His other servants, who departed from this life in the true Faith of His Holy Name, we give God thanks and praise, and pray that we, with them, may have our perfect consummation and bliss in His divine and everlasting glory, through Jesus Christ our Lord: Amen.”

RT. REV. CHARLES SCADDING, D. D.
BISHOP OF OREGON 1906-1914

Dear Brethren of the Clergy and Laity:

Grace, mercy and peace be unto you from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

By resolution of the Convention of 1912 I am relieved of the duty, so long a custom in the Diocese, of making this annual address at our opening service an opportunity to discuss at length all the institutions and organizations within the diocese. Full reports will be found printed and on the table for your information and study. According to our new Rules of Order the titles of the reports only will be read on the first day of the Convention, and the reports themselves will go directly to their respective committees, and when returned by these committees will be read and fully discussed on the second day, when action regarding them will be taken.

I am very sorry to say that by reason of illness Dean Horsfall, the Rev. A. A. Morrison, and Rev. T. F. Bowen will not be able to attend this Convention, but am glad to say they are all recovering. We send them our greeting, and best wishes for speedy and complete restoration to health.

CHANGES IN CLERICAL STAFF.

The changes in our clerical staff have been as follows:

The Clergy who have been canonically received are: Rev. Bertram C. Runnalls, rector of the Church of the Good Samaritan, Corvallis; Rev. Robert S. Gill, rector of St. Paul's Church, Salem; Rev. J. Derickson Cummins, vicar of St. Peter's, Albany, and in charge of the Yaquina Missions; Rev. J. O. Vince, vicar of Clatsop County Missions; Rev. John F. Hamaker, vicar of Trinity Church, Ashland. Rev. Joseph Sheerin has been transferred to the Diocese of Massachusetts. The Rev. William B. Hamilton has been transferred from Grants Pass to Medford. Rev. J. D. Rice, vicar of St. John's Church, Sellwood, to Milwaukie. The Rev. F. O. Jones, for more than ten years our faithful priest at Newport and Toledo, has resigned, and is living near Newport, and is willing to exercise his priestly office when called on for missionary work. The Rev. J. W. Armstrong of Jefferson, and the Rev. W. R. Powell, our faithful and oldest priest, also hold themselves ready for such duty.

The Rev. Barr G. Lee, so many years the beloved rector of St. Paul's, Salem, and for the past year rector and head master of the Bishop Scott School at Yamhill, has resigned, and will take charge of the missions at North Bend and Gardiner during the Summer. He has laid a strong foundation for the school's new policy, and has patiently cared for the religious and home life and education of the boys. The Convention owes Mr. Lee a debt of gratitude for his untiring work as chairman of our Committee on Constitution and Canons. Alaska and other missionary districts have formally adopted our Canons. The Rev. P. K. Hammond has resigned the rectorship of St. Mary's, Eugene, and is recovering his health in outdoor life on a farm at Gladstone. He is willing to do occasional Sunday duty, and before long we hope will return to full exercise of his ministry. The vacancy at St. Mary's, Eugene, has been supplied by the Rev. E. T. Simpson as locum tenens. The Rev. A. H. Marsh, of the Cathedral School at Washington, D. C., comes to us well recommended for the rectorship of the Bishop Scott School, and will begin his duties in September.

CONVEYANCES.

The conveyances of real estate of the Bishop as Corporation Sole will be duly published in the Appendix of the Journal, as will also the certificate of the Diocesan Auditor after careful examination of the securities and accounts of the funds held in trust by the Corporation Sole. While owing to the confidential character of some of the Corporation Sole accounts, they are not given in extenso in the Journal, the auditor's statement will be published and access to the accounts can be found by anyone with just reason and duly authorized.

The only piece of property that has come to me this year has been through the generous gift of a large niche in the Crematorium from the Morris brothers and Miss Morris. According to Canon 34, this property should be held by "The Diocese of Oregon," but because we failed at the last Convention to elect members, and therefore are not incorporated, the deed has not yet been made out. The value of the property is about $500. We must elect at this Convention two clergymen and two laymen, and they, with the Bishop, the Chancellor and the Treasurer, will be "The Diocese of Oregon," and the Chancellor will see that they are incorporated. When this is done I purpose turning over to this corporation certain funds for which I am now the sole trustee. All our buildings are insured, and the property accurately listed and the insurance checked by Mr. Pfahler. A generous offer of a corner lot for a church has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Ferris of Tigard, and the little group of our people in that growing suburb are eager to have a small church building erected thereon.

THE EPISCOPAL SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE.

A new department of the Church's work this year has been the work of our Social Service Commission, whose report is inspiring. In this ministry a real attempt has been made to remove the reproach, and the popular misconception, that the Episcopal Church is a comfortable organization for the well-to-do; by the establishment of a Men's Reading Room in the north end of the city, and holding out a helping hand to the unemployed, the worthy poor, the "down and outs." This room has provided a place where clergy and laymen have met to minister unto, and to love back into health and courage the man who is a victim of habit or circumstances. There has never been a movement in the Church in Portland which has tended in so large a manner to unify our parishes, and to commend the Church both to the man in the street and the man in the pew. The building generously given us by the Weinhart Estate for five months, has now been rented, and some other place will have to be secured if this good work is to be continued. The Church is on trial in the modern world as really as it ever was in the ancient regime. Social problems press upon her. It is as she adjusts herself to this new social environment, and consciously defines, and dedicates herself to, the task of dealing helpfully with these problems, will she compel the allegiance both of her own members and of the community in which she is placed. Her only justification for existence even lies in the words of her Blessed Lord and Master: "I am among you as He that serveth."

MATERIAL IMPROVEMENTS.

We have now thirteen parishes self-supporting (except the Church of the Good Samaritan, Corvallis), and thirty missions. We have on our staff of clergy thirty priests and one deacon. Seventeen of these vicars are dependent on the Board of Church Extension for their stipends in whole or in part. A new rectory and parish hall has been completed at McMinnville, and is a great help to the vicar. The congregation of Emmanuel Church, Marshfield, is now worshipping in its beautiful new church building, and the congregation of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Portland, is now worshipping without fear of being caught in a fire trap in its well-restored building. The financial problems before both of these parishes are difficult; but under the inspiration of their efficient rectors, wardens and vestrymen the respective congregations are bravely shouldering the debts incurred. St. Matthews' Mission has now a new location and a new building in the south end. At present the congregation is worshipping in this parish hall, but they have $5,000 towards a new church, and plans have been drawn for such a building. St. Michael and All Angels have secured a lot on Forty-fifth street, Rossmere, and have plans for a new church, their adult membership and Sunday school having so far outgrown the capacity of their present building that for several months two large tents have been used for Sunday school. Christ Church Mission, St. Helen's on the Columbia, has built and paid for, through the generous gift of the Messrs. Muckle, a suitable parish house, the church building has been put in good repair, and electric lights and steam heat installed, all at the expense of the twenty-four communicants in the mission. Through the help of the reinforcement fund, attractive parish houses are now in use at Sutherlin, Ashland and Corvallis. The Rectory of Calvary, Seaside, has practically been rebuilt at the expense of the members. Grace Church, Astoria, has added much needed improvements. On the recommendation of the Board of Church Extension the Archdeacon is negotiating for the sale of our lot and church building at Wellsdale. With the aid of the reinforcement fund the church at Bandon has been painted, and the rectory practically rebuilt. A new porch has been added to the church at Coquille. The women of St. Mary's, Gardiner, have added an ample sacristy to their beautiful little church. Our congregation at North Bend has fitted up a large room over a store, and worship there. They have a lot, and hope to build a church in the near future. The little chapel at Woodmere has been thoroughly overhauled, cleaned, and re-carpeted. St. Elizabeth's has been equipped with new kitchen utensils by the St. Elizabeth's helpers, and a commodious veranda has been added, the gift of Miss Catherine Percival. A new heating plant has been added to the hospital, and the modern school building for Bishop Scott school at Yamhill is now up to the roof, and will be ready for occupancy in September.

Mr. Henry Rodney, by his last will and testament, left $1,000 for a memorial window to be placed in the Chapel of St. Helen's Hall, in commemoration of his sister, Miss Mary B. Rodney. This fund is invested, and will accumulate until such time as a new Chapel may be built, should the school move to some other location. Tentative overtures have reached the board for the purchase of the present school site. No definite proposition has been made, but we have been asked to set a price on the block. It will not be many years before we shall have to face the problem of removal. It is not improbable that we can receive sufficient on the purchase price to build a modern school to accommodate sixty pupils elsewhere, and have investment sufficient to make a helpful endowment.

The Board of Church Extension has purchased the lot and church building at Goble, where the Archdeacon holds regular services. Let me here express my appreciation of the work of our "handy man" of the Diocese, our Archdeacon. His expert knowledge of furnaces, plumbing, carpentering, paperhanging; his practical ability and willingness to do anything for the missions, his mission preaching and teaching, his loyalty and cheerfulness when things don't go, have made him truly the bishop's eyes, and hands, and feet. In addition to all this he has taken on the management of The Oregon Churchman, and is rapidly getting it on its feet financially. St. David's Parish has added a well-equipped playground which is a joyful place for the little children of the neighborhood. St. Paul's Oregon City has completed its sustaining wall of the new church which will some day be one of the finest pieces of church architecture in the Pacific Northwest. On the whole we have much to be thankful for in the way of material improvements.

SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY AND ENDOWMENTS.

This year marks the sixtieth anniversary of organized work of the Church in Oregon. The Bishop and Standing Committee have planned a program for a fitting celebration from Tuesday, June 2, until Trinity Sunday, June 7, when the Bishop of Kentucky will be our honored guest and special speaker. This program will be distributed tomorrow. I hope that every layman will be present at the men's dinner to be held in the University Club on Tuesday, June 2. Tickets $1, may be had from the local committee in every parish. I cordially invite all the clergy of the Diocese on behalf of the Standing Committee and myself to come as our guests, and also the clergy in Eastern Oregon. The other part of the celebration will take place in the Autumn, at the convenience of the rectors and vicars, when parochial missions and evangelistic services will be held in as many missions as possible. I hope the clergy of Portland will hold themselves in readiness to do this special preaching for our vicars as invitations may come to them. A practical object of the celebration this Spring is to arouse interest in the Bishop Morris Jubilee Fund, and to increase it by offerings, personal gifts, and bequests. This is a permanent Endowment Fund of the Board of Church Extension, the interest only to be used by them for Church Extension work in Oregon.

The time has come when we must do our best to secure endowments for our parishes, our mission work, and especially for our institutions. Through the efficient management of the Sisters of St. John the Baptist our St. Helen's Hall meets its current expenses, an almost unheard of thing in a school of this kind, and the moderate charge for board and tuition. The alumnae have started an endowment fund, which ought to be increased to $100,000, the interest thereon to be used to meet expense of building repairs, scholarships for worthy girls of parents of small means, etc. St. Helen's Hall, Bishop Scott School, the Good Samaritan Hospital, are church institutions, and they are the Church's avenues of service. They have meant much, and still mean much, for the welfare of this state. There is no better form of social service and of healing than healing the sick and providing Christian education for the young. These splendid institutions are yours, and church people ought to be loyal to them, and help them financially as far as possible. Let us hold up the hands of the faithful workers in these departments of our Diocesan family life, and encourage them by assurances of our appreciation of their difficult tasks, and by sympathy and hopeful helpfulness.

PENSIONS FOR THE CLERGY.

There is a proposal from the Church Pension Fund now before the whole Church for approval or rejection in the various Dioceses, and this Convention ought to pass tentatively on the matter.

If the Church is to be really efficient and her clergy are to do their best work, and sustain their self-respect before the community, she must have a more consistent system for the support, pension and relief of the clergy and those dependent upon them than she now has. No calling can respect itself which is the object of pathetic appeals for personal aid. Again, any organization to be efficient, must retire men when, through age, their strength is gone. A bishop who for twenty-five years has done noble missionary work may, in the last ten years of his enfeebled strength, set his Diocese back a generation. Efficiency demands retirement on a pension and the service of a younger man. The same is true in parishes and missions.

Bishop Lawrence is fathering this movement, and has secured the best actuarial ability in formulating a plan. It is big business, and no better or greater work is before the Church than to put it in operation.

MINIMUM CLERICAL STIPENDS.

The stipends of our vicars is now uniformly $1,000, with rectory, or an allowance of $15 per month for house rent. and these are paid promptly monthly. This is much better than under our old plan, whereby they received $600 or $800 per annum, and that irregularly. It is sometimes said that clergymen are poor business men. I submit that the business ability shown by our clergy, to bring up a family, live with self-respect, and meet the demands resting on them and keep out of debt—upon the meager salaries paid them—is evidence of remarkable business ability. Their lives are not idle nor luxurious, and with many deprivations they bravely face, without complaint, the stern problems of existence. All honor to them, and to their heroic wives—cheery helpmates, good mothers, capable housekeepers, gracious home-makers, true mothers in Israel to parishioners—for the courageous and faithful ministry in a field where, at best, the Church has a difficult task. No value in terms of dollars and cents can be placed upon the helpful wife of a clergyman; but the parish that is blessed with such an one ought to add at least $500 a year to their rector's salary as a thank offering. In view of increased living expenses, I lovingly counsel the laity to see to it that the minimum salary for priests in this Diocese shall be $1,200 for those who are unmarried, and $1,500 for those who are married.

MISSIONARY DEFICIT.

Our own Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society is not alone in showing a decrease in income this year. Four great missionary societies, handling together $5,000,000 a year, end their fiscal year this Spring with deficits which total $648,000. The reason given by the Baptist Board for their deficit is "the lack of any supreme appeal compelling no unusual interest."

Our own local Board of Church Extension has weathered the storm of financial distress better than we feared a month ago, but unless parishes and missions send Mr. Hastings part of their apportionments during the Summer months the Board will be unable to meet the stipends of our vicars. I am inclined to believe that the reason given by the Baptist Mission Board for their deficits and financial difficulties is correct, viz.: "the lack of a supreme appeal." Just what the Baptists mean by a "supreme appeal" I do not know. "Whirlwind campaigns," which do not commend themselves to us, seem to be supreme efforts. If you give as a reason for our failure to meet apportionment, for our deficit in funds for church extension "the lack of any supreme appeal," I know what you as churchmen ought to mean, e. g., our Lord's supreme appeal to us to build up His Kingdom here and now. It is that which compels uncommon interest: it is that which gives vision and inspiration: it is that which changes a deficit to a surplus. It is precisely that appeal which, for the most part, we have not given. Here and there have been exceptions, but for the most part we have been content with half-hearted announcements of missionary offerings, with such statements that we have 3,600 communicants and if each communicant gave $2 per year, all apportionments could be met, and necessary funds raised. Some places had no missionary system in the parish, have talked woefully about our large apportionments, and have allowed nearly a year to pass without action. Some have depended upon bazaars, teas and suppers for income. In all this, there has been no "supreme appeal," and the result is a deficit. We must get beyond this mathematical distribution of a budget. We must make the supreme appeal for building the Kingdom of God here in Oregon and the world today! We must place responsibility where it belongs. All communicants are not equally well off; some cannot be reached and some can give very little. Some can give $200 as easily as others can give $2. Our people must be lovingly instructed that they are Kingdom builders, with a charter and commission from the King. When they catch this vision; when they hear this supreme appeal, they will give as the Lord has prospered them, not because other communicants have given a $2 quota.

I do not ask you, brethren of the clergy, to beg. I do ask you to adopt some well-tried system. Above all, I urge you to present the supreme appeal and you will find those who are able to give $50, $100 or $200 for the building of the Kingdom in your parish, the diocese and church at large, willing and ready to do so. Money-raising campaigns—for "World's Christian Citizenship Conference," "Rose Festivals," "Ships for Alaska," "State Publicity," and the like, obscure the needs of some of our best forms of church and charitable work. It is surely fair to plead with our own people to think of the needs of their parishes, their hospital and church schools, and not let them suffer for the need of a few thousand dollars, while hundreds of thousands are being raised for other purposes. There is, thank God, a growing number of our Church people who give thoughtfully, systematically and according to their means, and their number will increase in response to the appeal supreme, when enthusiastically and inspiringly presented.

Think what master builders of the Kingdom we churchmen ought to be, with our God-given tools and equipment—the Apostolic Ministry—the Bible—the Prayer Book—the Sacraments. If the modern churchman can perceive something of the greatness and glory of the Empire of Christ, the missionary enterprise will evoke a deeper enthusiasm and elicit a more adequate response; for the missionary cause is not a work of supererogation which may be left to the elect few, but an essential part of the church's truer and deeper life. Salvation is not regarded as a deliverance from an eternal death or future punishment, but as an entrance into a richer and fuller life now. The missionary appeal no longer relies on a vivid imagination to picture a fearful precipice over which thousands of souls are walking blindfold every second and falling into an eternity of unspeakable woe; but it fixes its gaze on the army of the unemployed, on women and little children in factories, the immoral or unsanitary condition of cities, the sick, the prisoner, the consumptive, and it draws a contrast not between the joys of an imaginary heaven and the miseries of a materialistic hell; but between the fulness of the divine life within the soul of the reconciled son and the emptiness of him in the far country who has not yet come to himself, but would fain be filled with the husks swine did eat. What we must do is not merely to arouse interest for missions, and beg a meager apportionment. We must create a passion for the Kingdom to come—to be set up upon earth now. When the present interest in missionary work has been replaced by this supreme appeal, by a deep sense of imperial responsibility, and a passionate enthusiasm to take up the Christ-Man's burden, the mere question of finances will sink into insignificance before the larger and far more serious question of vital resources.

The Church, as a Church, is giving far more liberally to the support of the work than she ever gave; but the work is making greater demands. Of course it is because the Church is growing. The taxes of a town increase, and men expect them to increase, or the town is a dying or dead town. Our financial difficulty will not be met by increasing appeals to those within the Church who are already doing their utmost, but by bringing those who are outside within reach of the appeals. Lack of money is but a symptom, the most apparent but the least serious of a spiritual anaemia. It is not rouge, but blood, that is wanted; not money, but bread. The demand is for more religious life. It is not sufficient to solicit merely the interest of people in building up the Kingdom; our problem is to arouse their passion for it. The interest of the child is childlike, but the mere interest of the adult is childish. Our Blessed Lord endured the agony of a Gethsemane and the heartbreak of a Calvary, and went to His death amidst apparent failure and defeat, content to forsee the result of the travail of His soul which should satisfy. Must it be said that His Church can only carry on His work as she sees successes carefully tabulated into statistics, which will enable her to work out the ratio between souls saved and dollars subscribed? Can the work which was initiated by the Passion of Christ only be carried on as it appeals to the interest of the Church on a business budget basis of $2 per year per communicant? Church extension is not business at all, but the building of a Kingdom, and it demands imperial ideas and imperial resources of brain and heart and personal service and devotion in the Church that would carry it on. Secure these and the financial resources will be forthcoming.

Has the time not come when we must stop using business figures of speech—the tailor's maxim of "cutting one's coat according to one's cloth"—and also when we must lay less stress on military methods of work—inspiring as it is to sing, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," and "Soldiers of Christ, Arise."

A few days ago a senior warden in one of our missions came to see me and said: "Do you and the Board of Church Extension realize what it is we have to fight against here? The Presbyterians, the Baptists, the Methodists, have large Sunday schools; they give rewards and entertainments; they have large orchestras, and newcomers to the town are under the impression that it is not good for their business, or social standing, to be members of a feeble flock, and so they join the most attractive and entertaining place, denomination. Do you see what we have to fight against, and contend with?"

I believe he was greatly relieved, and encouraged and cheered when we reminded him that we "wrestle not against flesh and blood, but only against spiritual wickedness," and further explained that I cared nothing for the rewards, entertainments, attractions which draw the crowds elsewhere. Our warfare is not carnal, but spiritual, and our work is not military, but civil. The Church is in this Diocese—in these strategic towns where she has little prestige—to build, to lay the foundation of "the Faith once delivered to the Saints." If our clergy did not believe this they would leave the Diocese utterly discouraged by the unequal warfare as described by the senior warden, and typical of all our towns. Thank God for our staff of earnest zealous priests in this Diocese. I know your problems, my brothers, and the difficulties of your respective fields, and I appreciate your patience, your loyalty and perseverance. There is nothing now romantic about the Church's work in Oregon like the romance of the foreign field. It is prosaic work. You are not so much a regiment of soldiers to storm a fortress picturesquely, with a moving picture outfit for the Spirit of Missions in the rear, and then to rest upon your laurels. No, your work is harder. You are builders, craftsmen, master masons, workmen who needeth not to be ashamed—excavators, foundation layers, stone upon stone, here a little, there a little: a difficult task, but of infinite importance, for it is the empire of Christ—the Kingdom of God—you are building, and therefore worth infinite patience, wisdom and efficiency. Church extension work to-day demands that the appeal should rest on the depth of religious life, on definite constructive teaching of the facts of our holy Faith, rather than on a superficial sentiment which is nourished by the romantic in the missionary's story. The romantic has largely passed away, and the time has come when the plain and often prosaic story of excavation and foundation laying should evoke even a greater enthusiasm than the hair-breadth escapes and daring adventures of the pioneer. And so, brethren of the laity, I counsel you, nay, I charge you, rally around your clergy as you have never done before. Cement their work, and see to it that they are not compelled to make bricks without straw.

II.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

To the Twenty-sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

During the year your Board has held eleven meetings with an average attendance of seven members.

There have been perhaps more than the usual number of changes among the clergy in our mission field, and there are now but fifteen missionaries in the Diocese as compared with seventeen a year ago. We have suffered a loss through the death of the Rev. Wm. Lucas, of Ashland, the vacancy thus created being filled by Rev. J. F. Hamaker.

Rev. Mr. Johnson has retired from charge of the Clatsop County Missions and has been succeeded by Rev. J. O. Vince; Rev. W. B. Hamilton has moved from St. Luke's, Grants Pass, to St. Mark's, Medford, succeeding Rev. Jos. Shearin; Rev. J. D. Rice has been placed in charge of St. John's, Sellwood, and Rev. F. O. Jones has resigned at Yaquina Bay. As a result of these changes the missions at Grants Pass and Yaquina Bay are at present supplied by non-resident clergy. It is hoped, however, that a resident missionary will be assigned to Grants Pass in the very near future.

Following is a condensed financial report for the year ending April 30, 1914:

RECEIPTS.

General Board of Missions.....	$ 3,250.00
Bishop's Fund	1,500.00
Collections	34.98
Pledges to stipends	6,309.81
Diocesan apportionments	2,730.44
Loans	300.00
All other sources	255.50
Total receipts	$14,380.73
Balance May 1, 1913.....	1,016.04
<hr/>
Total resources	$15,396.77

DISBURSEMENTS.

Stipends to missionaries (12 months).....	$13,525.31
Rent allowances and traveling expenses.....	1,659.79
All other expenses	29.40
Total expenditures	$15,214.50
Cash balance May 1, 1914.....	182.27
	$15,396.77
Liabilities May 1, 1914 (loans).....	$ 300.00

In view of the rather depressed general business conditions which have prevailed throughout the entire country during the greater part of the year, the above figures are very satisfactory indeed. There is some feeling of disappointment over the reduced receipts from Diocesan apportionments, but particular attention is directed to an increase of $650.00 in the amount paid in by Missions on account of their pledges for stipends. Not only have these payments to the family fund of the Board been thus substantially increased, but the Missions have also paid large demands for street improvement, taxes and extraordinary repairs, to meet which in former years assistance from the Board or from other sources would have been necessary.

This showing clearly supports the belief entertained by the members of your Board that with due attention given to the spiritual needs of the Missions there will result larger effort toward self-support financially.

Progress in religious activity in the Diocese is gratifying and we desire to express our appreciation of the hearty co-operation which has been extended by the faithful clergy and laity in the Diocese. The work is an important one, and our resources are limited, but with a continuation of the support which we earnestly invite corresponding progress must be inevitable.

Respectfully submitted for the Board,

H. D. CHAMBERS,
R. N. HASTINGS,
C. D. HUGGINS.

IV.REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HOSPITAL TRUSTEES OF THE DIOCESE OF OREGON.

To the Bishop and Members of the Twenty-sixth Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The Board of Hospital Trustees of the Diocese of Oregon hereby submits the following report:

During the past year twelve regular and two special meetings have been held with an average attendance of five and one-half. Considering that three members of the Board were present at the General Convntion and one clerical member was transferred East, while another member of the Board visited the Orient, the attendance of the members at Board meetings shows the interest that is taken in the affairs of the Hospital.

During the year the object of the Board has been that of greater efficiency. To that end experts have been employed with the view of bringing the administration of the Hospital up to the highest possible standard. If large so-called up-to-date business houses feel the necessity of such action your Trustees cannot be criticized for following a similar course. It was with great satisfaction that the Trustees learned that sterling honesty had been found everywhere, and with changes in certain details your Trustees believe that the methods now used in the Hospital are modern and will give the efficiency the Board desires.

Many of these changes such as additional store rooms and changing of routine in handling of stock were made possible by the erection of the new central heating plant. The vacating of the several boiler rooms gave the additional store room, so that now all the stock of the Hospital is under the convenient control of the efficient stewardess.

Not only that, but the erection of the central heating plant does away with the fear of fire, as no fires are now in the Hospital (save for cooking purposes only), nurses' home, laundry, etc., but all are heated from the central plant. Other improvements are the installing of the new elevator, which is now in course of erection, and the changing of the stairs at the entrance, both of which will go a long way in making for efficiency in handling the affairs of the Hospital. Another improvement is the installing of the "telltale-signal" so that the office will at once know if a patient in any part of the Hospital is being neglected by any nurse who is supposed to be on duty.

Owing to the crowded condition of the Nurses' Home the Trustees have been compelled to rent one of the cottages. It is to be hoped that this is only a makeshift, and we trust that in the near future some kind donor, or donors, will be found who will provide the means to enlarge the Nurses' Home, where all the nurses can be domiciled in the same building.

During the year the Board has received from the estate of the late Seth Luen Pope $5000 for the founding of a bed for indigent Masons, and $1000 from Mr. A. H. Devers to complete the Nellie H. Devers Memorial Bed.

The Board desires once again to place on record their appreciation of the able management and faithful services rendered to the Hospital by the Superintendent, Miss Loveridge, the Assistant Superintendent, Miss Welch, and Miss Jolly, the head of the Training School for Nurses.

Owing to the removal of the Rev. Mr. Remington the Convention will be called upon to elect a clergyman to fill out his unexpired term. The retiring Trustees are the Rev. H. R. Talbot and Dr. S. E. Josephi.

Accompanying this report is the statement of the Treasurer for the year ending March 31, 1914.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN DAWSON,
Secretary.

V.ANNUAL REPORT OF SECRETARY OF THE BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

To the Twenty-sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The Board of School Trustees hereby submits to the convention its report for the year ending April 30, 1914, with the following statements attached:

Summary of Receipts and Disbursements.Summary of Assets and Liabilities.

In September, 1913, the Board, in accordance with the plan submitted to the last convention, formally opened Bishop Scott School, on the property near Yamhill, Oregon. On account of the limited facilities of the present buildings and equipment, no effort was made to procure a large attendance, and the energies of the Board and the school officers were directed toward arrangements for the future establishment of the school in buildings and with equipment commensurate to the aims of the Board and the plans of the institution. Plans and specifications for the new building were prepared by Architects Jacobberger & Smith after frequent consultation with the executive committee of the Board and contracts were let for the erection of the building, painting and installation of plumbing and drainage at a total cost of $19,991. The building is progressing rapidly and will be ready for occupancy in September. It will be of sufficient size to accommodate at least 50 boys and will be thoroughly equipped, according to the most modern and efficient methods.

To provide funds for the construction of this building, to reconstruct the private road leading to the property from Yamhill and to retire the outstanding mortgage on the St. Helen's Hall gymnasium (owned by this Board and leased to the Hall) a bond mortgage was placed on the property of the Board on Nineteenth street, in the City of Portland, covered by the lease, to Fred A. Jacobs. The total bond issue provided for by this mortgage is $50,000, drawing interest at 6 per cent per annum. Of these $35,000 in amount were sold at 90, bringing the interest charge to 7 per cent, and realizing $31,500. An adequate sinking fund is provided by the terms of the mortgage by which there is set aside from the income of the property from rentals of Fred A. Jacobs and the Metropolitan Investment Company, an amount sufficient to pay all interest on the outstanding bonds and to retire them at their respective serial maturities.

A formal announcement of the physical properties and the curriculum and faculty for the next school year will be made in the near future. The Board bespeaks for the new school under the old name so well known to Oregonians, the cordial and enthusiastic support of the Convention and the Diocese. Respectfully submitted,

JOHN K. KOLLOCK.
Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SECRETARY OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF ST. HELEN'S HALL.

To the Twenty-sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

The Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall hereby submits to the convention its report for the year ending April 30, 1914, with the following statements attached:

Summary of Recépts and Disbursements.

Summary of Assets and Liabilities.

Report of Sister Superior of St. Helen's Hall.

Summary of Receipts and Disbursements of St. Helen's Hall.

The report of the Sister Superior shows a gratifying condition of the school as to scholarship and support. The unfavorable financial conditions of the country have had a slight effect upon both attendance and collections, but it is confidently believed that the next year will show a marked increase.

The Board desires again to emphasize the necessity of the establishment of an endowment for St. Helen's Hall. The Board has been compelled during the year to increase its mortgage indebtedness to the extent of $2,000, in order to provide for current expenditures, and unless some arrangement is made it is inevitable that this mortgage indebtedness will continue to increase. The Sisters of St. John the Baptist are doing more than could be expected of them in providing for the actual running expenses of the school without calling upon the diocese for support. The Board has held several meetings with the special committee appointed by the General Alumnae Association of St. Helen's Hall, and it is confidently expected that within the near future a definite plan will be announced, which should result in a permanent endowment fund of sufficient size to provide for miscellaneous current expenses and for improvements in the physical properties.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN K. KOLLOCK,
Secretary.

St. Helen's Hall has had during the year 1913-1914 an enrollment of 145 pupils. Of these 48 have been resident pupils, 97 day pupils.

By departments

101 in the Academic Department
44 in the Elementary Department

145

The graduating class numbers nine.

Up to Christmas the number of resident pupils was 36 only; new ones came in after the holidays, so that for the next three months the number was 42; at present it is 40. There were fewer withdrawals in February than there have been for several years, and there are already applications for entrance in September, so that the outlook is encouraging. We consider the girls themselves very satisfactory and from the class which the school desires to reach.

The day school is smaller than it has been, especially the elementary department. But here again the quality has been excellent and the attendance steady. The class in sewing and the theoretical course in domestic science have been popular and appreciated. Next year we shall have a Montessori room for little children which, if it proves as attractive as our kindergarten was, will help to build up the day school.

Of last year's graduating class two have entered the University of Oregon; one the University of Washington; one Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa.; one is at an Eastern school; seven are at home, and three are still at the Hall doing special or collegiate work. We expect to send one pupil to Wellesley College in September, and we have one preparing for Bryn Mawr and one for Barnard. There has been great interest this year in the music department, especially the vocal music, and the gymnasium work with the new side of aesthetic dancing has been a real delight to the girls, both old and young. We hope to keep with us next year the teachers in these departments, as well as others of our present staff.

For a school year of good health, good work and good tone, we can only feel gratitude to God and to all our kind friends and helpers, our bishop, our chaplain, the Rev. W. A. M. Breck, Dr. Morrison and other members of our Board of Trustee, and our physician, Dr. Holt Wilson.

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION OF THE DIOCESE OF OREGON.

To the Twenty-sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese:

The commission, consisting of the Rev. Henry Russell Talbot, president, and Mr. Ralph Hahn, secretary, and Messrs. C. A. Bell and E. R. Hyde and Chaplain Howard, has held meetings from time to time, at the call of the president, and considered and acted upon such matters as came within the province of the commission.

At the request of the commission the superintendent of schools authorized the teaching at the Stephen's school of a course in ethics this school year.

The members of the commission have visited the rooms during the instruction in ethics and tested the teaching and results and would report that the experiment has been successful, and has warranted its extension to other grade schools, being approved by the principal and teachers as a practical way to teach ethics.

The two clerical members of the commission have planned and conducted something new under the sun—a Social Service Mission, consisting of special devotions, hymns and addresses, to arouse and inspire by teaching the social gospel, and by conferences with the leading persons and societies of the community to promote the common weal. Out of the soil which the commission has assisted in cultivating, and in the atmosphere which it has helped to generate, has grown up the Social Service League of the church in Portland, which has done much to promote lines of work which the commission has advocated and to secure the larger co-operation of the church people, and others interested in social service in Portland.

Expenses have been borne by members of the commission and friends of social service, but for the future the convention might well consider making some provision for meeting the cost of bringing the church into active touch with the vital problems of this age of social reconstruction.

X.ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE.

To the Bishop and Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

I would respectfully present a report of the actions of your Standing Committee during the past year.

Your Standing Committee have held but two meetings. One on January 21, 1914, when it organized by the election of the Very Rev. H. M. Ramsey, Dean of the Pro-Cathedral, President, and Horace D. Ramsdell, Secretary.

At the same meeting consent was granted the Diocese of Western Texas to the election of Rev. Wm. Theodotus Capers as Bishop Coadjutor of that Diocese.

At the meeting held Feb. 6, 1914, the Bishop was present and laid before the Committee a plan for a celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the Diocese. The Committee heartily endorsed the plan and appointed the Very Rev. H. M. Ramsey and Dr. S. E. Josephi as a committee to confer and advise with the Bishop in the formation of definite plans.

The Committee also advised the Bishop to admit F. George Jennings as a candidate for Holy Orders.

Respectfully submitted,

HORACE D. RAMSDELL,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE RURAL DEAN OF THE NORTHERN CONVOCATION.

To the Bishop and Members of the Twenty-sixth Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

As an official report of the second year of the Northern Convocation its rural Dean begs to offer the following:

Two excellent and largely attended meetings of the Northern Convocation have been held during the past convention year. The first was held at St. Mark's Church, Portland, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 9 and 10, 1913. On Tuesday evening, our good Bishop conducted "a quiet hour" of most helpful heart-to-heart meditations. The next day, after Holy Communion at 7:30 A. M., the women of St. Mark's provided a substantial and most acceptable breakfast for the delegates, and the same can truly be said of the luncheon served by them at the noon hour.

The prescribed subject for discussion in the morning was: "The Church's advancement in Our Diocese." A carefully prepared paper was read by Archdeacon Chambers, and followed by Reverend Messrs. Talbot and Taylor, as speakers. Practically all present took part in the general discussion that followed.

In the afternoon, after a short business session, the prescribed subject, "Modern Christian Healing," was most ably presented by the Rev. Dr. Morrison, who was followed as speakers, by the Reverend Messrs. J. E. H. Simpson and F. M. Baum. The general discussion that followed gave proof of the intense interest had by all in this subject.

The next meeting of the Northern Convocation was held Tuesday and Wednesday, February 10 and 11, 1914, at St. John's Church (Sellwood), Portland.

At the evening service, the Rev. C. W. Robinson gave pre-Lental meditations of a most useful and instructive character. After the early Communion on Wednesday, the women of the Mission served an excellent breakfast, and later, at noon, they again served a very delightful luncheon.

The prescribed subject for discussion in the morning was: "How Can Christians Unite for the Common Betterment?" This subject was ably presented by the Rev. C. H. H. Bloor, who was followed, as speakers, by the Reverend Messrs. E. H. Clark and F. K. Howard. An animated and instructive general discussion continued till the noon hour. After luncheon and a short business session, the second prescribed subject: "How Can We Hold Our Young Men for the Church" was presented in clear and forcible words by Dean Ramsey. The appointed speakers that followed were the Reverend Messrs. T. F. Bowen and J. O. Vince, with a general discussion. Bishop Scadding then gave a general summary of the day's work, closing with His Benediction.

Both of the meetings filled us with cheer, because of the evident interest of the clergy, who, with but two or three exceptions, were present at both of these meetings, and because of the good results they left for us of the clergy, and also for the congregations where these meetings were held. We desire that there go on record, our high appreciation of the splendid and kindly manner in which the people of both St. Mark's and St. John's cared for each of these meetings of this Convocation. Both meetings contained much to stimulate spiritual energy, and to inspire to high resolves. If the clergy and representatives of the several parishes of this Convocation can be brought to realize the real worth of these meetings, we shall surely find in them a significant factor of uplift and a common good for all concerned.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. F. ROSENMULLER.

XIII.

REPORT OF THE RURAL DEAN OF THE CENTRAL CONVOCATION.

To the Bishop and Members of the Twenty-sixth Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

But one meeting of the Central Convocation was held during the year, the clergy gathering at the Church of the Good Samaritan, Corvallis. All the parochial clergy were present with the exception of the Rev. P. K. Hammond, the Bishop and the Archdeacon being also present. Mrs. Scadding addressed the women on the first day, February 2, in the afternoon, and in the evening a goodly congregation of the faithful at Corvallis listened to an address by the Bishop. The morning session on the day following was mainly devoted to the discussion of a paper read by the Rev. Robert S. Gill on "How to Make People More Loyal to the Church," and in the afternoon the Rev. A. W. Griffin read a paper on "How the Church Can Best Meet the Needs of Modern Life." In the evening a reception was tendered to the convocational guests by the Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Runnalls.

A. W. GRIFFIN, Dean.

XIV.

REPORT OF THE RURAL DEAN OF THE SOUTHERN CONVOCATION.

To the Bishop and Members of the Twenty-sixth Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Owing to preventing causes meetings of this Deanery though called were not held.

W. HORSFALL,
Dean.

XV.

REPORT OF THE CHAPLAIN OF THE CITY MISSIONS

To the Twenty-Sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Herewith is submitted my report as Chaplain for the year ending April 30, 1914.

I have officiated at the morning services each Lord's Day in the Parish Church of All Saints', as well as on the greater Holy Days, and in Lent, and given some time to pastoral visits.

As priest of All Saints', the Good Samaritan Hospital and City Missions, I have officiated at five baptisms and eleven burials, and made many visits to families and individuals as need required.

I have tried to keep more or less in touch with the police, judges and other public officials, and the theatres, saloons and public institutions where one finds points of contact with human beings.

I have co-operated with others, individually and collectively, in social-service work, especially with the Associated Charities and the Visiting Nurses. I have been an active member of the Oregon Prisoners' Aid Society, and have given time and thought to promoting the uniform bill for "One Day's Rest in Seven," prepared by the American Association for Labor Legislation, and being pushed for enactment in every State by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. I would bespeak the active support of our Church people throughout the State of Oregon for this much-needed and humane legislation, to the end that men and women may have opportunity for rest and worship at least one day in seven.

Besides the Chaplain's ministry as an individual, his principal work has been the securing of an organization of men and women, which has now been active since the first of the year, as "The Episcopal Social Service League," exercising the ministry of the Church along four lines, as follows:

First: Social service ministry in the Good Samaritan Hospital, with the principal object of establishing a convalescent home.

Second: Same ministry, as need requires, in the city generally, with the chief purpose of establishing a reading room, or other agency, for getting in touch with the homeless and churchless population of Portland.

Third: To provide the services and other ministrations of the Church in the city and county public institutions and elsewhere as opportunity offers.

Fourth: To maintain a fellowship which will befriend and protect the stranger, especially of our own communion, until he or she has been transplanted and has taken root in the Church in Portland.

The services of the Church have been continued at the County Farm, on the fourth Sunday in each month, by the Chaplain and other members of the League from the Parishes of Trinity, All Saints', St. David's and St. Mark's, who provide magazines, papers, flowers and cheery greetings to brighten the lives of the inmates.

Services were conducted in the Municipal Court Room of the City Jail on the afternoons of the Lord's Day in April, the music being furnished by a quartette of young men.

Under the auspices of St. Andrew's Brotherhood, services have been maintained every Sunday night at the Men's Reading Room and during the two last weeks of Lent at the noon hour. A successful forum has been conducted each Saturday night, where speakers have presented to men at the Reading Room the Social Gospel and the constructive forces of modern society have been emphasized.

One of the most beneficent developments of the League has been the work originated and conducted by Mrs. Frank Purse, of the Board of Directors, whereby the workers get in touch with and minister to the women and girls in the city and county jails, an undertaking that should enlist the sympathetic support of all good women.

The work of the Church in the City Missions and the Diocesan Hospital is now well begun and only requires, with God's blessing, the hearty co-operation of all our Church people, as fellow workers in the Social Service League, to insure the continuance in well doing which has been initiated in the Hospital, the Men's Reading Room, the City and County Jails, in the homes and in the individual lives of those giving and receiving the ministry of the Church in the Name and Spirit of the Christ. The Social Service League affords a splendid opportunity for Portland Church people to show that the Church has not forgotten why it exists and to make good its claim to the titles "Christian and Catholic" by exhibiting a real and vital fellowship unto the least of our less fortunate brethren whom the Master bids us minister to in His Name.

FREDERIC K. HOWARD,
 Chaplain.

XVI.

REPORT OF THE CHAPLAIN OF THE GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL.

To the Twenty-Sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Herewith is submitted my report as Chaplain of the Hospital.

Services of the Church in the Bishop Morris Memorial Chapel as follows:

Every Lord's Day—Holy Communion 7 A. M., average attendance 10; evensong 7:20 P. M., average attendance 25.

Every Holy Day—Holy Communion 10 A. M., average attendance 15.

Every Wednesday—Holy Communion 10 A. M., average attendance 12.

Every Tuesday and Friday in Lent.

Nearly every week the Blessed Sacrament is carried to sick patients in wards and rooms.

As Chaplain of the Hospital and City Missions I have officiated at five baptisms and eleven burials.

I have endeavored each morning to see the patients entering the day previous, and afterwards to visit those desiring the ministration of the Chaplain. I have referred strangers and those unattached to any parish to their parish priests. Through the ministry of our social service visitors individuals have been aided and comforted in the Hospital and followed up after their departure whereby some have come to know the Church better, and love her ways and enter her courts.

The women of three parishes have clothed certain children and provided articles generally for children in the Children's Ward, and the women of Grace Memorial furnished bath robes for the men. Singers from different churches have sung in the wards each Sunday afternoon and the Christian Endeavor Societies rendered cheering carols on Christmas and Easter mornings.

FREDERIC K. HOWARD,
Chaplain.

XVII.

REPORT OF THE AUDITING COMMITTEE.

To the Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Your Auditing Committee begs leave to submit herewith:

1. (a) Report of receipts and disbursements of Good Samaritan Hospital. (b) Statement as to endowment and special funds. (c) List of constituent Securities.
2. Report of Trustees of Episcopal Fund.
3. Certificate of Alex C. Rae, certified public accountant as to the audit of these reports.

4. Report of Diocesan Treasurer on Bishop Morris Jubilee Fund, Convention Fund and Board of Church Extension, these reports having been audited personally by the Committee.
5. (a) Report of Board of School Trustees. (b) Report of receipts and disbursements of St. Helen's Hall, the last two mentioned being submitted without present audit, reports not having been received in time to afford a complete examination. The examination will be completed later and if desired, a special report will be made on this subject.

The Board of Hospital Trustees has concluded that Mr. Rae's charge of $250.00 as heretofore recommended by your Committee, is reasonable, and that they are willing to assume that expense.

We would recommend that the sum of $75 be authorized by the Convention to be expended as compensation for other work on the part of the accountant, to be apportioned at the discretion of the Auditing Committee and charged to the institutions examined.

We again call the attention of the Convention to the fact that the real estate held in the Episcopal Fund is carried at a nominal valuation of $2, although the Treasurer states that he has put an estimated value of the real estate at $63,600 in his report. We believe that this asset should be carried at some fair valuation as is the case with all other funds, and in order that the total assets may represent an approximation of the actual value of the constituents of the fund.

We realize that no adequate returns can at present be derived from some of the real estate, but we still believe that the figures should be increased to some reasonable proportion of the actual worth of the property.

Yours truly,

J. C. ROBINSON,
W. ALVORD.

Auditing Committee.

To the Auditing Committee of the Diocese of Oregon, Portland, Oregon:

I have examined the books of account of the Treasurer and the Superintendent of the Good Samaritan Hospital and the books of account of the Board of Trustees of Episcopal Fund for the year ending March 31, 1914, and have attached my certificate to the Treasurer's reports.

The Treasurer's reports of St. Helen's Hall, Board of School Trustees of St. Helen's Hall and Board of School Trustees were not submitted in time to make a complete audit of the same, but the cash receipts and disbursements have been verified and found to be in order.

ALEX C. RAE,
C. P. A.

Mr. J. F. Robinson, Chairman Auditing Committee, the Diocese of Oregon, Portland, Oregon.

Dear Sir: I have now completed the examination of the reports of the secretaries of the Board of School Trustees, Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall and of the Sister Superior of St. Helen's Hall, for the period ending April 30, 1914, and find the same to be correct and in accordance with the vouchers and securities produced.

Respectfully submitted by

ALEX C. RAE,
C. P. A.

REPORT OF THE MANAGER OF THE OREGON CHURCHMAN.

The present Manager assumed charge of the Subscription Department on September 1 last, and entire management on December 1.

At this time there was an indebtedness of $234.90. By hard work this amount has been reduced to $99.50 on May 1. To this must be added the cost of the May number, or $59.75. Total, $159.75.

From September 1, 1913, there has been collected and paid out $711.82.

The estimated cost per year for the publication of the Churchman is $780.

The present amount of advertising is $47.50 per month.

We are exceedingly grateful to our advertisers for their support, and it is this advertising that has made it possible to continue the publication, but advertising is becoming more difficult to secure on account of the fact that the number of subscriptions has fallen off from about 1200 to 950.

It is evident that the amount of advertising depends on the circulation. It might also be stated that our advertisers are not churchmen.

An earnest effort has been made to increase the circulation, and in only too many cases it has been found that the several rectors and vicars have shown very little interest in the appointment of some one to represent the publication in their fields.

The question seems to be simply this: either increase the number of subscribers so that more advertising can be secured, or arrange some plan by which the publication can be placed in the homes of every church family in the Diocese at a very small price. The alternate to these might be to increase the price of the publication, as is done in the Diocese on our north, and many others. When a comparison is made as between the Oregon Churchman and these $1 Diocesan publications, we must feel a sense of pride in our publication, as it is one of the best culled from among our exchanges.

Now the final question must be: is it worth while? and it must be conceded that the answer to this question depends on how many the publication reaches. If it is medium of communication as between the Bishop and the Boards of the Diocese and those whom they represent, then it follows that it should be in the home in the Diocese, and also should be read in them.

If in some manner not known to the present management the publication could find a reading by every communicant in the Diocese, then the matter would be simple; there would be (we feel confident) an increased interest in all matters connected with the work of the Church in the Diocese. Vision would be enlarged, and we might soon learn to look upon the work in the whole of the Diocese as being a part of the work of the several parishes and missions.

Respectfully,

H. D. CHAMBERS,
Manager.

XIX.REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

The committee to whom the above-named report was referred sincerely commend the Board both for the number of meetings held and the good average attendance.

We note with regret the death of the faithful missionary, the Rev. William Lucas, of Ashland; also the resignation of the Rev. F. O. Jones, and hope that the several vacancies mentioned will soon be filled, and the number of missionaries in active work may be largely increased in the near future. Only thus will the Board be true to its name: "Church Extension."

To this end an increase of available funds is necessary, but even more than this, it is necessary that all, both the large parishes and the small missions, should pay promptly the assessments laid upon them for both general and diocesan church extension.

The increased amount paid by some of the missions towards stipends is worthy of note, and should encourage others to do the same.

Reference is made in the report to the financial depression, but it is the meeting of financial responsibilities under such conditions that best shows the real spirit of the people and prepares them for increased work and offerings when the circumstances are more favorable, and a corresponding spiritual increase. We grow strong and able to do only as we fulfill duties under trying or difficult conditions.

Respectfully submitted,

E. H. CLARK,
W. A. M. BRECK,
O. W. TAYLOR,
F. J. GLASS,
J. W. GANONG,
JOHN GREENWOOD,
Committee.

XX.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIAN EDUCATION.

Your committee respectfully reports that its work has been chiefly gathering statistics for the General Board of Religious Education, concerning the Diocese of Oregon. Under its auspices, the Reverend Doctor Lester Bradner visited Portland and gave an instruction on the Correspondence Course for Teachers and Clergy. It is regrettable that more did not have the advantage of hearing this inspiring address, but it leads your committee to recommend strongly, first: that every clergyman should avail himself of the privilege of these courses, and in turn giving the benefit of them to his superintendent and teachers. The cost for each course is very trivial.

Your committee also feels that it would be well for some ambitious Portland parish to have its rector take these courses and in turn, by public lectures, impart them to superintendents and teachers generally.

Your committee also urges the urgent appeal of the General Board for financial support. The apportionment of this Diocese for the Board of Religious Education is $86.

A third recommendation is that some competent and willing person open a correspondence school of Christian instruction to the outlying missionary districts of the church, where there is no settled pastor.

C. W. ROBINSON,
Chairman.

XXI.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE TREASURER OF THE CHRISTMAS FUND.

We, your committee on the report of the treasurer of the Christmas Fund, beg leave to report that it is with pleasure we notice an increase in the offerings for the past year of about $100.

While the increase is highly gratifying, your committee feels that it is unworthy of the Diocese of Oregon to make an offering of only $440.99 for such a worthy cause. If the recommendations of the committee for last year had been acted upon and a circular sent out to all parishes and missions, not only to the clergy, but to the clerks of vestries. the probabilities are that there would not now be eleven parishes and missions not contributing to this fund.

Your committee insists that the Convention officially take notice of this fund by appointing, or authorizing the chair to appoint, each year, an agent who shall urge the worthiness of this fund upon all concerned. It is a great concern to us that the report from the G. C. R. shows that they have paid to beneficiaries in this Diocese, of which there are five, the sum of $1,030, and that we have returned to the general fund only $1,011.32, thus leaving a deficit against us of $18.68. Of this $1,011.32, less than half was actually contributed, $570.33 representing interest on funds transferred from this Diocese.

We feel that some interest should be manifested in the new Monell Sayre plan for clergy pensions and insurance, and that some method be arranged for informing our people generally in regard to it.

JOHN DAWSON,
ROBERT T. GILL,
JOHN DUTHIE.

XXII.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION.

To the Convention:

The committee on the report of the Social Service Commission begs leave to report that we heartily endorse the report of the Commission and commend the introduction of ethical teaching in the Stephen's school. It would be well if this teaching could be extended to other schools. We commend the idea of social service missions in the various parishes.

We note that the Commission made no allusion to the reading room for men, lately established by the Social Service League, or to the proposed convalescent home. Both these undertakings should have the hearty sympathy and support of all churchmen. We would urgently recommend that definite religious influence be steadily maintained in both the reading room and the convalescent home when the latter is established.

JOHN E. H. SIMPSON,
FRANCIS CAPELL,
ROBERT E. BROWNING.

XXIII.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

Your committee urgently requests the careful reading of the Bishop's Godly and pious address, as it is found in the daily papers. We would wish, indeed, that it might be printed separately and distributed to the communicants of the Diocese by the rectors and vicars of all the parishes and missions. But the lack of funds forbids this. Particularly do we wish to emphasize the high Christian ideal and divine standard upheld. We believe the address touches the causes of many failures. With this ideal carried out we would have no report of no one ordained in the Diocese. On the other hand we note that we have an admirable social service committee which is doing so much for the souls and bodies of men.

It is gratifying to note the erection of a new church at Marshfield, and we heartily second the Bishop's appeal for the increase of the Bishop Morris Jubilee Fund for the extension of the church's work in our Diocese.

C. W. ROBINSON,
J. F. HAMAKER.

XXIV.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE EPISCOPAL FUND.

The committee on the report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund finds that so far as the report shows the year has been closed without a deficit, which is a matter of much import, as the failure of the lease on old Bishcroft property caused the income of this fund to be decreased.

We would congratulate the Trustees upon this fact.

We would respectfully recommend that the Trustees of this fund make the principal of the fund appear in its annual reports to the full value of all property held by the Board. We would further call the attention of the Convention to the item carried from year to year as an indebtedness to the "Disabled Clergy Fund."

It seems that no interest has been paid on this loan. This item should either be cancelled or some effort made to pay either the interest or principal. Respectfully,

H. D. CHAMBERS,
CHAS. B. PFAHLER.

XXV.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE TREASURER OF THE DIOCESE.

To the Twenty-sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Your committee has reviewed the report of the Treasurer of the Diocese, as audited by the Auditing Committee. Attention is called to the fact that fifteen parishes and missions of the thirty in the Diocese are delinquent in the payment of their apportionments to the amount of $995, of the total of $3,600, approximately 25 per cent of the amount to be raised. The receipts have been $1,162 less than the previous year. Respectfully submitted,

HENRY RUSSELL TALBOT,
A. W. GRIFFIN,
A. S. AUTERSON,
S. D. ADAIR.

XXVI.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF ST. HELEN'S HALL.

To the Twenty-sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Your committee to which was referred the annual report of the Secretary of the Board of Trustees of St. Helen's Hall desires to express their appreciation of the good work of St. Helen's Hall, even under the adverse financial conditions which have resulted in a light falling off in attendance during the past year, and the necessity for borrowing money for current expenses.

That church schools respond so quickly to the fall of the financial temperature reflects very seriously upon the lack of a sense of responsibility in many Christian parents for the right education of their children, and a real understanding of the important and rightful function of the Church as the educator of its children, to the edifying of the three parts of our human natures, body, mind and spirit in due proportion. Instead of being the first institution to feel money stringency, church schools should be the last, and all other possible sacrifices should be made by parents before they come to the point of confessing inability to afford this expenditure.

We desire to commend the Alumnae of the school for their laudable effort materially to increase the endowment, and trust that all old girls, realizing more and more how good it was for them to be at St. Helen's, will enter into the plan with earnestness which shall assure success. To borrow money for the purpose of paying current expenses may be bad business, but it is certainly a sign of firm belief on the part of the Trustees and the Sisters in the school, and, as our Bishop has well said: "It is possible to have too much business and too little faith in God's work," we rejoice in the prospects of improved conditions for the coming year.

Your committee regrets that the Treasurer's report reached the Auditing Committee too late to be audited, and calls attention to an apparent error in the footing of the column of disbursements.

Respectfully submitted,

A. W. GRIFFIN,
H. M. RAMSEY,
A. S. AUTERSON.

XXVII.REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE BISHOP SCOTT SCHOOL.

To the Twenty-sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

Your committee begs leave to report that in September last the Board formally opened the school at Yamhill. Plans having been prepared and contracts let for the erection of a new building, which will be ready September of this year, at a cost of $19,900.

Receipts for the past year, $44,073.44; disbursements, $9,527.85, leaving a balance on hand of $16,465.51. Surplus of assets over liabilities, $180,731.00.

The Board has secured the services of the Rev. Arthur H. Marsh, of Washington, D. C., as head master.

The Board requests and bespeaks for the old school under the new name the enthusiastic support of Oregonians of the Convention and of the Diocese.

For the Committee,

C. H. H. BLOOR.

XXVIII.REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF HOSPITAL TRUSTEES.

To the Twenty-sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Oregon:

As acting chairman of the Committee on Reports of the Board of Hospital Trustees, beg leave to advise that your committee has carefully considered the said reports and recommends to this Convention its adoption. We have not seen the Treasurer's statement referred to in the report.

We take the liberty of attaching hereto papers of much interest received from Miss Loveridge, the Superintendent, and would ask that these be read to the Convention. We call particular attention to the fact that in the division of those of religious faith that forty-five are classified as "Christian Scientists." Respectfully submitted,

J. O. VINCE,
GRAHAM GLASS,
F. G. FRINK.

IV—If the prescribed order of business on any day should not have been gone through with, the first business on the succeeding day, after Morning Prayer, shall be the matters which had not been reached and finished on the preceding day, and in order for that day prescribed; this rule shall not apply to miscellaneous business.

(29) Before the rising of the Convention, the minutes of the last day's proceedings shall be read and approved.

(30) This order of business may be temporarily suspended at any time, by two-thirds vote of the members present; provided, that the elections provided for by paragraph 21 shall not take place before the second day, unless by unanimous consent.

XXXII

RULES OF ORDER.

The rules of order of the Convention shall be as follows:

(1) In any case not herein provided for, Roberts' Rules of Order shall be the authority.

(2) No motion shall be considered as before the Convention unless seconded, and, when required, reduced to writing.

(3) When a question is before the Convention, no motion, except as hereinafter provided, shall be received, but to lay it on the table, to postpone it indefinitely, to postpone to a certain time, to commit it or to amend it; which motions shall have precedence in the order named. But a motion to strike out the word "Resolved" shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be equivalent to a rejection of the resolution.

(4) All amendments shall be considered in the order in which they are received. When a proposed amendment is under consideration, a motion to amend the same may be made; no amendment to such amendment shall be in order.

(5) A motion to lay on the table shall be decided without debate.

(6) A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, when no member is speaking, and shall be decided without debate. A motion to fix the hour or day to which the Convention shall adjourn shall take precedence of a motion to adjourn, and shall be decided without debate, if a motion to adjourn is pending.

(7) The mover may withdraw a motion or resolution at any time before decision or amendment, in which case it shall not be entered upon the minutes.

(8) If a question under debate contain several distinct propositions, the same shall be divided, at the request of any member, and a vote taken separately.

(9) No member may speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the Convention, nor more than once in any case until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

(10) Every member present shall vote whenever a question is put, unless excused by the Convention on account of his being personally interested in the result, or for other cause.

(11) The votes shall be taken by yeas and nays, and by orders, whenever called for by five members.

(12) In taking the vote by orders, it shall be the right of any member of a delegation, who may dissent from the vote of the majority of the delegation, to have the fact of his dissent recorded on the minutes.

(13) A question being decided, shall not be reconsidered during the same session, without the consent of two-thirds of the members present, nor without the motion for the purpose being made by one of the majority on the first decision. No question shall be reconsidered more than once.

(14) All special committees shall be appointed by the President unless otherwise ordered.

(15) The reports of all committees shall be in writing, and shall be received, of course, without motion for acceptance. They shall be entered on the minutes, unless otherwise ordered. If recommending or requiring any action or expression of opinion by the Convention, they shall be accompanied by a resolution or resolutions for its consideration.

(16) When a member is called to order by the President or another member, he shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain. All questions of order shall be determined in the first instance by the President; but any member may appeal from any decision of the chair; and on such appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the Convention.

(17) All questions relating to priority of business shall be decided without debate.

(18) These rules of order shall not be departed from, unless temporarily suspended by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

(19) The majority of a quorum shall always be required to elect any officer.

HINTS TO PAROCHIAL OFFICERS.

Impress upon the women of your parish that they are, by virtue of their baptism, members of the Woman's Auxiliary. Urge them to recognize this claim by working along the appointed lines and giving such dues as your parish branch may settle upon.

Every branch is expected to give to the Apportionment Fund and the United Offering and to do its share of any work planned by Diocesan Officers.

Take The Oregon Churchman and read to your branch the Auxiliary page, which is the official organ of the Auxiliary. Keep ready for reference the last report of your diocesan branch, Miss Emery's last report and the "Spirit of Missions."

When you begin a box advise the recipient and diocesan Secretary. When it is shipped advise again, giving date and mode of shipment. Prepay all expenses.

Report changes of address, and any changes in your list of officers to the Secretary.

MINUTES ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at Grace Memorial Church, Tuesday, May 19, at 10:30.

That stirring missionary hymn, "Oh Zion, Haste," was sung with fervor, and a splendid missionary sermon was preached by Rev. R. S. Gill of St. Paul's, Salem.

Rev. Mr. Van Waters was the celebrant at communion, with Bishop Scadding and Rev. Mr. Taylor and Rev. Mr. Gill assisting.

After this service Mrs. Scadding called the meeting to order, organized and announced the following committees:

Nominating Committee—Mrs. Muckle, Mrs. Barker, Miss Sherlock.

Committee on General Meetings—Mrs. Downard, Mrs. Fanning, Mrs. Auterson.

Committee on Reference—Mrs. Ramsdell, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Johnson.

Adjourned for lunch. About 240 delegates, visitors and clergy enjoyed a delicious lunch and exchanged friendly greetings, many of which had been suspended since the last annual meeting.

At 1:45 the meeting was called to order and hymn 505 was sung, Mrs. Van Dusen acting as organist. Prayer was offered by Bishop Scadding. Our honorary president, Mrs. A. R. Hill, was unable to be present and sent loving greetings. Mrs. Scadding gave a short comparative talk on the meeting held at Grace Memorial four years ago.

Reports of the corresponding and recording secretaries read and approved. The educational secretary reported on work done during the year and read a letter from Miss Winifred Watson of Trinity, Ashland, relating to a study class on China she has been conducting there.

The treasurer's report was read and accepted with exception of money to finish apportionment from St. David's, which did not pass through the treasurer's hands and credit could not be given this parish, but their pledges have been paid in full.

United offering treasurer reported $1,000 sent to the triennial and the balance on hand and collections for eight months totaled $222.16 on hand to date. Branch secretaries' reports were most interesting and some show increase, though the totals fall short of last year. Junior reports were excellent and will be found elsewhere. Little Helpers' report shows growing interest and 195 members. Alaska box report gave Woman's Auxiliary value $364.55 and Juniors $65.15; total, $429.70.

The report of the nominating committee was as follows:

Honorary president, Mrs. A. R. Hill; active president, Mrs. Charles Scadding; vice-president, Mrs. Thos. Scott Brooke; second vice-president, Mrs. Brenham Van Dusen; third vice-president, Miss Frances Panter; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. C. Weber; recording secretary, Mrs. A. M. Oakes; educational secretary, Mrs. H. R. Talbot; treasurer, Mrs. W. C. Hallam; treasurer United Offering, Mrs. W. J. Burns.

It was with much regret the resignation of Mrs. Bliss, our efficient and accurate treasurer for so many years, was accepted. Mrs. Bliss will spend the coming year in the East and the good wishes of every member of the auxiliary will accompany her.

Regarding the small gain in the financial report as not being specially discouraging, Bishop Scadding then spoke of assets other than financial and that prayer, work, loyalty to the Bishop, and unification and harmony in the Diocese, together with the filling of all the pulpits in the long silent churches shows a spiritual growth that cannot be measured by figures or shown in statistics.

General meetings will be held: October, St. Matthew's; January, Trinity; March, Church of Our Saviour, Woodstock. Discussion on day resulted in fixing the second Friday of months mentioned for these meetings.

A letter from Miss Emery was read setting forth the aim for the Woman's Auxiliary the coming year. Pledges were renewed with but few increases.

The report of the committee on delegates to the eighth provincial meeting at Seattle in September was as follows: Mesdames Scadding, Cunningham, Blakeley, Simpson, Kirkpatrick, Breck, Schultz, Muckle, from the Woman's Auxiliary, and Miss Turner and Miss Panter, delegates from the Juniors.

Archdeacon Chambers read a none too encouraging report on the financial condition of The Oregon Churchman. After considerable discussion on the subject, Mrs. Stowe moved that each branch make a strenuous effort to pay their pledges by the first of the year. An amendment to this motion asked that the secretary be instructed to write all the branches of the pressing need of prompt payment. Carried.

Mrs. Scadding reported on the birthday reception. Mrs. Eshelman announced an exhibition of the work of the girls of St. Elizabeth's House and asks for the interest and support of the churchwomen in this important work.

Discussion on the disposition of the surplus in the contingent fund resulted in equal division of $50 between the Diocese and Board of Missions. The motion to add $1.50 to the gift of $3.50 given to St. Mary's, Shanghai, to make it $5, was carried.

St. Stephen's extended an invitation for the annual meeting in 1915, and it was accepted.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered the women of Grace Memorial for their gracious hospitality.

The offering at the morning service was $26.80; afternoon, $26.65; total, $53.45.

Roll call: Astoria 7, Corvallis 1, Hillsboro 2, St. Helen's 2, Salem 3, Roseburg 1, Portland—All Saints 8, Grace Memorial 20, St. Andrew's, Portsmouth, 1, St. David's 35, St. John's, Sellwood, 3, St. Mark's 25, St. Matthew's 7, St. Michael and All Angel's 3, St. Stephen's 21, Trinity 11, Woodstock 6, Woodmere 5; total, 161.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. J. BURNS,
Treasurer.

THE JUNIOR AUXILIARY.

The third Junior Day was held at St. Mark's on May 16, 1914. The day began with the communion service at 11, at which the Rev. J. E. H. Simpson was celebrant and the Rt. Rev. Charles Scadding, Bishop of the Diocese, was the preacher. His text was taken from St. John, twelfth chapter, third verse, "And the house was filled with the odor of the ointment." The sermon was a most helpful one and will be long remembered by his heedful listeners. After the service luncheon was served by the ladies of the parish to one hundred juniors, clergy and visitors. Earlier in the day a wire of greeting had been sent by the Oregon Juniors to the Juniors of Olympia, who were holding their annual meeting on the same day at St. Mark's, Seattle, and during the luncheon a message was received from them. At the close of luncheon Miss Panter returned thanks for hospitality extended to the Juniors by St. Mark's parish.

The afternoon was given over to business. The meeting was called to order by the Bishop, with the president presiding. Owing to the pressure of business pertaining to the coming Convention the Bishop was unable to remain for the entire session, and we gladly altered the usual routine of business in order that he might award the prizes and appoint the officers for the coming year. The Bishop's prize of $5 for the best branch map of China, was given to the All Saints' Juniors, and for the best individual map a book was given to Miss Vivienne Watson of St. Stephen's. The officers for the coming year were named as follows: Miss Panter, president; Mrs. Cunningham, first vice-president; Mrs. Cran, second vice-president; Miss Clarissa Turner, secretary and United Offering treasurer; Mrs. Stillman, treasurer. The Bishop then announced a prize of $5 to be given for the best leaflet on the work, past and present, in Oregon, to be prepared by the Juniors and to contain not less than five or more than ten pages; the prize to be given at the next Annual Day. The old officers took their places until the work of the year was finished. The roll was called and the several branches responded as follows: All Saints, 7; St. David's, 14; St. Mark's, 16; St. Stephen's, 18; Trinity, 8; Oregon City, 7. With the addition of the Junior Diocesan officers, the president and the secretary of the W. A. and two visitors, the total was 71.

The treasurer's report was read and approved. Reports were read by the branch secretaries. The secretary reported the morning collection to be $8.89. A bill of $1.32 for postage was ordered paid, leaving a balance of $7.57. It was moved and carried that $5 be sent to Bishop Spalding. It was moved and carried that the balance, $2.57, be given to the United Offering. The treasurer of the United Offering reported $11.53 in the treasury; with the addition of $2.57 the total was $14.10.

Mrs. Cran reported 185 Little Helpers and eleven branches. A letter from Miss Clark, of Hankow, was listened to with much interest, the girl whom the Juniors are educating is Moo Chin Hua, of Hauchnan.

The minutes of last Junior Day were read and approved and the secretary read a letter of greeting from Miss Lindley and a note of thanks to the officers and leaders from Miss Balch, who was unable to be present.

Mrs. Scadding spoke to the Juniors of the arrangements being made for the sixtieth anniversary of the Diocese; the Juniors were asked to serve punch at the reception to be given on June 5 at St. David's.

This finished the business of the previous year, and the new officers took their places.

The president addressed the Juniors, urging them to lay aside the conservatism of former years and to make their pledges as large as possible. The secretary called the roll and the branches pledged as follows:

Name of Branch	Diocesan	General	Scholarship
St. David's.....	$25.00	$15.00	$5.00
St. Mark's.....	3.00
St. Stephen's.....	30.00	20.00	5.00
Trinity	20.00	15.00	5.00
St. Paul's, Oregon City.....	10.00	5.00	5.00
Salem	3.00	2.00	2.00

All Saints' made no pledge, as the leader for the coming year is not secured. St. Marks' pledged only for the scholarship and Salem made a pledge conditionally, as the branch is not yet organized. The afternoon collection, which amounted to $4.89, was voted to the United Offering, and with $2 from All Saints', which was handed to the treasurer at a later date, made the amount in the treasury $20.99.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARISSA TURNER, Secretary.
